The Rising Stars

By Jay Rupinski

Since South Lake High School has been in existence, its walls have seen the admission and graduation of many students. With these students came dreams--dreams of the future.

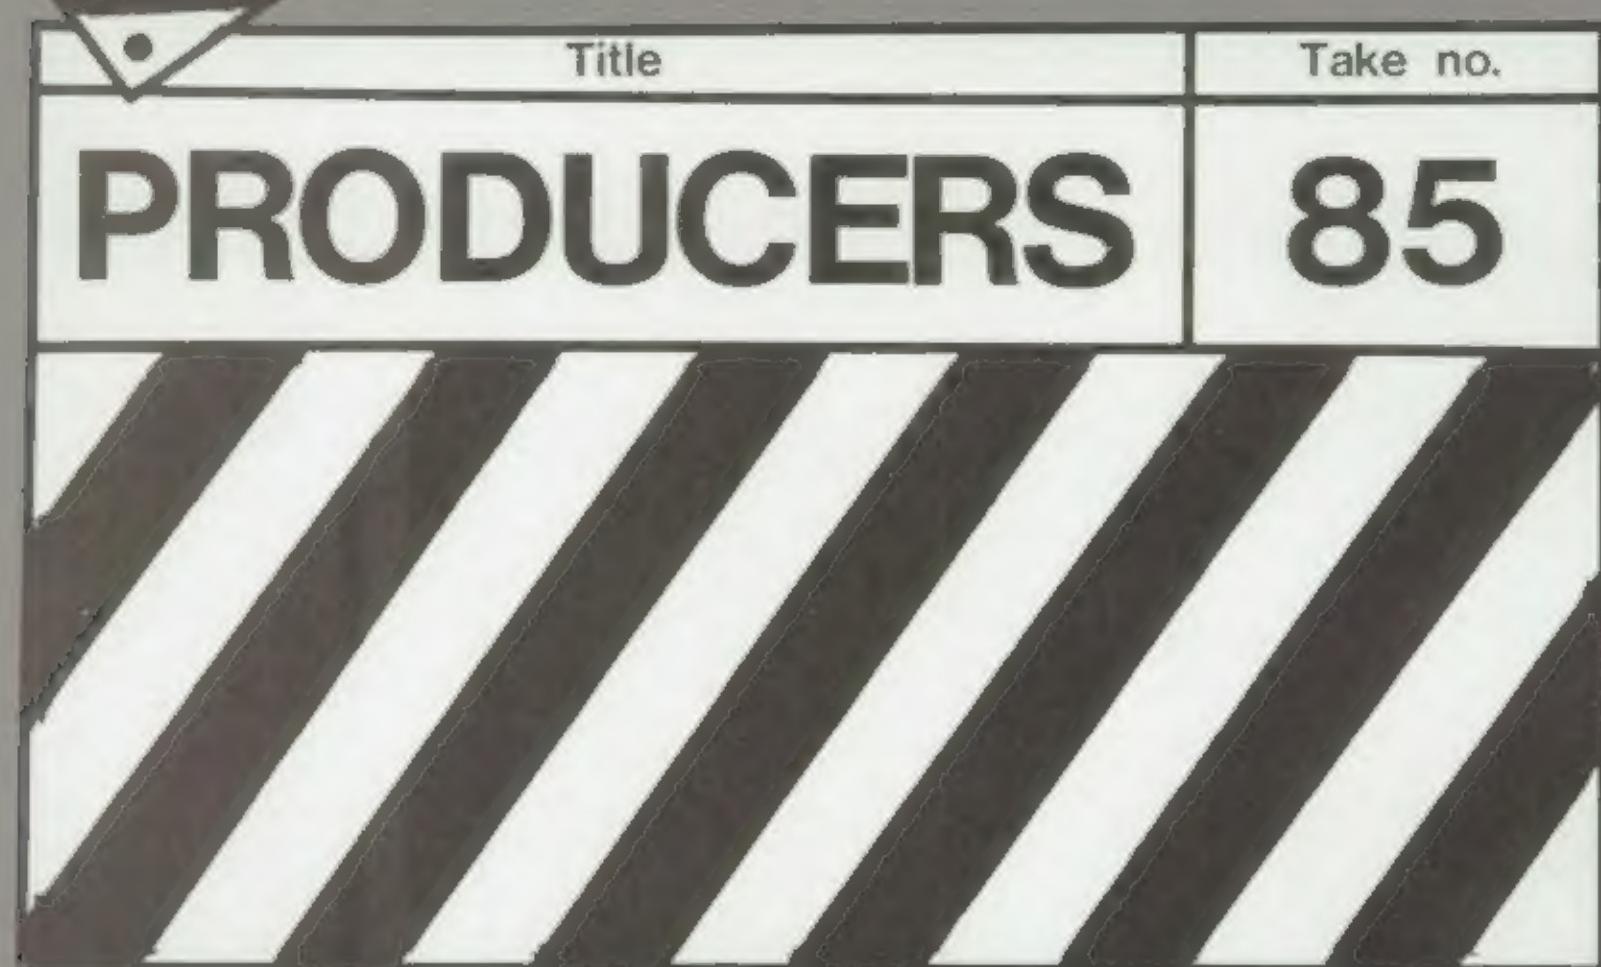

Everyone has a dream of stardom and for the students of South Lake the strive for those dreams are just a little bit easier.

South Lake has helped to make dreams become reality. It offers a variety of classes and extra curricular activities which help the students fulfill their dreams and perform to their full potential, making all students proud of themselves.

Between the covers of this 1985 yearbook are the students who make the dreams; their memories frozen in photos and remembered eternally in words.

South Lake shines with the pride of its students whose voices filter throughout the halls and in the classroom where the dreams are made brighter. When the voices leave the classrooms and the lights dim through the barren halls, the dreams are put on hold until the next day.

One's dreams can only become reality if one wants them to. Where better to make these dreams but in high school where friends are made and careers are selected. High school is a time to be remembered and the 1985 Cavalier remembers it well; remembers the dreams and their makers. For the youth of South Lake today are truly the stars of tomorrow.

The Producers are the men and women who put the spotlight on education--the teachers. They produce and direct every act to brighten our minds and fulfill our dreams of success. They rehearse those dreams with us and prepare us for life's centerstage.

Varied Responsibilities at The Top ★ ★ ★

By Dan Heaton

At the front of every organization there must be one who leads and is in charge. For South Lake High School that person is Constance Matthai, Principal.

Mrs. Matthai is in charge of the day to day operation of the high school. Mrs. Matthai, along with her two assistant principals Dr. David Myers and Mr. Peter Viviano, have the responsibility for keeping the school sailing smoothly along.

Mrs. Matthai's responsibilities branch out to include nearly everything that goes on within the building and on the grounds day or night.

Mr. Viviano and Dr. Myers help to assume some of the responsibilities and also deal with any student discipline problems.

Overseeing and evaluating teachers planning an annual budget, dealing with other school administrators, overseeing all student activities, including clubs and athletics are just the tip of the iceberg for the three administrators.

Add to these duties those of Vocational Director Carl Zenisek, who oversees all vocational classes at South Lake and Harper Woods High School, and the maintenance of the building and grounds and it becomes clear just how busy South Lake's administrators are.

Yet even Mrs. Matthai must report on to higher authority.

Dr. Joseph White is the Superintendent of South Lake Schools. He holds the position of chief executive of the school system and as such is, according to his own admission "more like a business manager than an educator." Dr. White has the ultimate authority to institute the policy which is determined by the South Lake Board of Education.

The Board of Education is an elected body which meets at least once a month to discuss school business.

J. Richard Ogden is President of the school board. Other board members include Richard Corona, Dale Cunningham, Dolores Rohrkemper, Robert Koepsel, Mary Holwey, and John Curtin.

Teachers Have Varied Interests

By Michelle Yovanovich

Students often wonder, 'What do teachers do outside of school?' Well, here are the answers to everyone's questions and to start off these 'School Superstars' is science teacher Mr. William Putney.

Getting up at 5:15 and milking the cows is just a part of Mr. Putney's unordinary day. He lives on a farm and owns horses, Australian Shepard show dogs, chickens and cows. When asked what some of his hobbies were he first stated, 'my job'. Along with his favorite hobby, he enjoys skiing and working on his farm with all the animals. He is also involved with the St. Clair County Sheriff Department.

Science teacher, William Putney, lectures to his fourth hour physics class.

As many people already know, Mr. Putney's favorite sport is hockey and said that his favorite team is probably the Buffalo Sabres. Mr. Putney also stated that students are what he likes most about teaching. He added, 'It's stressful though, because I feel it's my job to motivate the students. At any rate, I still enjoy my job very much.'

Our next 'Superstar' is Spanish teacher Miss Susan Howell. Her life is far from boring. Traveling to the countries of Mexico, Spain, Austria, Germany, Africa, the United States, and many others, is just one of the numerous activities she involves herself in. She Ihrie also enjoys going to social events at her church, and is a member of the choir.

Her son takes up much of her time and keeps her involved in many different activities. When asked about her job teaching at South Lake she said, 'I enjoy it very much; it's challenging.' Mrs. Ihrie tends to agree with Mrs. Reuther in that she likes the students the most and paper work least.

While time allows us only to feature these few teachers, every employee at South Lake High is a 'Superstar'. Each and everyone of them add their special touch making South Lake High the super school that it is.

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

Shown above are some of the commonly used tools of the South Lake High School teachers. The grade book, used for keeping track of each student's grade throughout the quarter; the planner, used to organize the teacher's teaching plans for the week; and the attendance book, used for recording student attendance.

Retirements

Standing Ovations for Staff Members

By Dan Hartway

James Spilos, Lois McMahon and Marion Zech are retiring in June with a combination of 68 years with South Lake

I enjoyed teaching at the high school in the past 30 years, teaching was fun and rewarding' expressed Mr. Spilos in an interview. Spilos has no definite plans after retirement and just plans to relax and enjoy life. 'People in this neighborhood are supportive of education, and that reflects in the fine students enrolled at South Lake.'

Mrs. McMahon said 'The problem with retirement is to decide what of many things to do.' However she plans to repeat a camping trip she made in 1946 around the coast of the United States. After that, she wants to continue working at her private practice, part-time. Working in the district for 22 years, she says, 'I've always enjoyed the diversity of South Lake Students. 'Everyone has their own personality. However, we have one thing in common with everyone, a need for love.'

'The counseling office is a good place to work because you have contact with the students and the faculty, and you're always busy,' Secretary Mrs. Zech stated, after working at the high school for 16 years. Marion Zech plans to spend more time outdoors with her husband. She also plans to see her grandchildren more often

Spotlighting the Clause

By Dan Heaton

What is a subordinate clause?

No, it's not one of Santa's helpers, it is something that four years of English classes taught you, but if you're like most everyone else, you still don't know what one is.

Don't despair however, you still have a chance to learn about a subordinate clause. A quick stroll down nine mile hall will undoubtedly help you find an English teacher who can help you. Or if you would rather do things the hard way, there are a couple of English teachers tucked away in the 200's hall that can help you out and are well versed in grammar as well as literature.

Other than basic English classes S.L. also offers Creative Expression acting and journalism to the interested student.

Math Dept.

Flashback

By Joy Rupnick:

If you're a normal high school student you can relate to this situation. It's the first day of school. You walk into your math class and seat yourself in the back of the room. The teacher flashes his 'boy-do-I-give-homework' smile and passes out the textbooks. You nervously grasp the book in your hands and flip through the last ten pages of the text hoping that the answers to the math homework will be there. If they are, you give a sigh of relief. If not, you scan the room for the class genius and hope that there's an empty seat next to him. If so, you grab it. If not, you pray for yourself hoping you'll make it through the year.

I'm sure you remember this well. You also remember that you did make it through that year and all the years of math that followed. Admit it--you even enjoyed some of those classes didn't you?

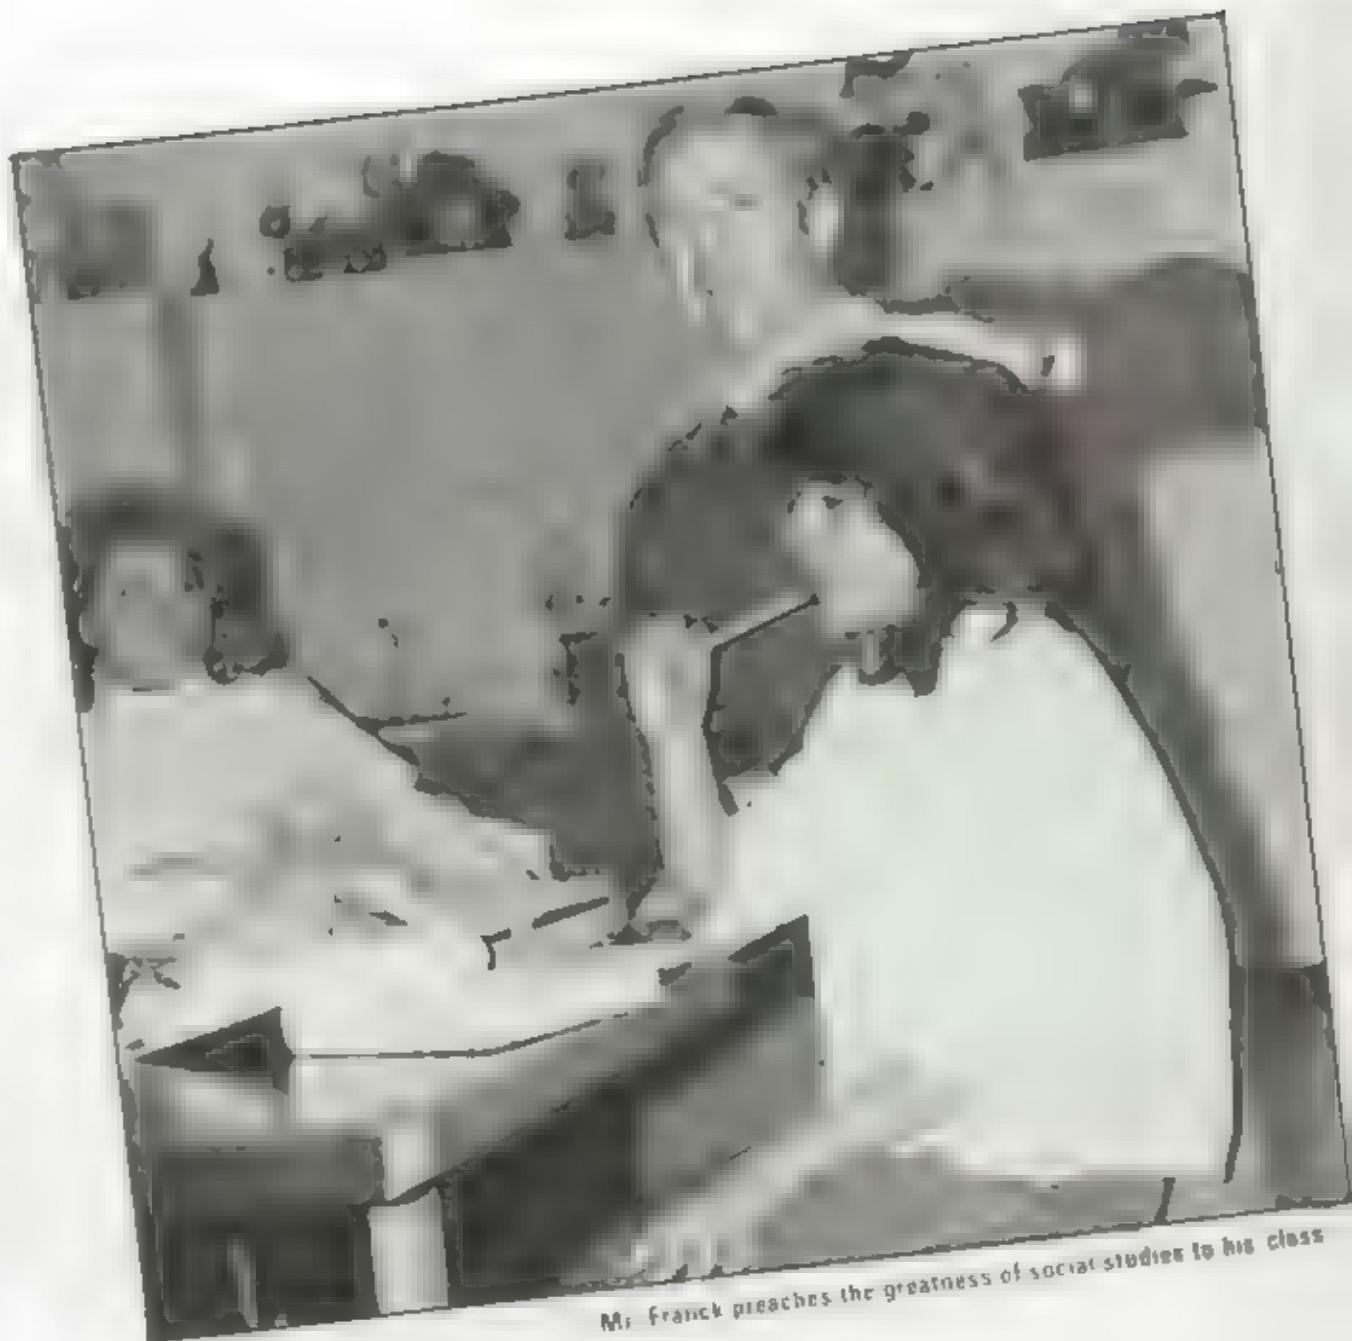

Social Studies Dept. Shines

By Dan Heaton

Whether it's a field trip to the Sonya show in Mr. Schakel's psychology class or Mr. Allison's one liners, the Social Studies department offers a full variety of activities and education for students.

The Social Studies department, consisting of Mr. James Spilos, Mr. James Case, Mr. Richard Schakel, Mr. Max Fralick and Department chairperson Mr. Donald Allison, conduct their classes upstairs in rooms 200-204. Classes range from World and U.S. History to Economics to Man and the Arts, a class taught by Mr. Case, which teaches appreciation of classical art and music.

A big part of the Social Studies classes this year was the presidential election. Students in history classes had the chance to vote for presidential candidates as well as for candidates in other offices.

Mr. Fralick preaches the greatness of social studies to his class.

Danielle Rubes, Kathy Gers and John Sargent show their enthusiasm for social studies.

Diary of a Star

By Dan Heaton

Dear Diary,

Guess what? Today Mrs. Keinle told me that I was being picked as the Science Star for my Chemistry II class. This is really cool.

The Science Star of each science class is picked by the teacher and it is a pretty nice honor. Kids from all science classes, like physics, biology, Anatomy and Physiology and all those other classes, get their pictures put into the showcase.

I guess the Science Stars idea was started last year and is kind of like a reward for being the best student in your class. I'm not sure which of the science teachers thought of it, but I'm pretty proud to be the Science Star in my class.

Well, I'll write more later. Right now I have to get ready for my date with Dan.

Variety of Vocational Skills Offered

By Dan Houston

Vocational Director Carl Zenisek and the staff of vocational teachers William Ikeda, Larry Lobert, Dale Stanley, Max Fralick, Constance Loman, and Thomas Cherry have been seeing a decline in enrollment in the past few years that is severely hurting the Vocational Department. One teacher, Bill Satterly, was laid off in 1984, most classes weren't to capacity.

The auto shop, long a point of pride and satisfaction for South Lake, lost Mr. Satterly as an instructor and moved completely into the shop as compared to last year when the auto shop had an additional classroom for instructional purposes.

Auto students continue to get hands-on experience by working on cars which are brought in for repairs by teachers, friends, and area residents.

Tim Treppa, who is president of the auto club and a second year student, leads the club that is responsible for the large number of trophies the school has in drag racing.

The Chevota, the school dragster is kept in good condition and running smoothly for the races by the students in their spare time.

Mr. Ikeda is the instructor for the three two hour auto shop blocks.

Print Shop is a busy and sometimes hectic place according to Mr. Lobert.

The print shop is the home of the South Lake newspaper, the Lancer, and the yearbook as well as most of the school's literature, passes, envelopes, flyers and educational materials.

Print shop is a two hour block in the morning and with all the printing jobs that come into the shop the students are kept rather busy.

Also in the print shop is the Publications Productions class which is similar to the print shop class but deals with layout and typesetting.

Woodshop is the domain of Mr. Stanley and is a perennial student favorite. The enrollment for woodshop has remained constant with the number of students in the school according to Mr. Stanley.

Students in woodshop make various projects throughout the year that can be useful in the home. Items such as napkin holders and book ends are required of first year students and advanced students go on to bigger and better items. Small tables and the like are not uncommon things on the worktables of advanced students. Woodshop, unlike the print and auto shops is a one hour class.

Mechanical drawing is tucked away upstairs in the vocational wing, which is located just above the attendance office.

The class introduces students to basic drafting by teaching them to draw basic objects and how to use the equipment of a draftsman.

Drafting is another area where enrollment has severely declined in the past few years which has curtailed the offering of advanced drafting classes.

However, due to an exchange program with Harper Woods High School, South Lake students have the opportunity to take advanced drafting classes during the regular school day. Thomas Cherry is the teacher for the drafting classes.

Another benefit of this exchange program is the opportunity for South Lake students to take food service classes during the school day at Harper Woods.

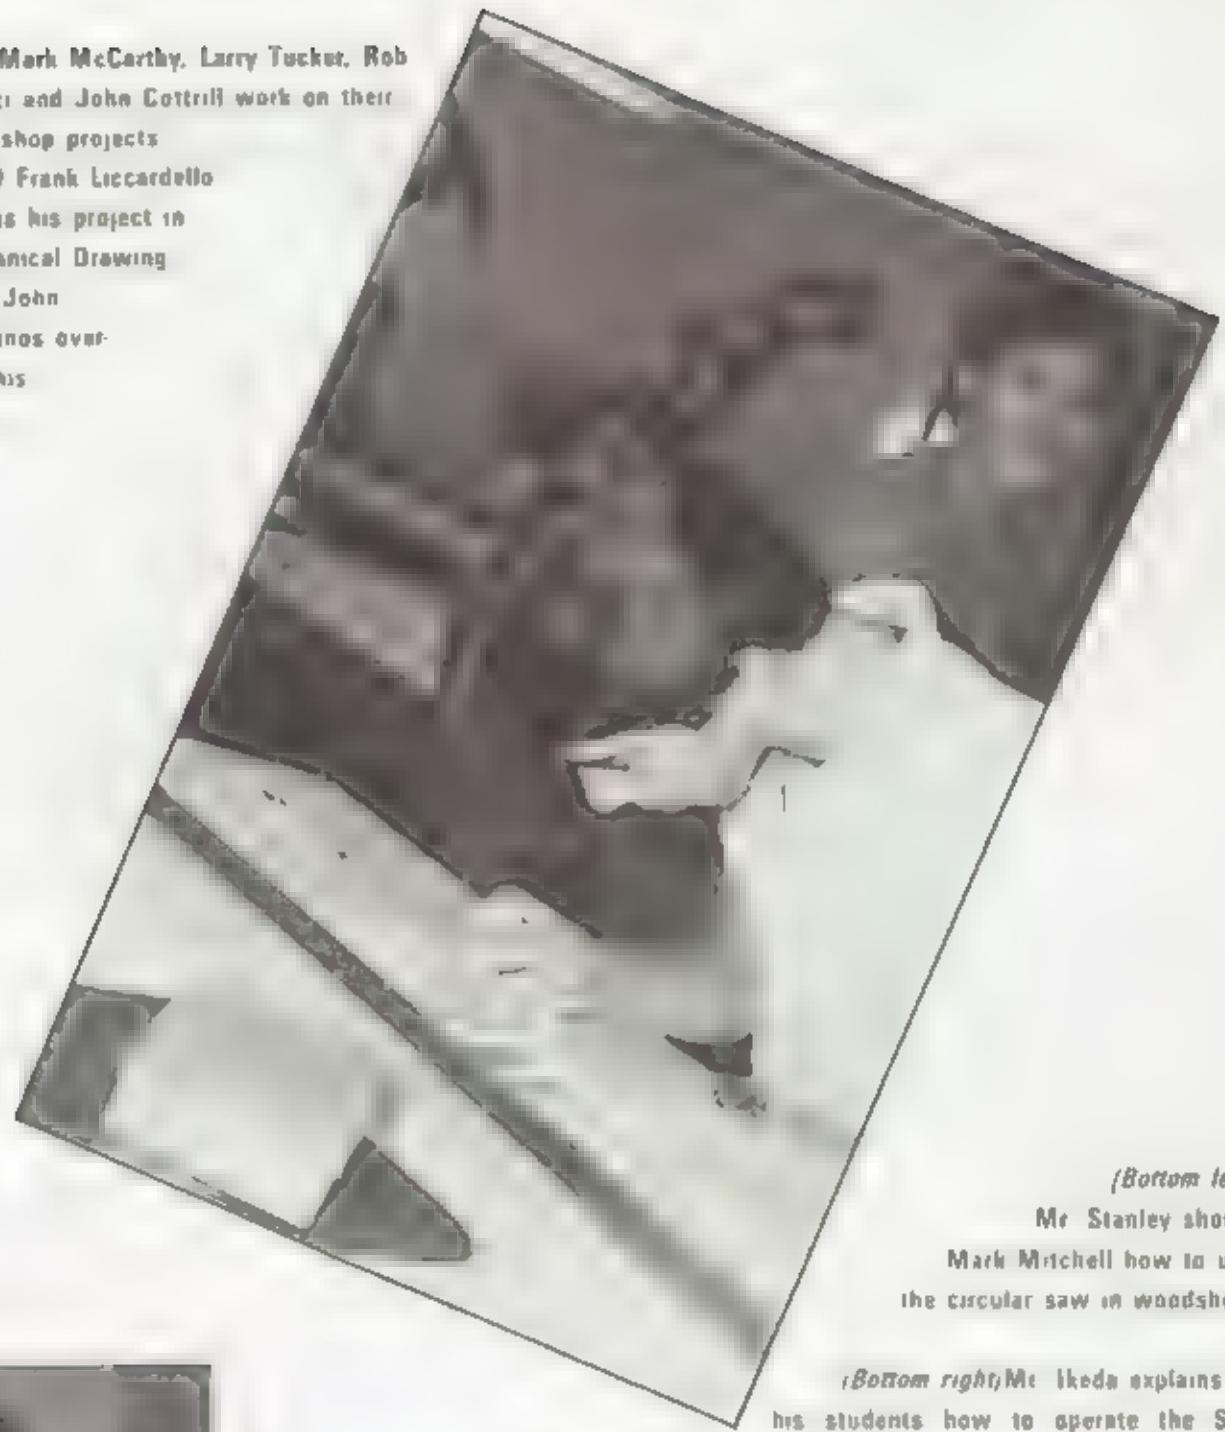

Colonial Corners is a lunchtime restaurant which is run jointly by Harper Woods and South Lake students and is very popular with senior citizens and school personnel in the Harper Woods school district.

Constance Loman is the supervisor of the food service program.

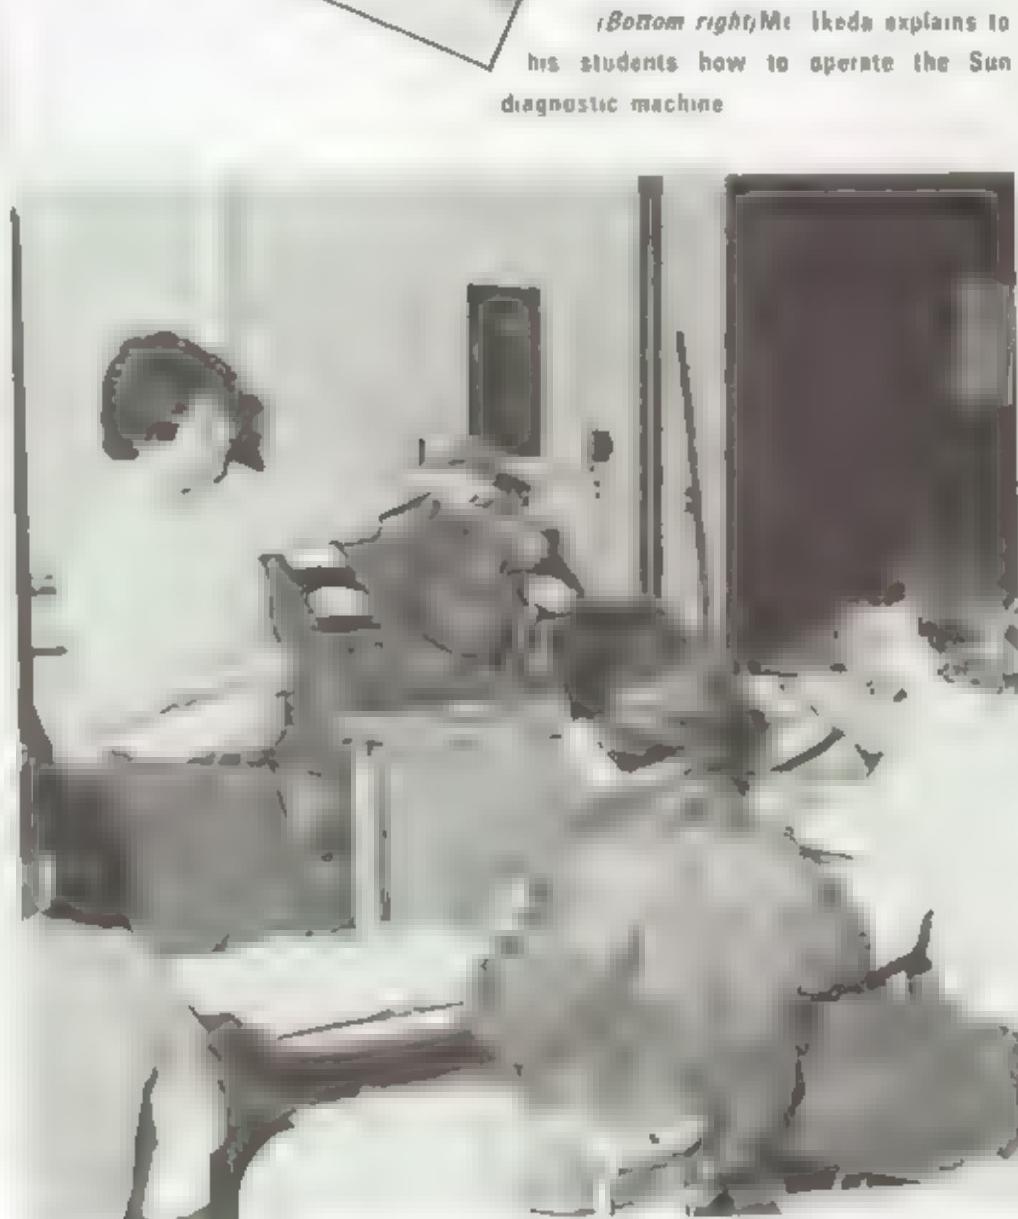

In another part of the same exchange program Harper Woods students come to South Lake for first and second hours for print and auto shop classes.

Bolivian Student Attends South Lake

By Andy Dickman

South Lake has changed many peoples lives, especially the exchange students we have had. Carla Arias, this year's exchange student, said "I always wanted to come to a place like this."

"America is a great country. Maybe you all don't realize it but you have everything here. I would love to live here with my family, or at least I would like to come back sometime."

Carla was born June 1, 1967 in La Paz, Bolivia, where she has spent all of her life. She said her school is quite different. Instead of changing classes, like us, they sit in the same classroom and wait for the teachers to come in.

Carla enjoys many things, especially going out with friends. She also likes to read and play sports occasionally. Meeting people of all cultures is another thing she enjoys.

In Carla's own words, this is Bolivia:

"Bolivia is a country with a lot of natural beauty. It has many places that man has not yet explored."

One part of Bolivia is the 'altiplano' or high planes of the Andes. It's very cold there and the Indians who live there have very interesting customs.

Valleys and tropical areas are a part of Bolivia too. The tropical area is a jungle, and the people there have customs very different from those in the high plains.

I live in La Paz, the capital. Its near the Andes and the temperatures in the summer and winter are different averaging around 70 degrees fahrenheit. 75% of the population of Bolivia are Indians or mestizos (people with mixed Spanish and Indian blood.) The rest of the population are descendants of the Spaniards. The population of Bolivia is about 4½ million. One million or more live in La Paz.

Bolivia's customs, food, and people are marvelous. If it weren't for the political problems, it would be an excellent place to live.

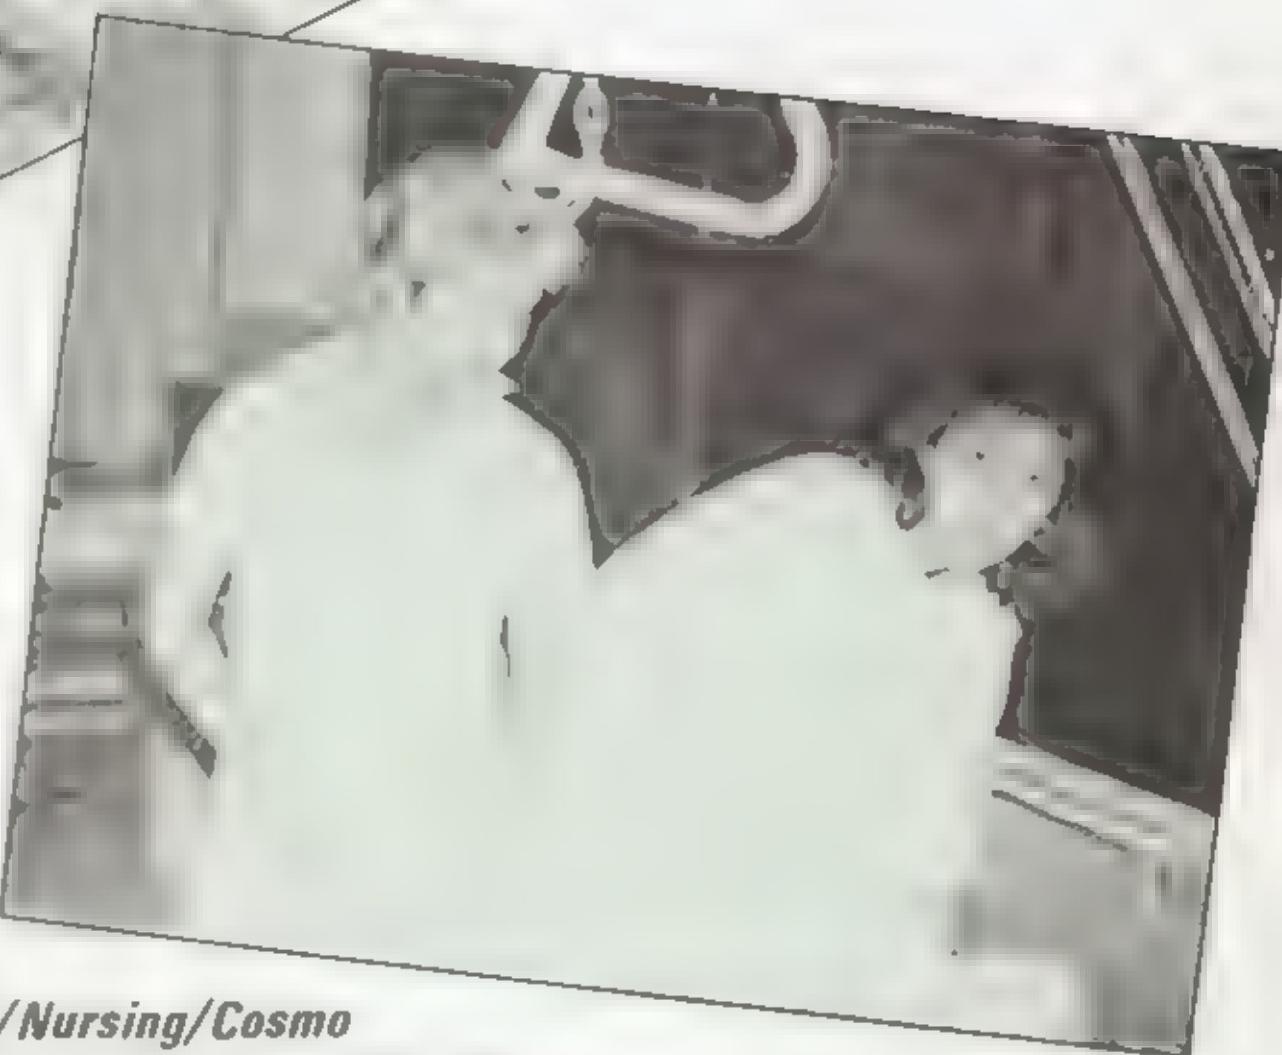

Carla poses for a moment in the library.

Off campus programs offer variety

In this year's cosmetology class 13 students graduated from Virginia Farrell's Beauty School. Donna Harwood won third place at this year's Virginia Farrell's Ladies hair shaping contest which was held at Fairlane Manor. The three schools that participated, Lakeview, Lake Shore, and South Lake.

Three of the students this year were in Dental Assisting II and on Co-op. Three of the South Lake students were officers of the Health Occupations Students of America Club of Lakeview, Lake Shore, and South Lake. A number of the girls entered the State competition for Dental

Assisting with Lisa Kirchner taking second place for spelling. This makes her eligible for the National competition taking place in Nashville, Tenn. June 25-30

This year six South Lake students are enrolled in the Nursing Aides program, Nina Randazzo, Carolyn Wojcinski, Kim Oliveri, Pam Frasard, Beverly Opalewski, and Uriel Baldovino.

Uriel was the first male to enroll since the first year of the program six years ago. All of the South Lake students participated in Co-op with either Rose Villa or Nightengale Nursing Homes. While in this class they learn how to make hospital beds, assist in feeding patients, and bathe patients.

Shaping Up the Stars

By Jodie Brown

As the year begins and the weather is still warm, Physical Education classes finish up fitness tests and move to the great outdoors.

Tennis, racketball and soccer are among the activities that the classes partake in while outside.

When the weather gets chillier and the leaves are all off of the trees, the P.E. classes move back into the gymnasium. Finally indoors, they start with ping pong, volleyball, basketball and gymnastics. All of which help the students obtain individual and team skills.

Meanwhile, in swimming class, the freshmen have ten weeks of learning freestyle and backstroke. Sophmores have twenty weeks to polish their skills and gain more speed.

Steve Pillars pushes his body to the limit during gym.

Science Olympiad

S L Olympians in the Spotlight

by Mario Tranchida and Dan Hartway

"The sweet smell of success" evolved from new South Lakers in '85, the Science Olympians. Selected science students competed head to head with students from high schools in Michigan's southeastern region. Upon an outstanding performance South Lake's team placed fifth in the regional competition enabling them to advance to the state level. At state, South Lake placed eleventh out of fifty-two.

This was the first year that South Lake participated in the Olympiad, making the accomplishments even more significant. South Lake ranked third in Macomb County, but received more medals than any other Macomb county High School.

In March at the regional games, South Lake started their drive by winning 5 first place awards, 1 second place award and 3 third place awards.

On the morning of April 27, South Lake's Science Olympians made known their presence at the state competition by receiving awards ranging from Anatomy to Zoology. The state competition was held at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

The Science Olympiad competitors and their respective rankings at the state competition were as follows:

Paula Mendola and John Janevic, Second Place, 'A' for Anatomy

Tarek Kazzi, Chris Moullos and Darwin Magno, Second Place, Fermi Facts

Ed Wright, Eighth Place, Rocks to Riches

John Janevic, Mark Siwik, Chuck Rydholm and Paul Mendola, Tenth Place, Science Bowl

Ed Wright, Darwin Magno, Fourth Place, Science Bowl

Darwin Magno, Chris Moullos, Second Place, Computer Programming

Chuck Rydholm, Second Place, Periodic Table Quiz

Fred Boyle, First Place, Pentathlon

Class Officers Steal the Show

Daniel Heaton

Class Secretary, Charlene Dzingle, is planning on attending Michigan State University in the fall of 1985 and majoring in medical technology. Presently, Charlene is secretary of the National Honor Society, squad captain of the flag corps., and involved in the Drama and Ski clubs. She received the Madame Curie Award for excellence in science and mathematics.

Outside of school, Charlene is a cook at Burger King. In her spare time, she enjoys skiing, biking, collecting gold jewelry, partying, and doing anything that is wild, crazy, and fun.

"I just wanted to thank everyone for making my senior year the best I have grown so attached to this school that I shudder at the thought of leaving it. Being a senior in 1985 is kind of a commitment that leads to an unhappy but hopeful separation," Charlene commented.

Charlene Dzingle

Merrill Klucha

President Daniel Heaton, is involved in a number of activities around South Lake. He plays basketball, football, and is a member of the swim team, Lancer staff, Student Congress, and the Drama club.

Dan is planning on attending Macomb Community College after high school and has high hopes to go on to Central Michigan University where he will major in broadcast journalism. His goals are to be a radio sportscaster like Ernie Harwell or Paul Carey.

Dan's interests include participating in and watching most sports, writing, reading good science fiction books now and then, and model railroading.

Dan remarked that, "There are many people who contributed to the success of this class. I'd like to thank all of them, especially Mrs. Buechler, our class sponsor."

Senior Mock Elections

Michelle Yovanovich

Class Treasurer. Michelle Yovanovich, is captain of the cheerleading squad, and a member of the National Honor Society and yearbook staff. During the holiday seasons, Michelle works as the Easter Bunny at Easter and Santa's helper during Christmas.

Being crowned 1984 Homecoming queen, Michelle is a three year letter winner and received many academic achievement awards during her senior year.

She plans on attending Michigan State University in September, 1985, and majoring in engineering. "My goals are to just try to be the best I can be, hoping I will be successful," Michelle stated.

Merril Klucha, Class Vice President enjoys being involved in various activities around the school. She is presently treasurer of the Student Congress, captain of the pom-pom squad, and editor of the Yearbook.

Merril plans on furthering her education by attending either Wayne State University or Eastern Michigan University in the fall of 1985. "I have considered majoring in either Accounting or Business Administration, but I am undecided," Merril remarked. In her free time, Merril enjoys jogging, skating, biking, and tennis. She likes to keep busy with her hobbies.

Memories That Will Last a Lifetime

By Michelle Yovanovich

The faces seen leaving the 1985 Senior Banquet on June 4, 1985, were both sad and happy. The updated soft music by Dave Ogden and the aroma of home-cooked foods set off the evening never to be forgotten by the graduating class of 1985.

Everyone assembled to their seats anxiously waiting for this exciting festivity to begin. The senior class united for one last time and knew it would be the best. The menu consisted of spaghetti, Italian sausage, mashed potatoes, corn, salad, and dessert. After dinner, the contented seniors eagerly awaited the most significant part of the banquet, the unforgettable "Senior Slide Show". Here everyone viewed their past memories from childhood up to that last senior event spent all together.

The 45 minute slide show kept its audience captivated and amazed. Songs that accompanied the slides ranged from "Memories" to the class song "There's No Stoppin' Us". Merril Klucha and Tina Closurdo composed and ran the slide show very smoothly giving the seniors memories that will last forever. By the end of the show, many tears were wept but everyone knew that the party must go on and they must enjoy it to its peak.

DJ Dave Ogden took over the controls immediately. The class of 1985 danced the night away to songs from Lionel Richie to DeBarge. Many so-called 'trains' were made and swooped by the tables with seniors jumping from one side to the other. They also formed two long lines hopping down the aisle doing the dance originated by Morris Day called "the bird".

The night was a dream... fantasy whatever word in each person's mind that means precious and unforgettable. It was not easy to finally end this memorable evening, but the seniors knew that all good things must come to an end.

The sad faces seen leaving were faces of the people that felt these times would never be again, and many of these faces would fade. Senior Cheryl Eppolito said, "I felt an emptiness inside realizing that I may never see these familiar faces again." The faces of happiness were ones realizing how fun all the memories have been.

Sad or happy, everyone knew that there was still one last time to be united. Graduation

Senior Officers: Stars of the Class

John Janevic, class representative, is number one in his 1985 graduating class. He is presently involved in a number of activities: President of the National Honor Society; President of the Band Council; Vice President of the Student Congress; A member of the basketball team; the jazz, pep, and marching bands; and Students Against Smoking.

John's hobbies include playing jazz music and all kinds of sports. After high school, John plans on attending University of Michigan and majoring in Chemical Engineering. "My goal is to receive a graduate degree in Chemical Engineering," John said.

Mark Rogers

Mark Rogers, alternate, is a very active student around South Lake. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the tennis team, the Student Congress, and the pep, concert, and marching bands.

Mark is presently employed at the Little Ceasars Pizza Station located at Eastland Mall. "After graduation, I plan on attending either Eastern Michigan University or Michigan State University, and majoring in Business - Accounting and Finance," Mark said. "My goal is to go on to University of Michigan for my Masters Degree."

In school, Candy is the President of the Student Congress. In her spare time, she is fond of reading, writing, and is an avid General Hospital watcher.

Candy stated that, "The Student Congress has taught me how to be more organized and to meet deadlines." Candy was awarded the 'Who's Who of American High School Students' for her outstanding leadership.

Andrea Souther is presently an alternate of the Senior class and co-captain of the varsity cheerleaders. She plans on entering the St. John's Hospital Radiology Program and majoring in either Ultra Sound or CAT Scan.

Andrea keeps herself busy outside of school by working as a cashier at Nino Salvaggio's Fruit and Vegetable Market, and reading in her spare time.

Andrea has been a class officer and a member of the Student Congress for four years. "I think the Student Congress has changed 100 percent for the better since I was a freshman," Andrea commented.

QUESTION: What was upstairs last year and is it downstairs this year?

"Okay punk, come over here," said a voice from behind the light. "Sit on this stool."

"Wait! What's going on here? I didn't do anything!" said the boy with the '85 on his letter jacket.

Sure ya did punk.

What's this all about?

We got you pegged kid. You're the one who moved senior hall from the upstairs hall to the back hallway this year!

That wasn't me!

Sure it wasn't punk. We know you're the one who moved it back there so that you crazy seniors could toss around footballs and stuff back there.

But I wanted senior hall to be upstairs.

So you never got into a little game of soccer back there?"

Well, maybe once or twice, but

And you never planned out your weekend parties back there?

Sometimes, but

And you never got out of class a few minutes early and went back there to cause trouble with your senior buddies?

All I did was Sure kid, save it. We don't want to hear about how you and the rest of the football players would go out for passes and tackle people in senior hall.

C'mon man, give me a break."

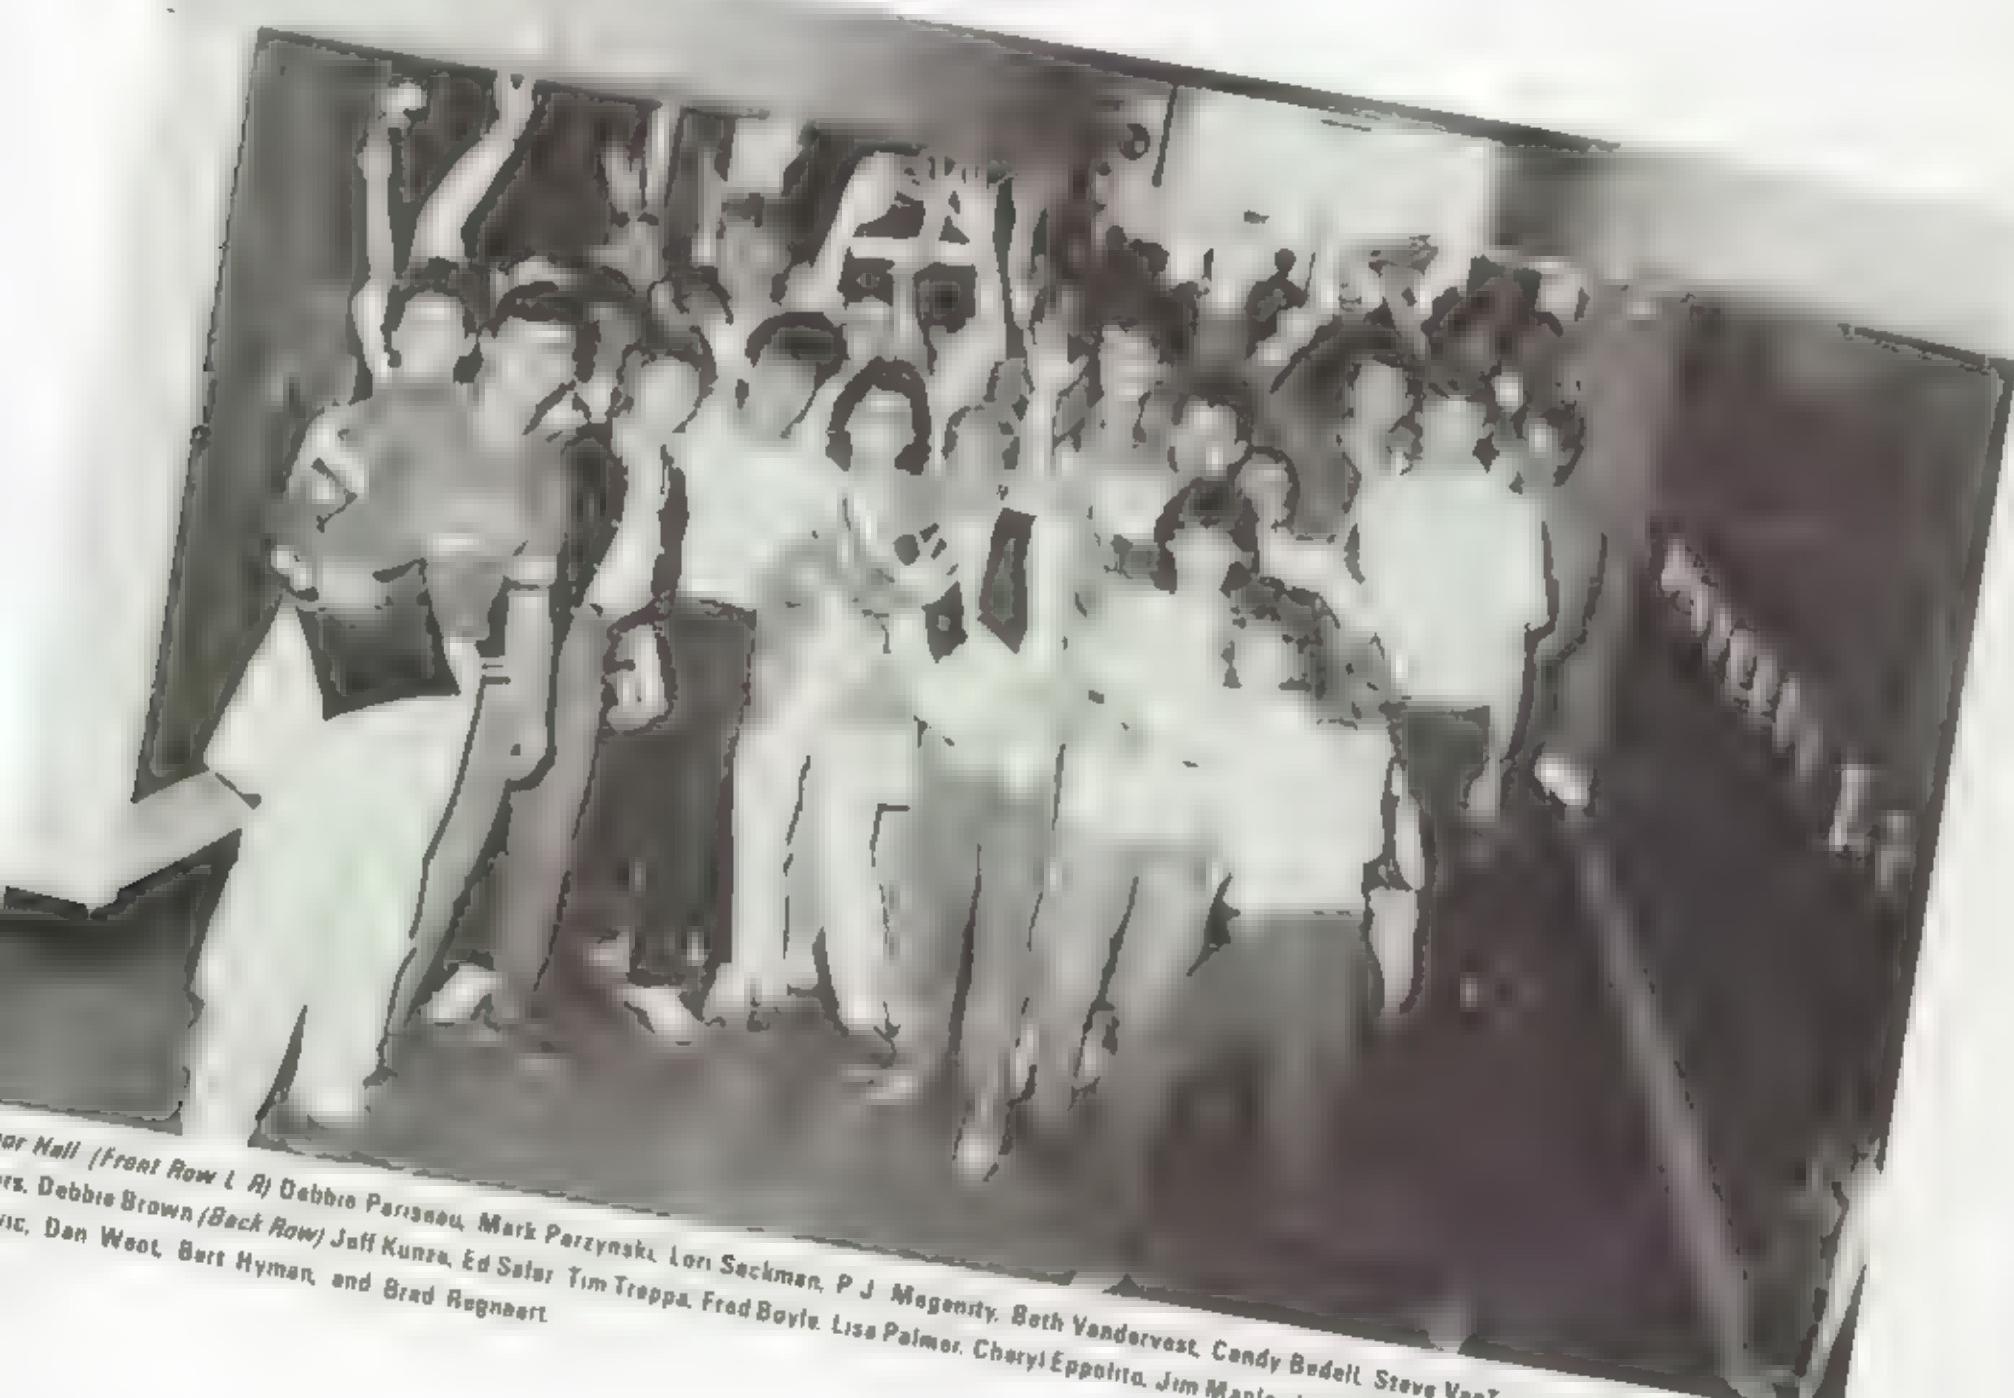

Give me a break kid, I've seen you making dates with your girlfriends in senior hall.

I'm telling you, all I do is keep my books back there!

Sure kid. You tell us about how you would have rather had your locker upstairs where you couldn't have been hanging out in senior hall between classes. Go ahead punk, tell us.

What I've been trying to tell you is that this jacket that says '85' on it isn't mine. I just borrowed it from a friend. I'm a junior!

A junior! Quick kid, get out of here before I lose my lunch. You juniors make me sick!

Student Congress

Congress Sponsors Many Activities

By Merrill Klucha

The 1985 Student Congress worked hard together and had a very big turnout for every activity they sponsored this year.

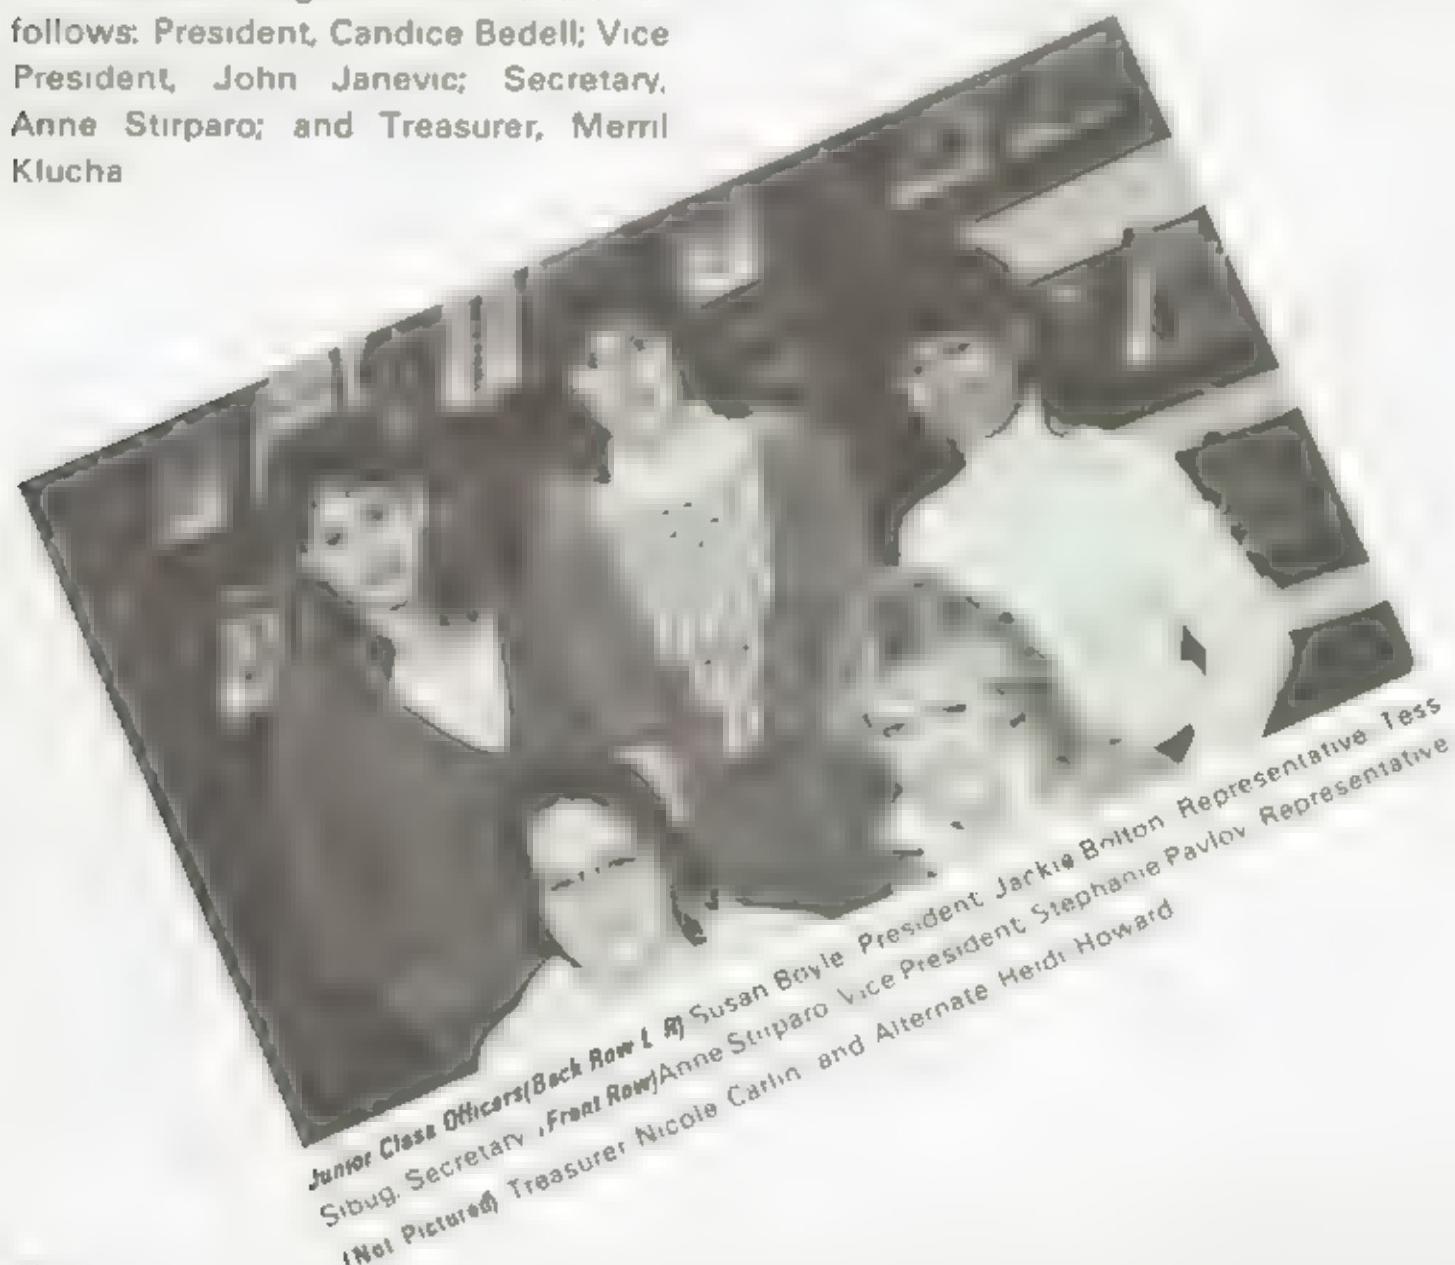

The Student Congress consists of the class officers of each class and is headed by Mr. Carl Wegener. The group usually meets once a week before school to discuss problems and activities occurring around the school.

Some activities organized by the Student Congress were the Homecoming dance, Homecoming parade, a winter Snowball dance, and a donation of toys and canned goods to the "Toys for Tots" charity. The group also awarded four $100.00 scholarships to selected seniors who have need for college financial aid. The annual Band Talent Show held by the Student Congress fell through this year from lack of interest by the student body.

Student Congress officers are as follows: President, Candice Bedell; Vice President, John Janevic; Secretary, Anne Stirparo; and Treasurer, Merrill Klucha.

National Honor Society

Honor Society has Active Year

By Dan Heaton

The South Lake National Honor Society is part of a nationwide group that honors outstanding academic students and performs community services.

The NHS is led by Richard Schakel, advisor and senior John Janevic who is president of the organization.

Annual activities on the NHS's calendar include Halloween parties for the elementary students, bowling parties and a blood drive in which the Red Cross comes in and receives blood from volunteer student and faculty donors.

"The NHS provides a chance to give something back to the school," John said.

Lancer Earns Honors Again

This year's Lancer was amazingly run by only five staff members. Even though this may appear to be a difficult task, the Lancer most recently received a first place with special merit from the American Scholastic Press Association. Linda Angelo, Lancer editor, was chosen as Student Journalist along with 12 other top journalists from Michigan to publish a 12 page newspaper in just 24 hours.

Considering this year's staff consisted of five journalists, I was extremely happy with all of our awards and I was proud of the staff for working so hard all year," Lorraine Reuther, advisor, said.

Debbie Harris, Bert Hyman, Duane Harris and editor Linda Angelo stand behind advisor Lorraine Reuther even when the work piles up.

Reuther Shows Hard Work and Dedication

By Linda Angelo

She enters the school at 6:30 a.m. and begins working immediately. Her classes are organized from the beginning of the hour to the time class is dismissed. She stays after school until 5:00 p.m. or returns from 7 - 9:30 p.m. after a hard day's work.

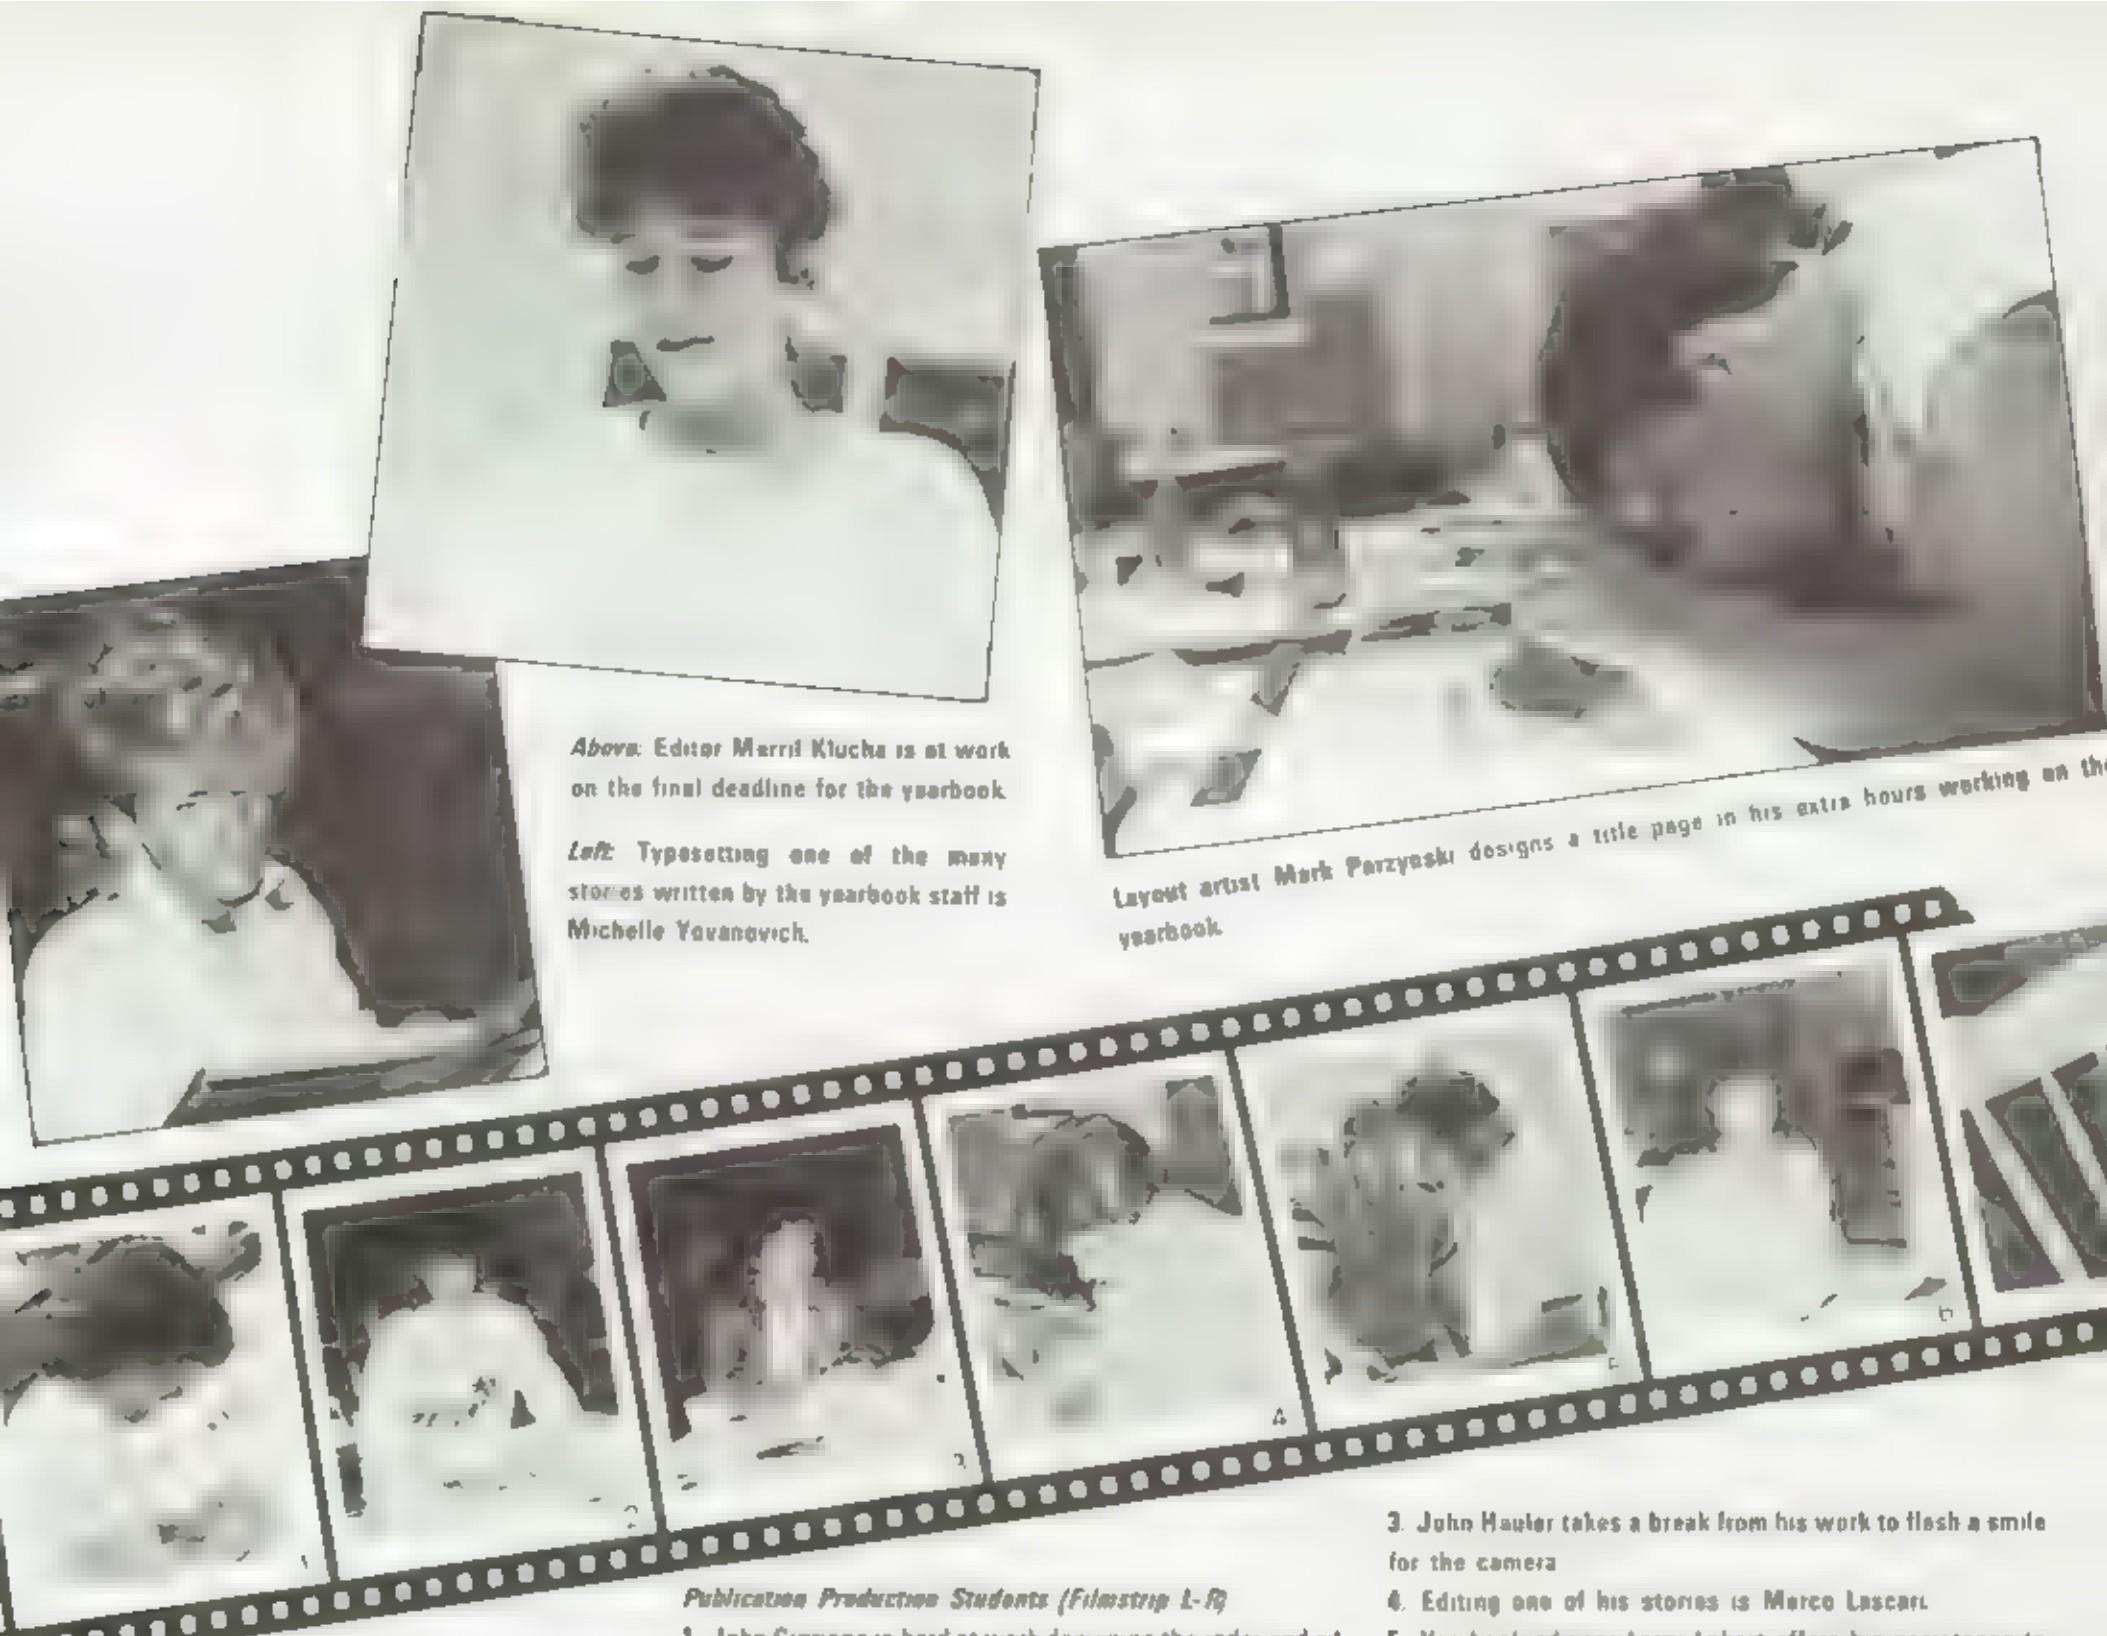

Hard work and dedication. These are the two qualities that Lorraine Reuther, Lancer advisor, has demonstrated during her past four years as advisor of South Lake's school paper. Mrs. Reuther not only improved the newspaper but in 1984 it ranked as MIPA Judges Choice Best Newspaper for Class B schools.

This year Mrs. Reuther was recognized for distinguished performance as a newspaper advisor in the field of scholastic journalism. The award of excellence was presented to Mrs. Reuther at the annual Michigan Interscholastic Press Association's (MIPA) spring conference held at Michigan State University, Friday, April 26, 1985.

In addition to her journalism responsibilities, Mrs. Reuther sponsors the Drama Club, produces and directs many plays and teaches English and acting classes.

Yearbook Staff

Behind the Scenes

The 1985 yearbook staff experienced another difficult year but was still able to complete the book on schedule.

Fueled by an early success, the receipt of a First Place award at the Great Lakes Interscholastic Press Association, the club started out large but quickly dwindled to a few.

The project operated as a club for the second year in a row, causing major deadline problems. "No one was willing to dedicate enough of their own time to the project," stated Yearbook Editor Merrill Klucha.

"I spend the first couple of months trying to distinguish between those who are here to work and those who are along for the ride," Yearbook Advisor Larry Lobert said.

At the mid-year point, the staff saw major changes with Merrill Klucha assuming editorship of and seeing the book through to completion. "Merrill gave the project the direction and commitment it needed assuming much of the responsibility for all areas of the project. Without her effort, there may have not been a yearbook this year," Lobert continued.

The staff plans to enter the book in and possibly attend three major yearbook competitions next year.

5. Yearbook advisor Larry Lobert offers his assistance to Andy Dickman
6. Chris Myers, assistant editor for business, is busy typing at her job in the South Lake Board Office.

Other important staff contributors were Assistant Editor for business, Chris Myers, who maintained all financial records and coordinated fundraising, layout artists Mark Parzynski and Michelle Yovanovich, and copy editor Dan Heaton. Mark came into the scene toward the end and dedicated much of his time and talent to finishing the project. Contributors from the Publications Production class were John Cipriano, Andy Dickman, John Hauer, Marco Lascari, and Maria Tranchida.

The staff gratefully acknowledges the assistance of Parents Club members Linda Souliere and Sue Boyle, Andrea Souliere, Ellen Hyman, Kimberly Mull for fundraising, and Kim Stockwell, High School Attendance Office Aide.

South Lake Marching Band, A Lot of Work, A Lot of Fun, A Lot of Results

By Missy Sabbe

"Mark time, mark! Guide right!
Watch your spacing!"

These are very familiar quotes to any band member. From the first day of cadet band to the last day of concert band these and many other commands are drilled into South Lake's 63 member band. They strive to coordinate marching maneuvers as well as their music and routines to perfection during football season. They can be seen at all the home games huddled in the stands until it is time for them to give their shining performances on the field.

In order to be stars on the field at night, they have to be slaves on it during the day. Hours of practice go into making a fine band and everyone puts in many of these hours. According to senior flute player, Kathy Jaques, it's worth it. "There's always the brothers and sisters you don't get along with at times, but like all families we're really close."

Above: Fred Boyle, drum major, struts for the audience as he shows off his field expertise

South Lake Colorguard; a.k.a. Dedication, Spirit, and Determination

by Missy Sabbe

Colorguard members, those of the flag and rifle corps, don't get a credit or a grade, but they get a lot of satisfaction out of a job well done.

During football and marching season, they spend countless early morning hours practicing. They can often be found on these mornings with slitted eyes, yawning through their routines. They endure, however, to give their best at each game and every parade.

This year's guard was somewhat bigger than last year's. The amount of rookies coming in led to a few problems in the beginning. As usual, they had to learn the basics of marching poise, and discipline but toward the end of the season they gave shining performances.

Drama Club

Drama Club Visits NY

The only requirement to be a member of the Drama Club is to be interested in theatre arts. This means you like to see plays, you can act in high school productions, you usher for school plays, work backstage or you take a trip to New York and see two Broadway productions in a weekend.

The Drama Club is probably one of the largest clubs in the school and probably the most informal. The group does not meet on a regular basis nor is there a need to participate in all the club's activities.

For 1984 - '85 the Drama Club supplied clowns for the Homecoming parade, assisted in two school productions, saw a play in Stratford Ontario, spent May 16 - 19 in New York and ended the year with the dramatic awards ceremony called the Plume Awards.

Acting teacher Lorraine Reuther is the club's sponsor.

Business Office Education Club BOEC Excels

By Missy Sabba

This year at regional competition the Business and Office Education Club had nineteen people place. Most of these people will be going on to a fun and informative weekend at the Westin Hotel for state competition.

Every year the club holds its meetings and general "get togethers" in preparation for competition. When each member has selected what they wish to compete in they spend extra hours studying and practicing their particular skill. These skills range from preparing verbal and extemporaneous speeches to general clerical skills. There's a competition for everyone and everyone tries their best to make it to state.

The state competition in the Renaissance Center, downtown, not only includes the competitions but also a variety of activities. These include, a parade of schools, a banquet and mixer and a selection of workshops the students can partake in.

Debate Team

A New Challenge

By Missy Sabbe

Speaking skills and knowledge of world issues are two things one gains on the debate team. This selective group of students represents South Lake by attending debate sessions and showing their knowledge of current events.

Led by sponsor, James Gough, the team, consisting of Ken Pascoe, Lisa Popp, Mike Homsey, Chris Moullos, and timer, Kathy Jaques, participated in three sessions of argumentative discussion this year. Senior, Ken Pascoe stated, "The debates get pretty tense in the beginning but you can really get into it."

No, its not a page torn from a fantasy book but an adventure which The South Lake Gamers just might find themselves in.

Richard Gehringer sponsors The Gamers which is a group that meets once a week to play roleplay games, Trivial Pursuit or other games of the mind.

The group originated during the time when Dungeons and Dragons was becoming popular and has since branched out into many other games.

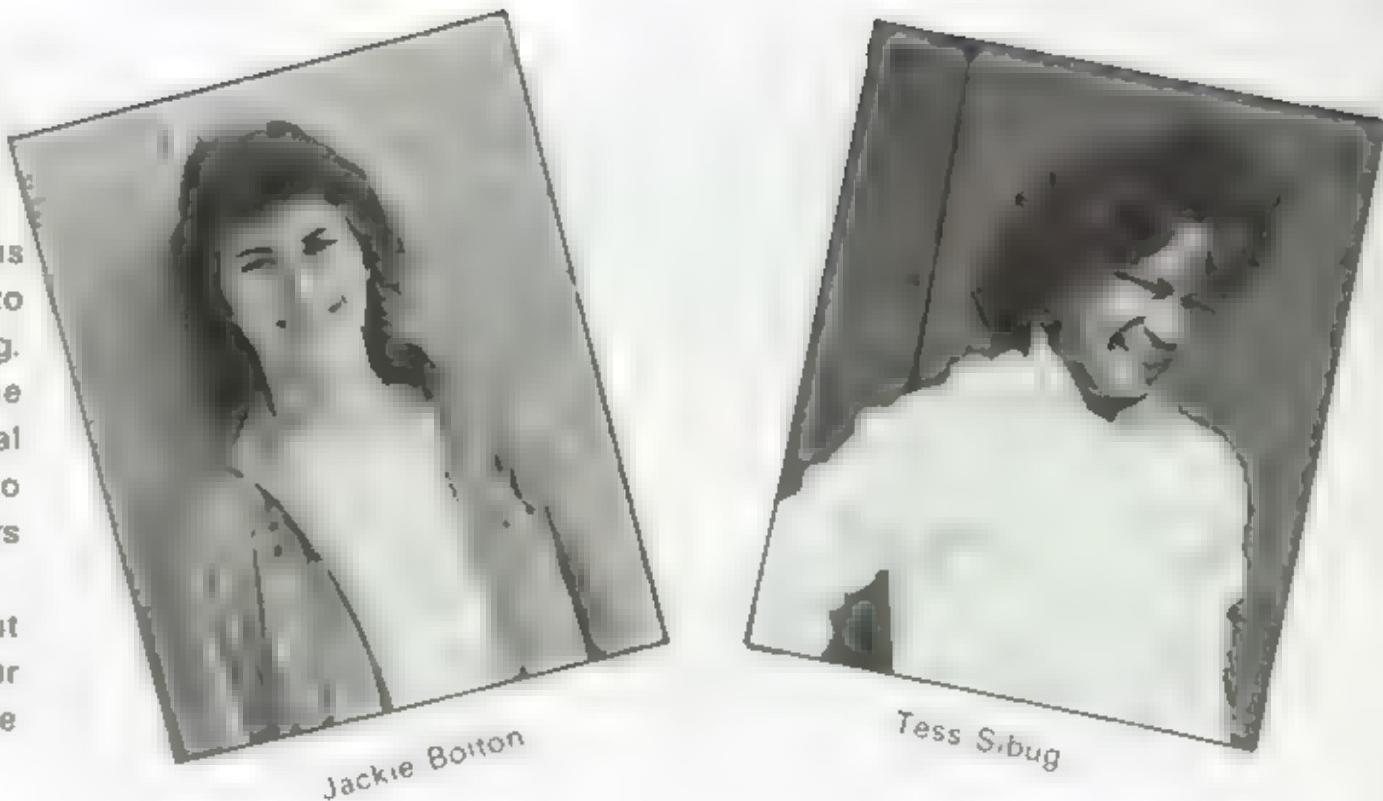

Students Against Smoking

S.A.S. Says "Stop"

By Dan Hester

SAS, or Students Against Smoking is a group that meets semi-regularly to discuss ways to prevent smoking. Richard Thompson sponsors the organization. He schedules two annual trips to elementary schools to speak to second and fifth graders on the dangers of smoking.

"We give them the facts about smoking and then let them make up their own minds," group member Jackie Bolton said.

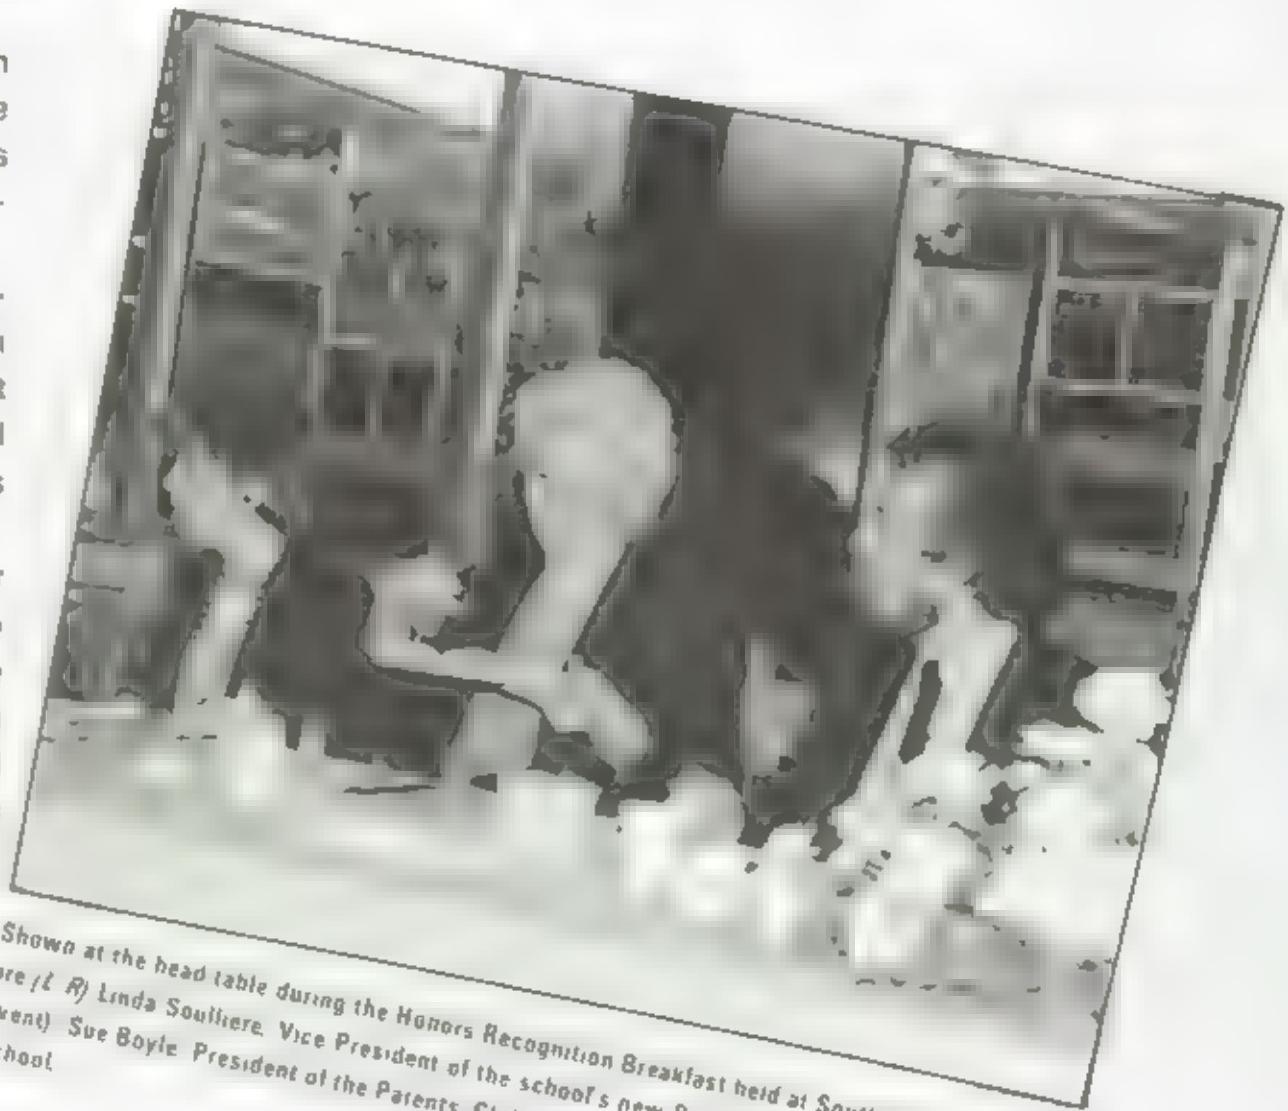

Parents Club

Parents Get Involved

A new organization around South Lake this year in the presence of the Parents' Club. The 1985 Parents' Club is headed by president Sue Boyle and vice-president Linda Souliere.

This year, the Parents' Club sponsored a garage sale at South Lake High School to raise money for an all-night senior party. The lack of interest and participation from the senior class caused the party to be canceled.

The Honor's Breakfast was another event sponsored by the Parents' Club this year. A total of 120 students were guests at the breakfast which was given for those who were on the high school honor roll for three consecutive marking periods.

Devoted Dads

Merril Klucha and John Heuler

South Lake High School Dads' Club headed by Mr. Robert Souliere, president. This year, along with past years, the club ran the concession stand at football and basketball games. They also donated popcorn and softdrinks to groups or classes who sponsored school dances in the South Lake cafeteria.

The Dads' Club, a non-profit organization, raised approximately $400. The money was used to buy and present trophies to seniors who made their team All Bi-county in any sport. The rest of the money went to finish furnishing South Lake's weight room.

Tucked away in a remote corner of South Lake is hidden room 221. In this room every Wednesday after school a small group of talented people gather the art club.

The club sponsored by Max Fralick consists of seven people: Anita and Elena Peschutta, Lisa Popp, Marnie Lee, Frank Cugini, Christine Hurley, and Jon Todd.

These students design and produce some of the backdrops for plays in the school and other school related activities. When asked why they go through all that hard work, most members said that when you're sitting in the audience during a play it feels good to know that you've done an important part in its preparation.

This club also gives the students a chance to expand their artistic talents by allowing them to spend time after school working on individual projects.

At the Slopes

By Stephan Gosske

The major activity of the ski club is the annual ski trip. It cost around a hundred dollars per person for one weekend but it does include meals on both days.

For the ninth consecutive year the South Lake Ski Club sponsored a trip to Crystal Mountain. Forty ski club members and six chaperones departed Jan. 11 after fourth hour class and spent the weekend on the slopes.

The group had open access to the slopes throughout the day and were able to use all the resort's facilities, such as the pool and game room.

A second trip scheduled for 1985 was cancelled because of trouble with students during the last trip. According to Dr. Myers the trips will be cancelled in the future, if a new sponsor is not found.

South Lake Race Team Rebuilds Tradition

By Stephen M. Gosske

The Delta 88, a big car you say, too big to be fast, WRONG! The Delta may be big but not slow. Granted, it didn't win every race it was in, but it did show that South Lake can take any car and turn it into a competitor. Some people laughed when they saw a four door roll onto the strip, but when it started its engine, smiles stopped and saw they would have to work to take a win from this car.

The Olds was donated by General Motors to South Lake two years ago for S L drivers education. For some reason a title could not be found for it, so Tim Treppa and our award-winning racing team saw potential and decided they had a use for it. Teacher William Ikeda didn't like the idea much, but felt confident his students knew what they were doing.

By the way, the Chevota is being rebuilt for a winning 85-86 season!

French Club

Club Plans Trip

By Marco Lascari

This year is the first year for the French Club. They had meetings to plan out what they will do next year, and some this year. Some of their plans were fundraisers for next years trip to France, during Easter vacation in 1986. They also practice and discuss french customs. One place they visited this year was the Magic Pan in Lakeside Mall.

The requirements for being in the French Club are, an interest in French and what the club is doing. The officers of 1984 - 85 were, Paula Mills, President, Kristi Studham, Vice-President, Laurie Tucker, Secretary and Treasurer.

Trip To Spain Planned

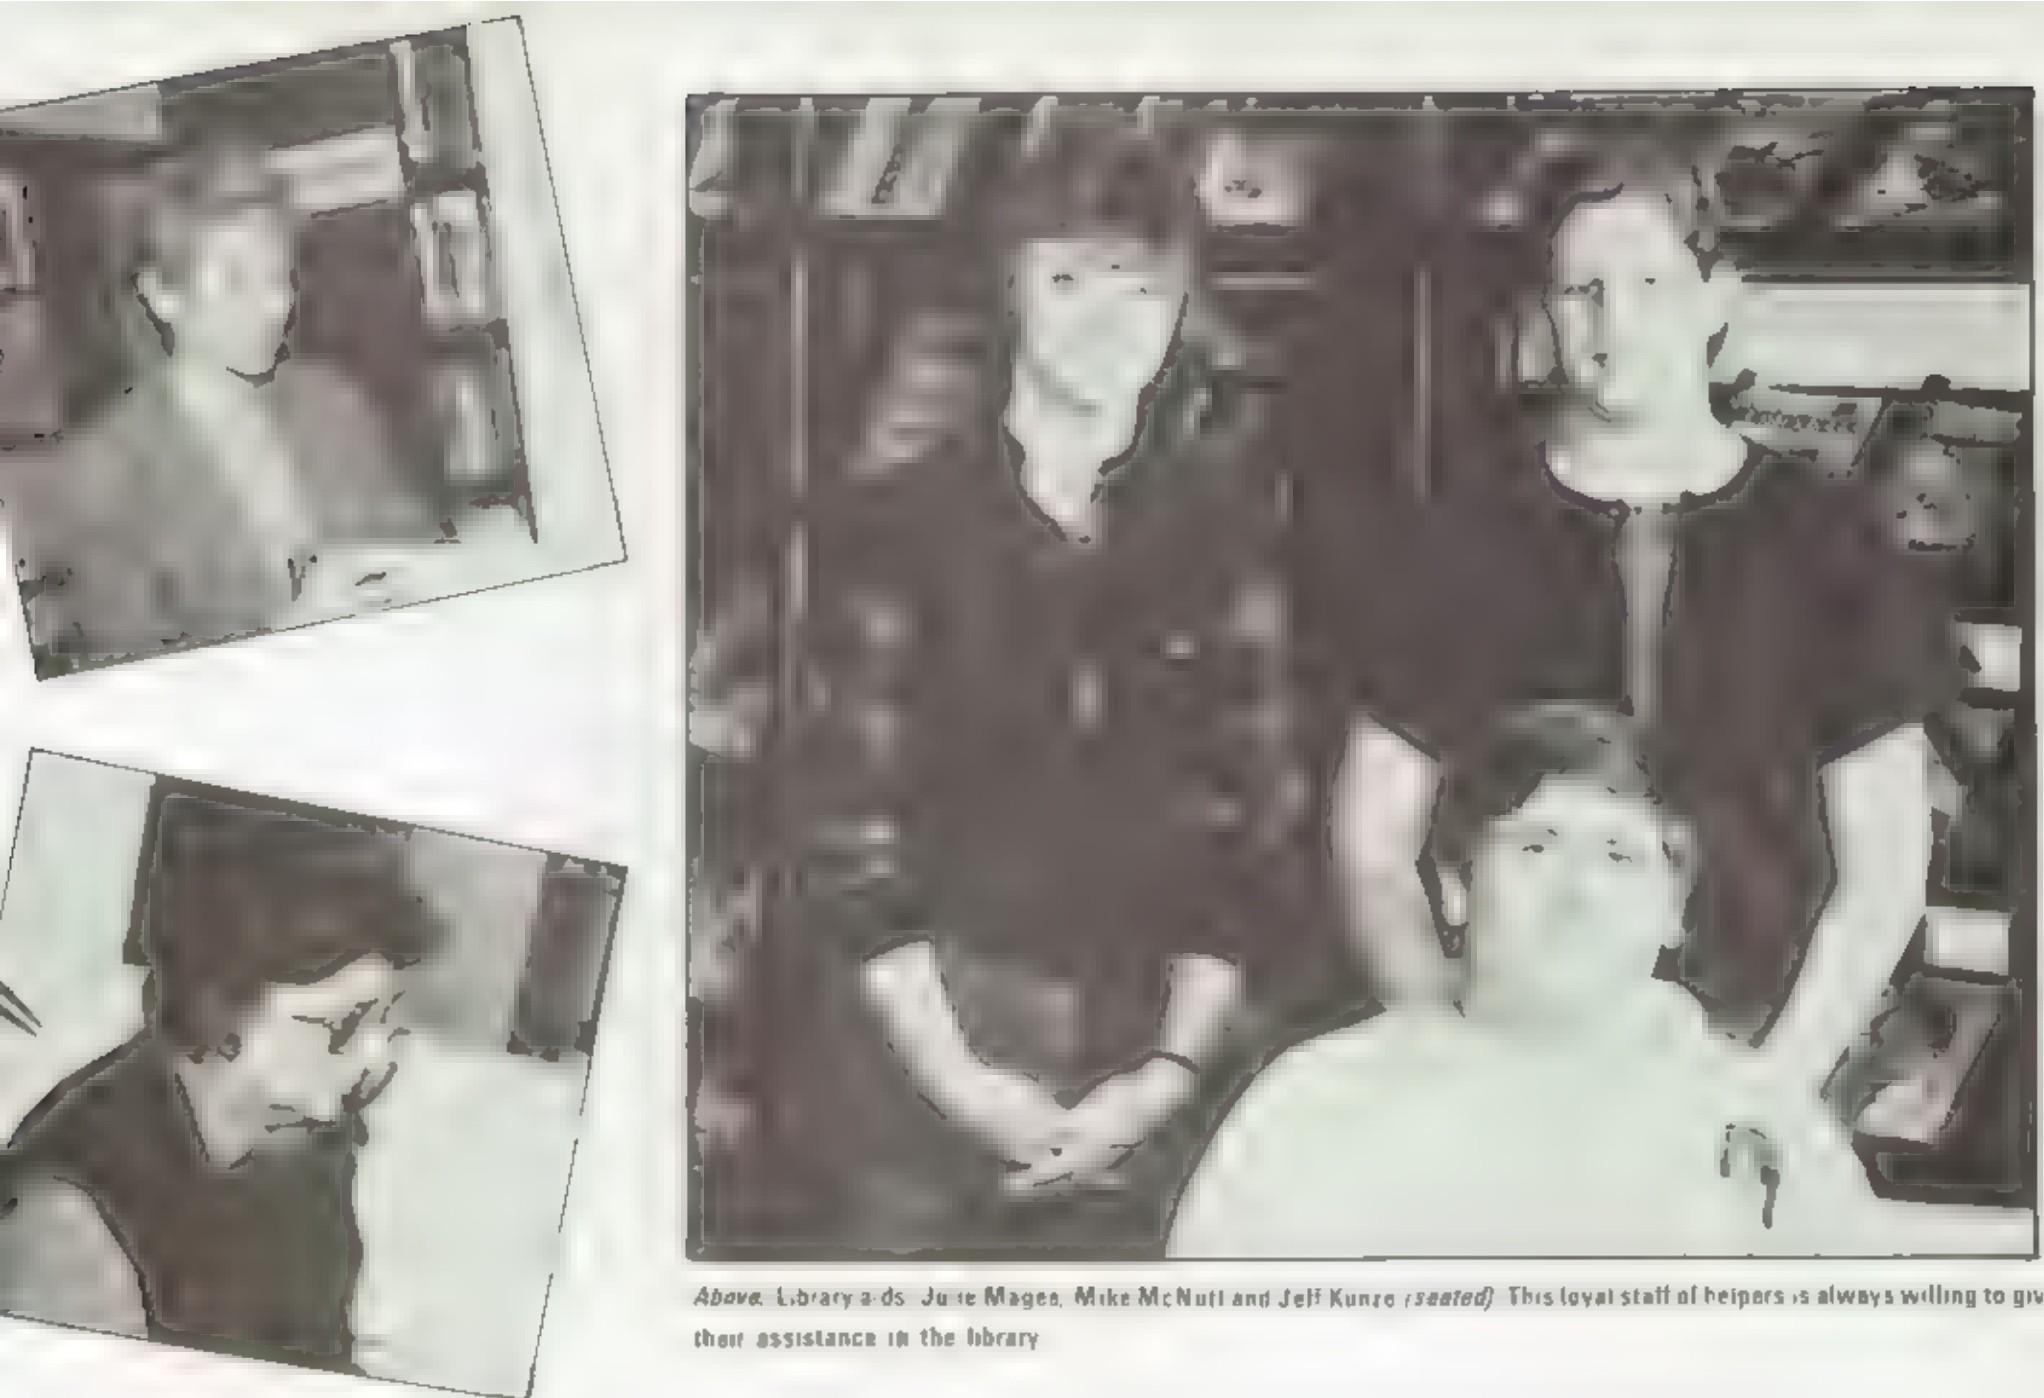

This year was a busy year for the Spanish club. They went out to eat at a Mexican Restaurant, they saw flamenco dancers, and they also attended Foreign Language Day. This was held at Oakland University and the activities were mostly skits and plays in foreign languages. Although South Lake only watched this year, they plan to participate next year.

The club was also busy raising money for the planned trip to Spain next year. Their fundraising efforts included selling Poinsettias, M & M's, and other assorted items. According to Miss Howell, "This year's group was most enthusiastic about fundraising."

The club as well as the trip next year are open to any students enrolled in a Spanish Class. According to Miss Howell, head of the club, "We're really looking forward to going to Spain next year."

Office Aids

Hard Work?

By Marco Lascari

What is it like being an office aid?

These questions were asked of Patty Vamvakas, David Skalba, and Shelia Crosson. One question asked was, "Is being an office aid fun?" Shelia said, "It's better than having a class. They also said they liked taking passes. During the hour you get to see what they are doing in classes that day. For instance, when you go to the wood shop one day you'll see them start a project. Then the next week it will almost be finished. When they're done they are really beautiful, and you'll see the hard work that was put into the project. You also get to know what the principals are really like."

What is a Junior?

By Dan Heaton

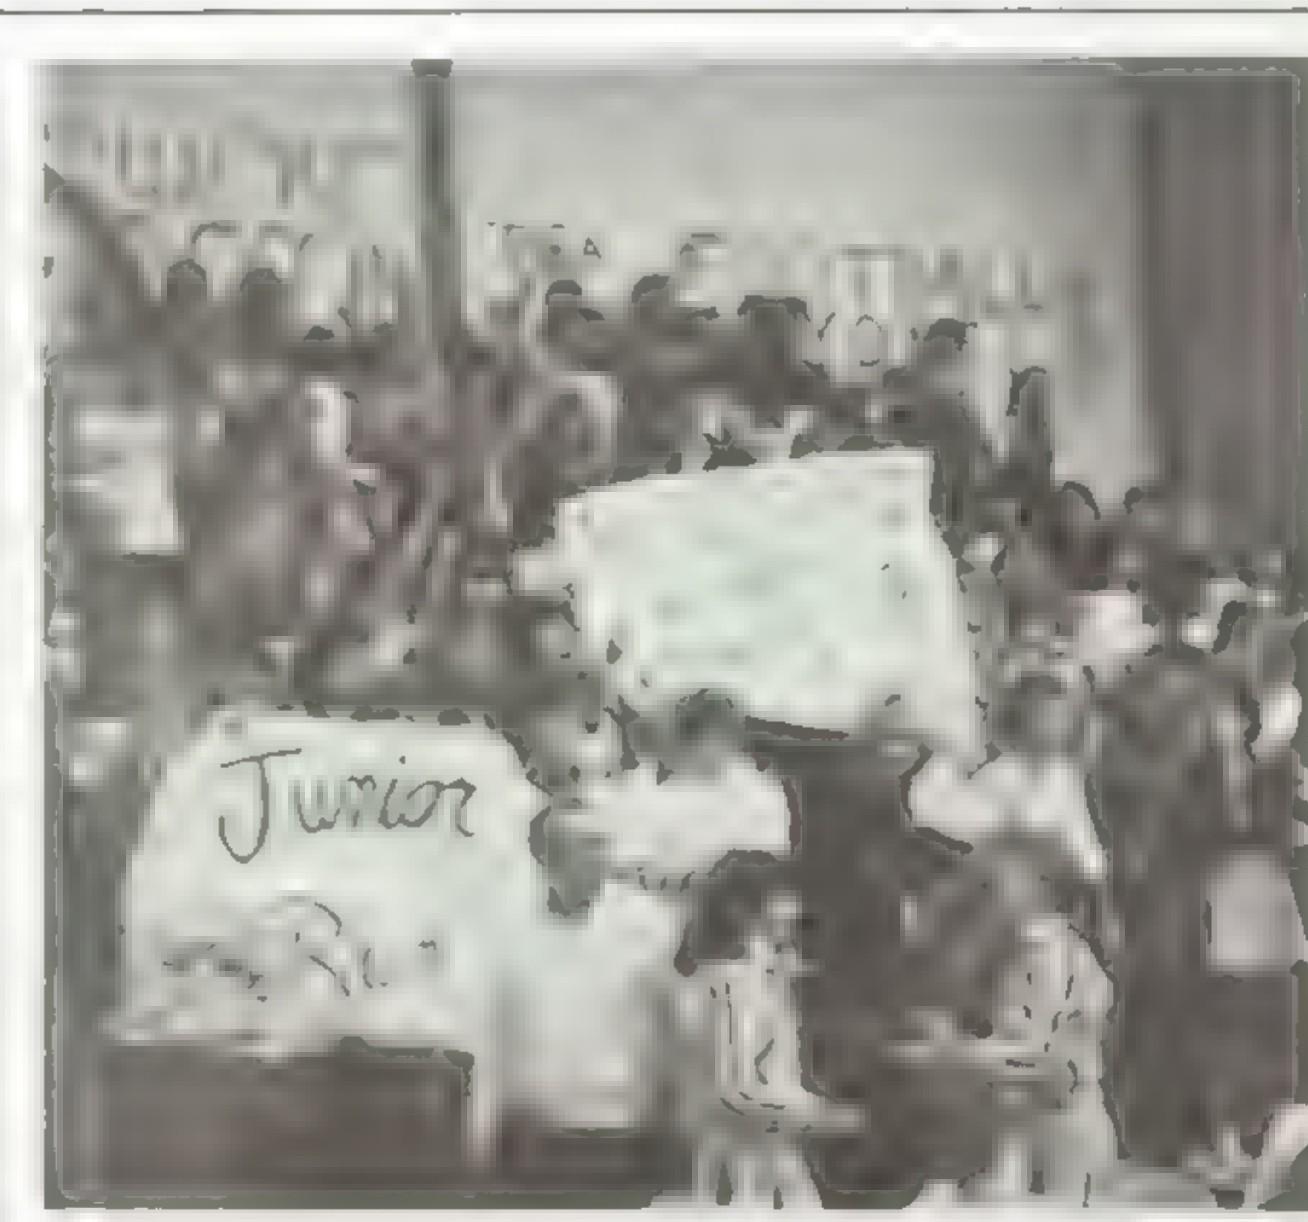

Junior (joon' yer) adj. Younger esp when used to distinguish the son from the father of the same name: William Jones, Jr. 2. Of or for younger persons: junior dresses. 3. Of lower rank or shorter length of service. 4. Of or pertaining to the 3rd year of a U.S. high school or college. 5. Lesser in scale than the usual.-n. 1. A person who is younger than another. 2. A person lower in rank or length of service; subordinate. 3. A 3rd-year student in U.S. high school or college

So what is a junior? A junior is a complex personality, one of many conflicting thoughts and ideologies.

A junior is one that yearns for the spotlight but yet must wait in the wings for their chance on the stage.

Now though, those juniors that once were have taken that spotlight and there is another group that has stepped up to take their place backstage

From this day forward the class of 86 can no longer be called juniors. The spotlight awaits.

President

Boyle Leads '87

Junior Sue Boyle is active in much more than just Student Congress. In addition to her position as class president, a position she has held for three years, she is a member of the varsity cheerleading squad, the S.L. band, and the varsity softball team.

Sue has been a very active class officer and was an important part of the Student Congress during the planning and execution of the Homecoming Dance and festivities. This year Sue hosted the Junior float building at her home, and also was a member of the Snowball Dance committee.

'I've enjoyed having a hand in helping to make my school a fun place.'

Vice President

Stirparo Keeps Busy

Vice President Ann Stirparo was also this year, a member of the National Honor Society, and member of the South Lake marching and concert bands.

Ann was the secretary to the Student Congress this year, and her duties included taking all the minutes during the weekly Student Congress meetings.

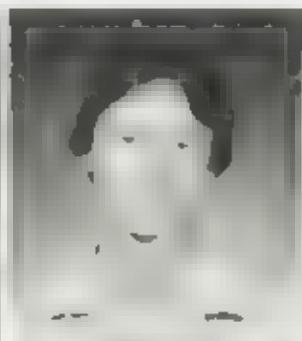

Ann plays the clarinet with the band and has been a member of the flag corps.

Secretary

Involved Student Makes Class More Active

By Maria Trenchida

Tess Sibug has been secretary of her class since her sophomore year and will also be secretary in her senior year. "My goal is to make the class of '86 more active," said Tess.

After high school she would like to work in the medical field but is undecided about exactly what she wants to do. She plans to attend either University of Michigan or Wayne State.

She is presently a member of the NHS, Spanish Club, and Students Against Smoking. Outside of school she is a volunteer at St. Johns Hospital and belongs to the St. Joan Teen Group.

She enjoys jogging, dancing, listening to music, and reading.

A Junior Goal — The Varsity Letter

The Junior year could also be known as the year of the varsity letter.

More often than not those who earn their first varsity letter in the two most popular high school sports, football and basketball, are juniors. Although South Lake has a relatively small sports program and it's definitely not unheard of for an underclassman to earn a letter it is most often a junior who makes the purchase of a letter jacket to let the world know that, yes he is a letter winner at South Lake High.

When people talk about playing football it's usually about guys going out and playing a rough game of football. But when girls play the game they get just as rough and tough as the guys.

This year's final powder puff football game between the juniors and seniors went in favor of the juniors. Their victory was a big upset just like last year when the class of 85 defeated the seniors of 84.

Treasurer

The Money Keeper

By Michele Gagnon

Nicole Carlin had a very active junior year. Among other things, she was treasurer for her class. This duty included responsibilities such as keeping track of funds and making sure everything was in order money-wise for her class. She will take on the same responsibility for the '85 - '86 school year.

Nicole was also a first year member of the pom-pom squad, on the track team and a member of the National Honor Society.

"I enjoyed my junior year very much because of being so active in school," Nicole commented.

She also feels that the best part of her three years at South Lake has been making new friends.

Junior Historians

By Dan Heaton

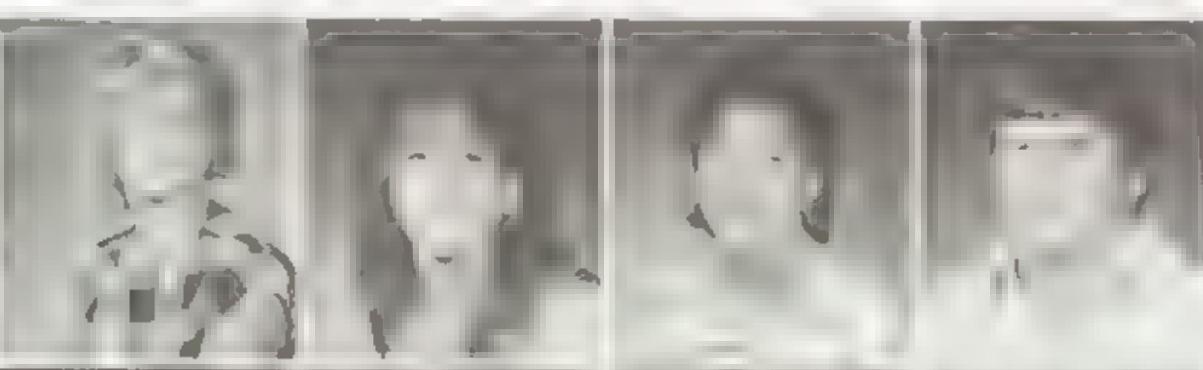

In 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue

What might sound like a second grader's nursery rhyme might also be coming from an average junior.

As part of the requirements to earn a diploma, most students take a U.S. History class during their junior year.

While the curriculum of the U.S. History classes doesn't usually include the journeys of Chris Columbus, one history teacher said that it is necessary to know the basics of history from several hundred years ago before you can understand today's history. The curriculum for most U.S. History classes concerns America from 1800 on and places a heavy emphasis on the U.S. in World Wars I and II and our foreign policies since then.

Mr. Case, South Lakes' own historian, instructs his class on the finer points of government.

Active SL Student

By Marco Lescan

Heidi Howard has been involved in student organizations ever since she came to South Lake. In her freshmen year she was on the SFO, and for the last two years she has been a member of the Student Congress, this year as a secretary and representative alternate. "Being on Student Congress, you find yourself becoming more confident, wanting to seek higher goals. I find the Student Congress very rewarding with all we accomplish and do for our school. Even running for office is an experience!" said Heidi.

Heidi has also shown her school spirit by being involved in band for three years and playing softball for two.

She plans to go on to Central Michigan University to obtain her degree in physical therapy.

They Want to Lead The Glamorous Life

By Dan Henton

There are stars and there are understudies. Regardless of which category the students of South Lake High School fit into, there were plenty of activities to keep them involved.

From the first Friday of the school year when the football team opened its season against Harper Woods until June 6th when the seniors said goodbye at commencement there was always something to do in and around South Lake High.

Be it the good natured fun of a spirit week, homecoming dance, prom, or the intensity of a hard fought race at the athletic field, South Lake High was, for the past nine months, the place to be.

"Hey Babe,"
"I love you all,"

The Stars Shine at

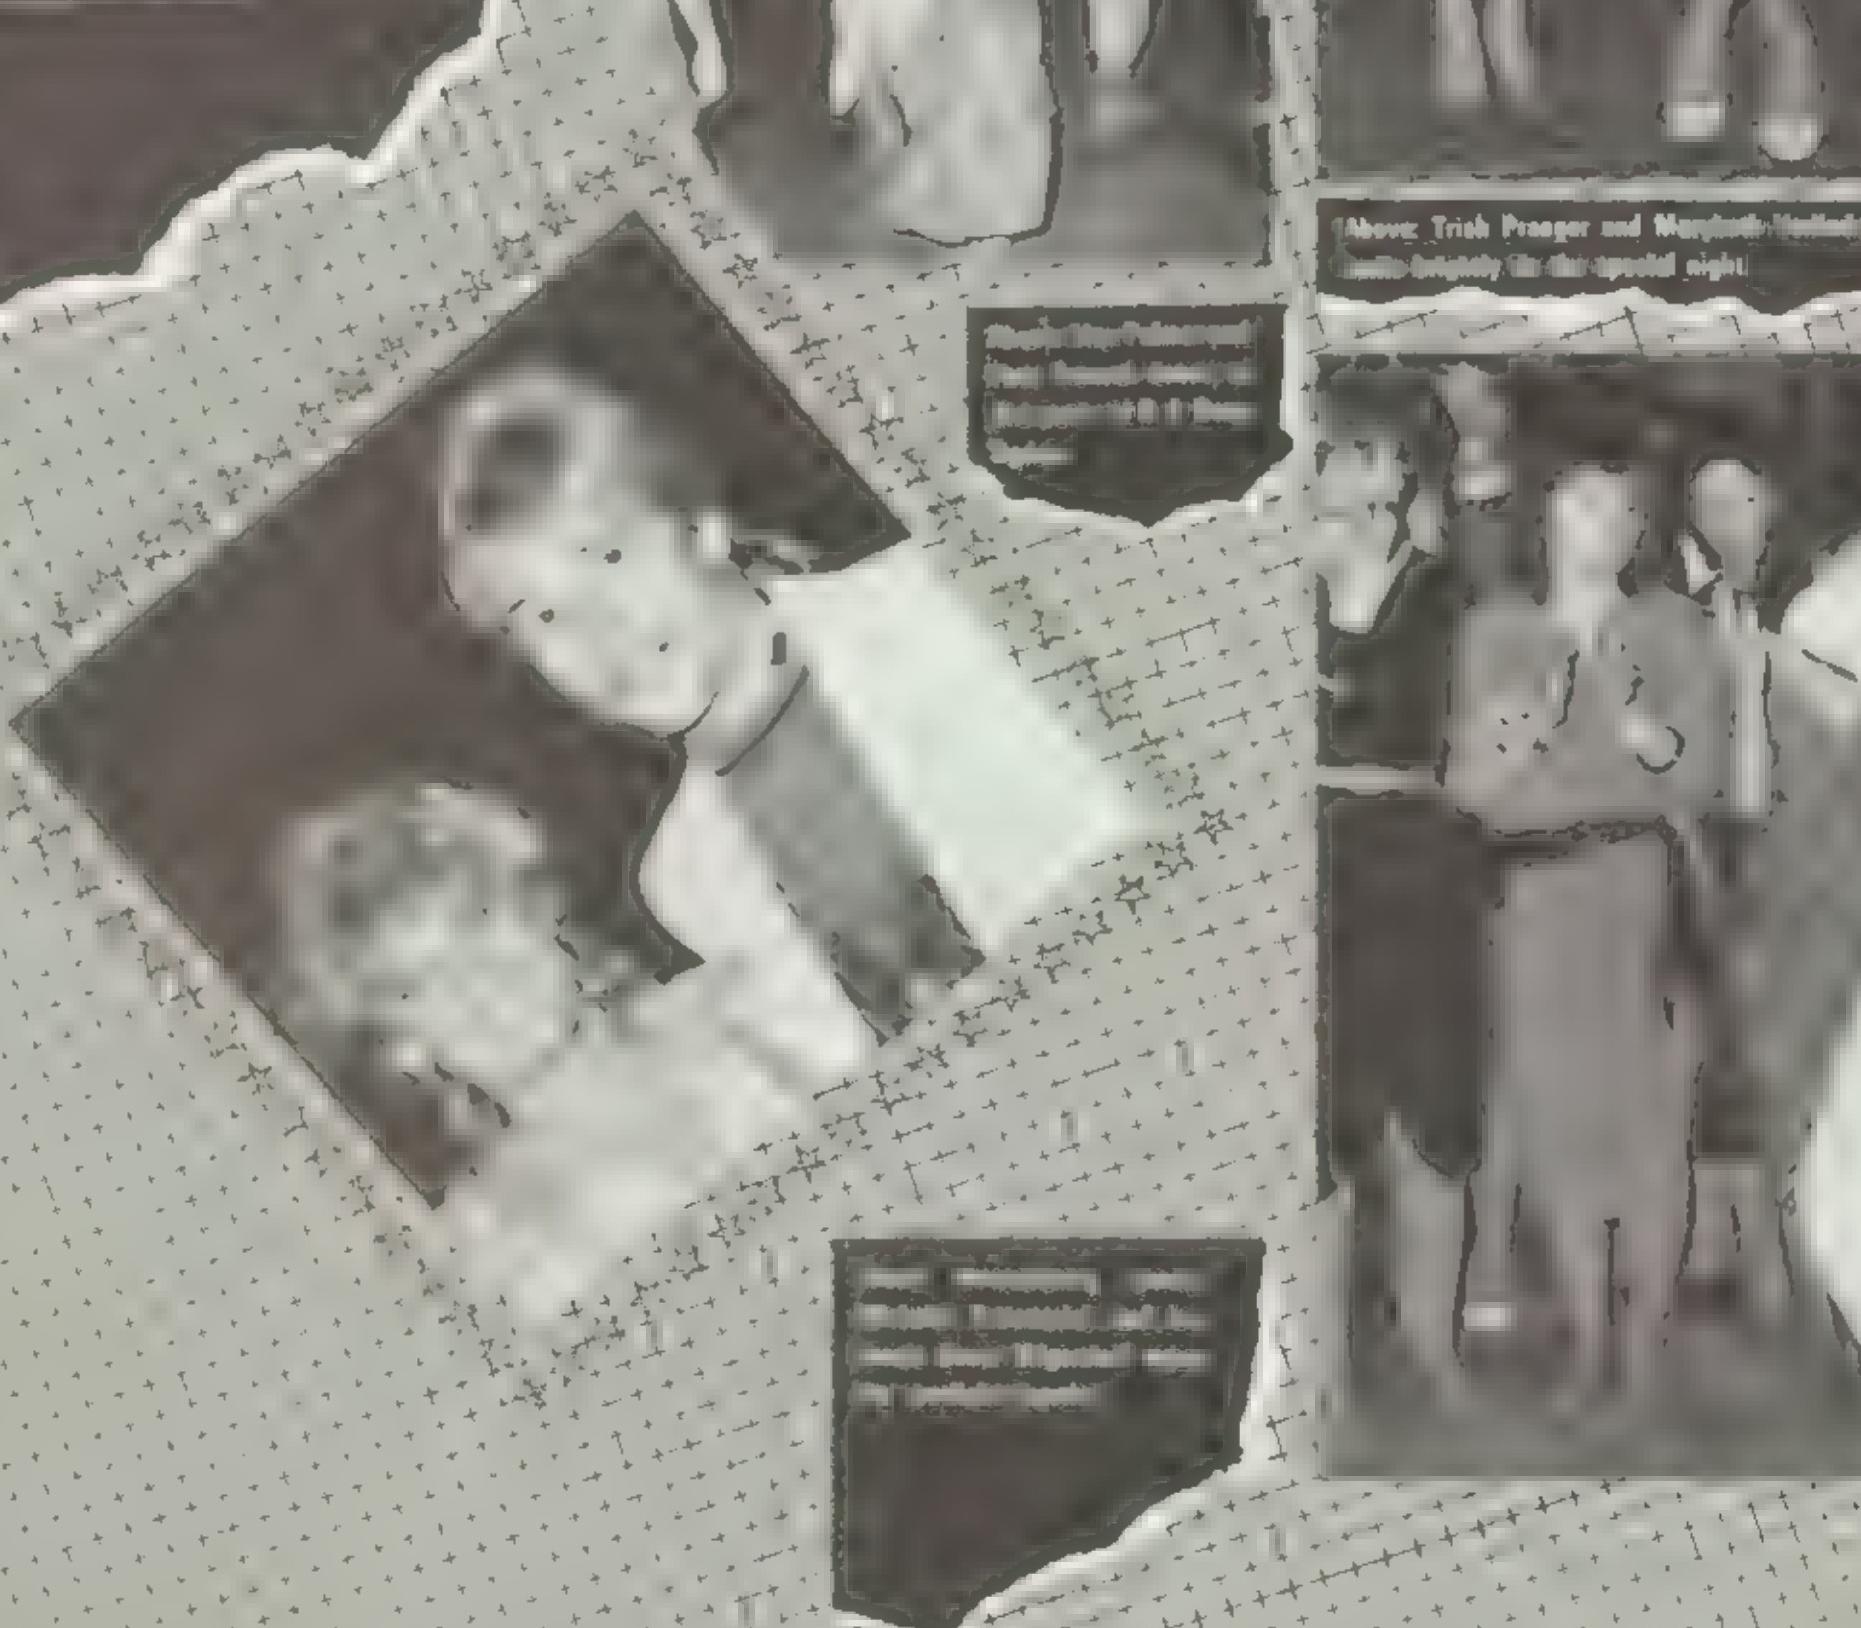

by Ben Reiter

The stage was set. The votes for the 1984 Homecoming Court had been counted and when the dust settled it was senior Michelle Tovanovic who stepped into the waiting spotlight to be crowned Homecoming Queen.

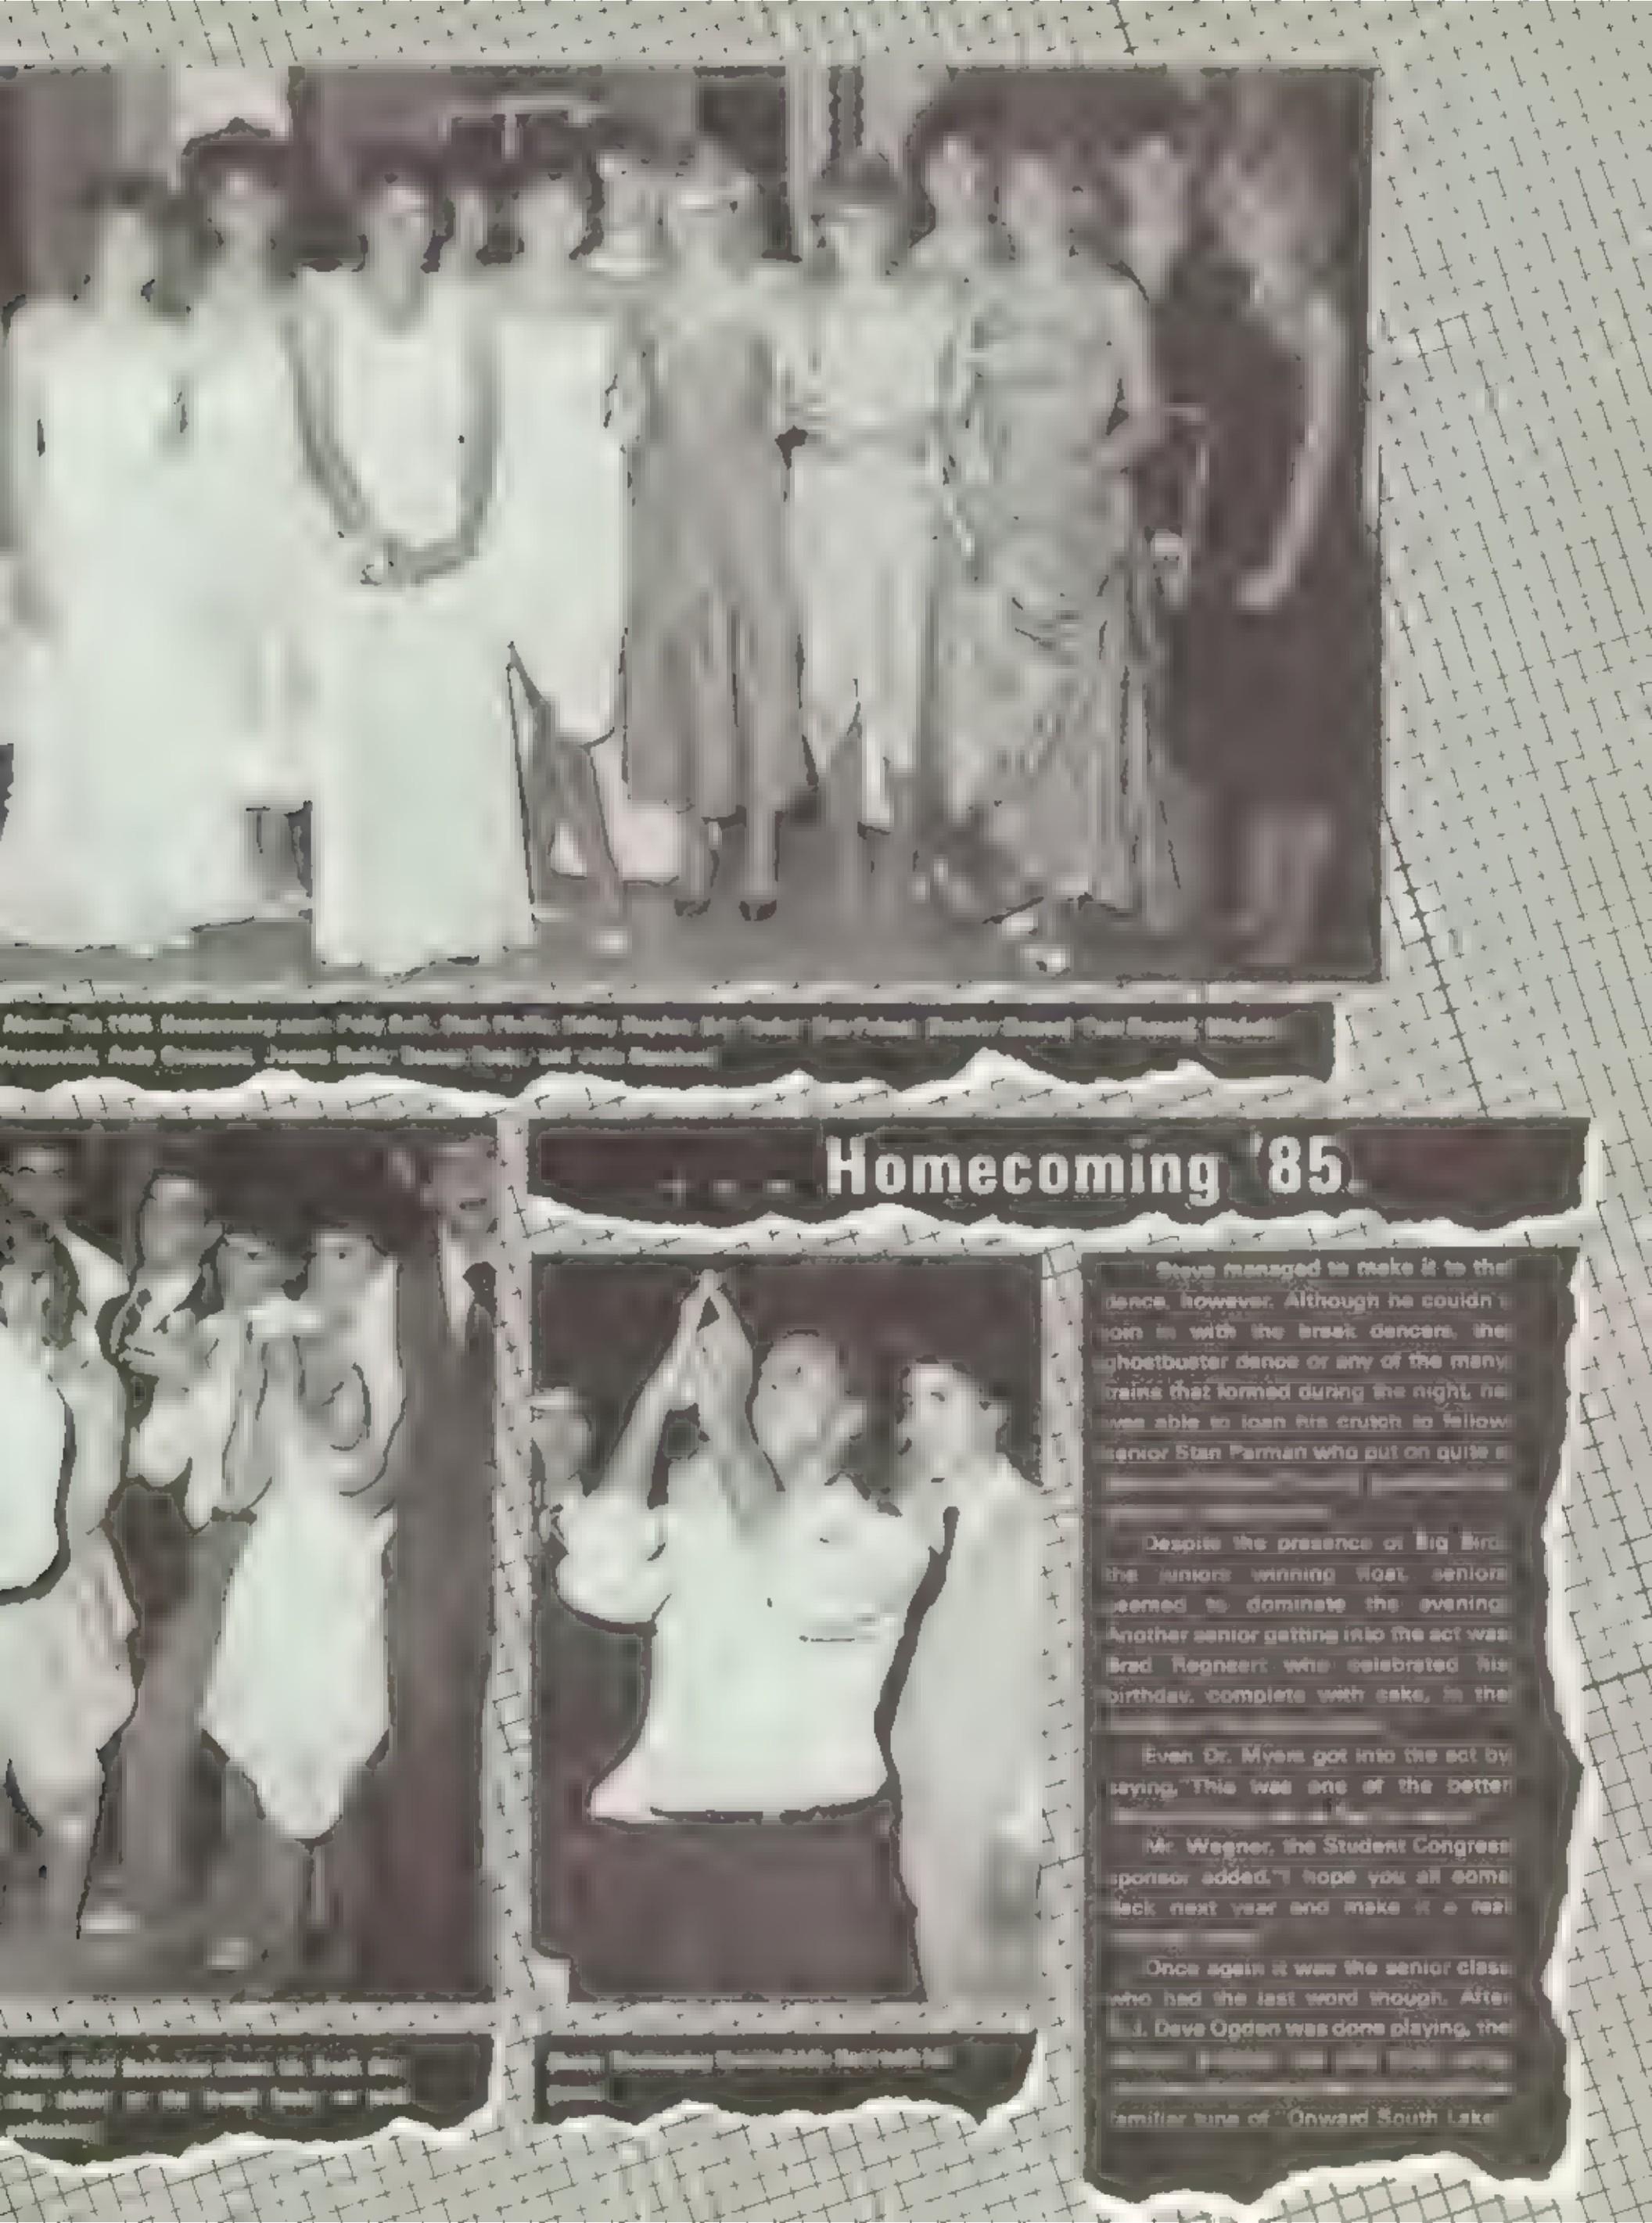

Surrounding Michelle on her big night was her supporting cast of the rest of the Homecoming Court. Kris Tucker and Heather Howard, freshmen; Julie Bouchard and Aude Cliche, sophomores; Polly Saiti and Shari Tseng, juniors, and Deanne Fooks, Joanne Rubin, Lisa Palmer, Pam Freed and Kelley Hayden, seniors.

Michelle and her escort, senior Scott Hilgendorf danced the night away in the St. Clair Shores Recreation Center just like everyone else did, but according to Michelle, "it was a night I always remember."

Another senior who may always remember his senior Homecoming is Steve Kostanko. As quarterback for the South Lake football team, Steve was one of the team's stars. Unfortunately for the team and for Steve, the Cavaliers lost to the Algonac Musketeers 13-0. The Cavs also lost Steve to a broken ankle moments before the end of the first half. Despite a fine play by Steve's understudy, senior Frank Cugia, the loss of Steve took the wind out of the

Float successes and disappointments

By Ben Myrick

As the floats went around the track, the tension mounted. A week's worth of assembling and countless hours of hard work and preparation were on the line.

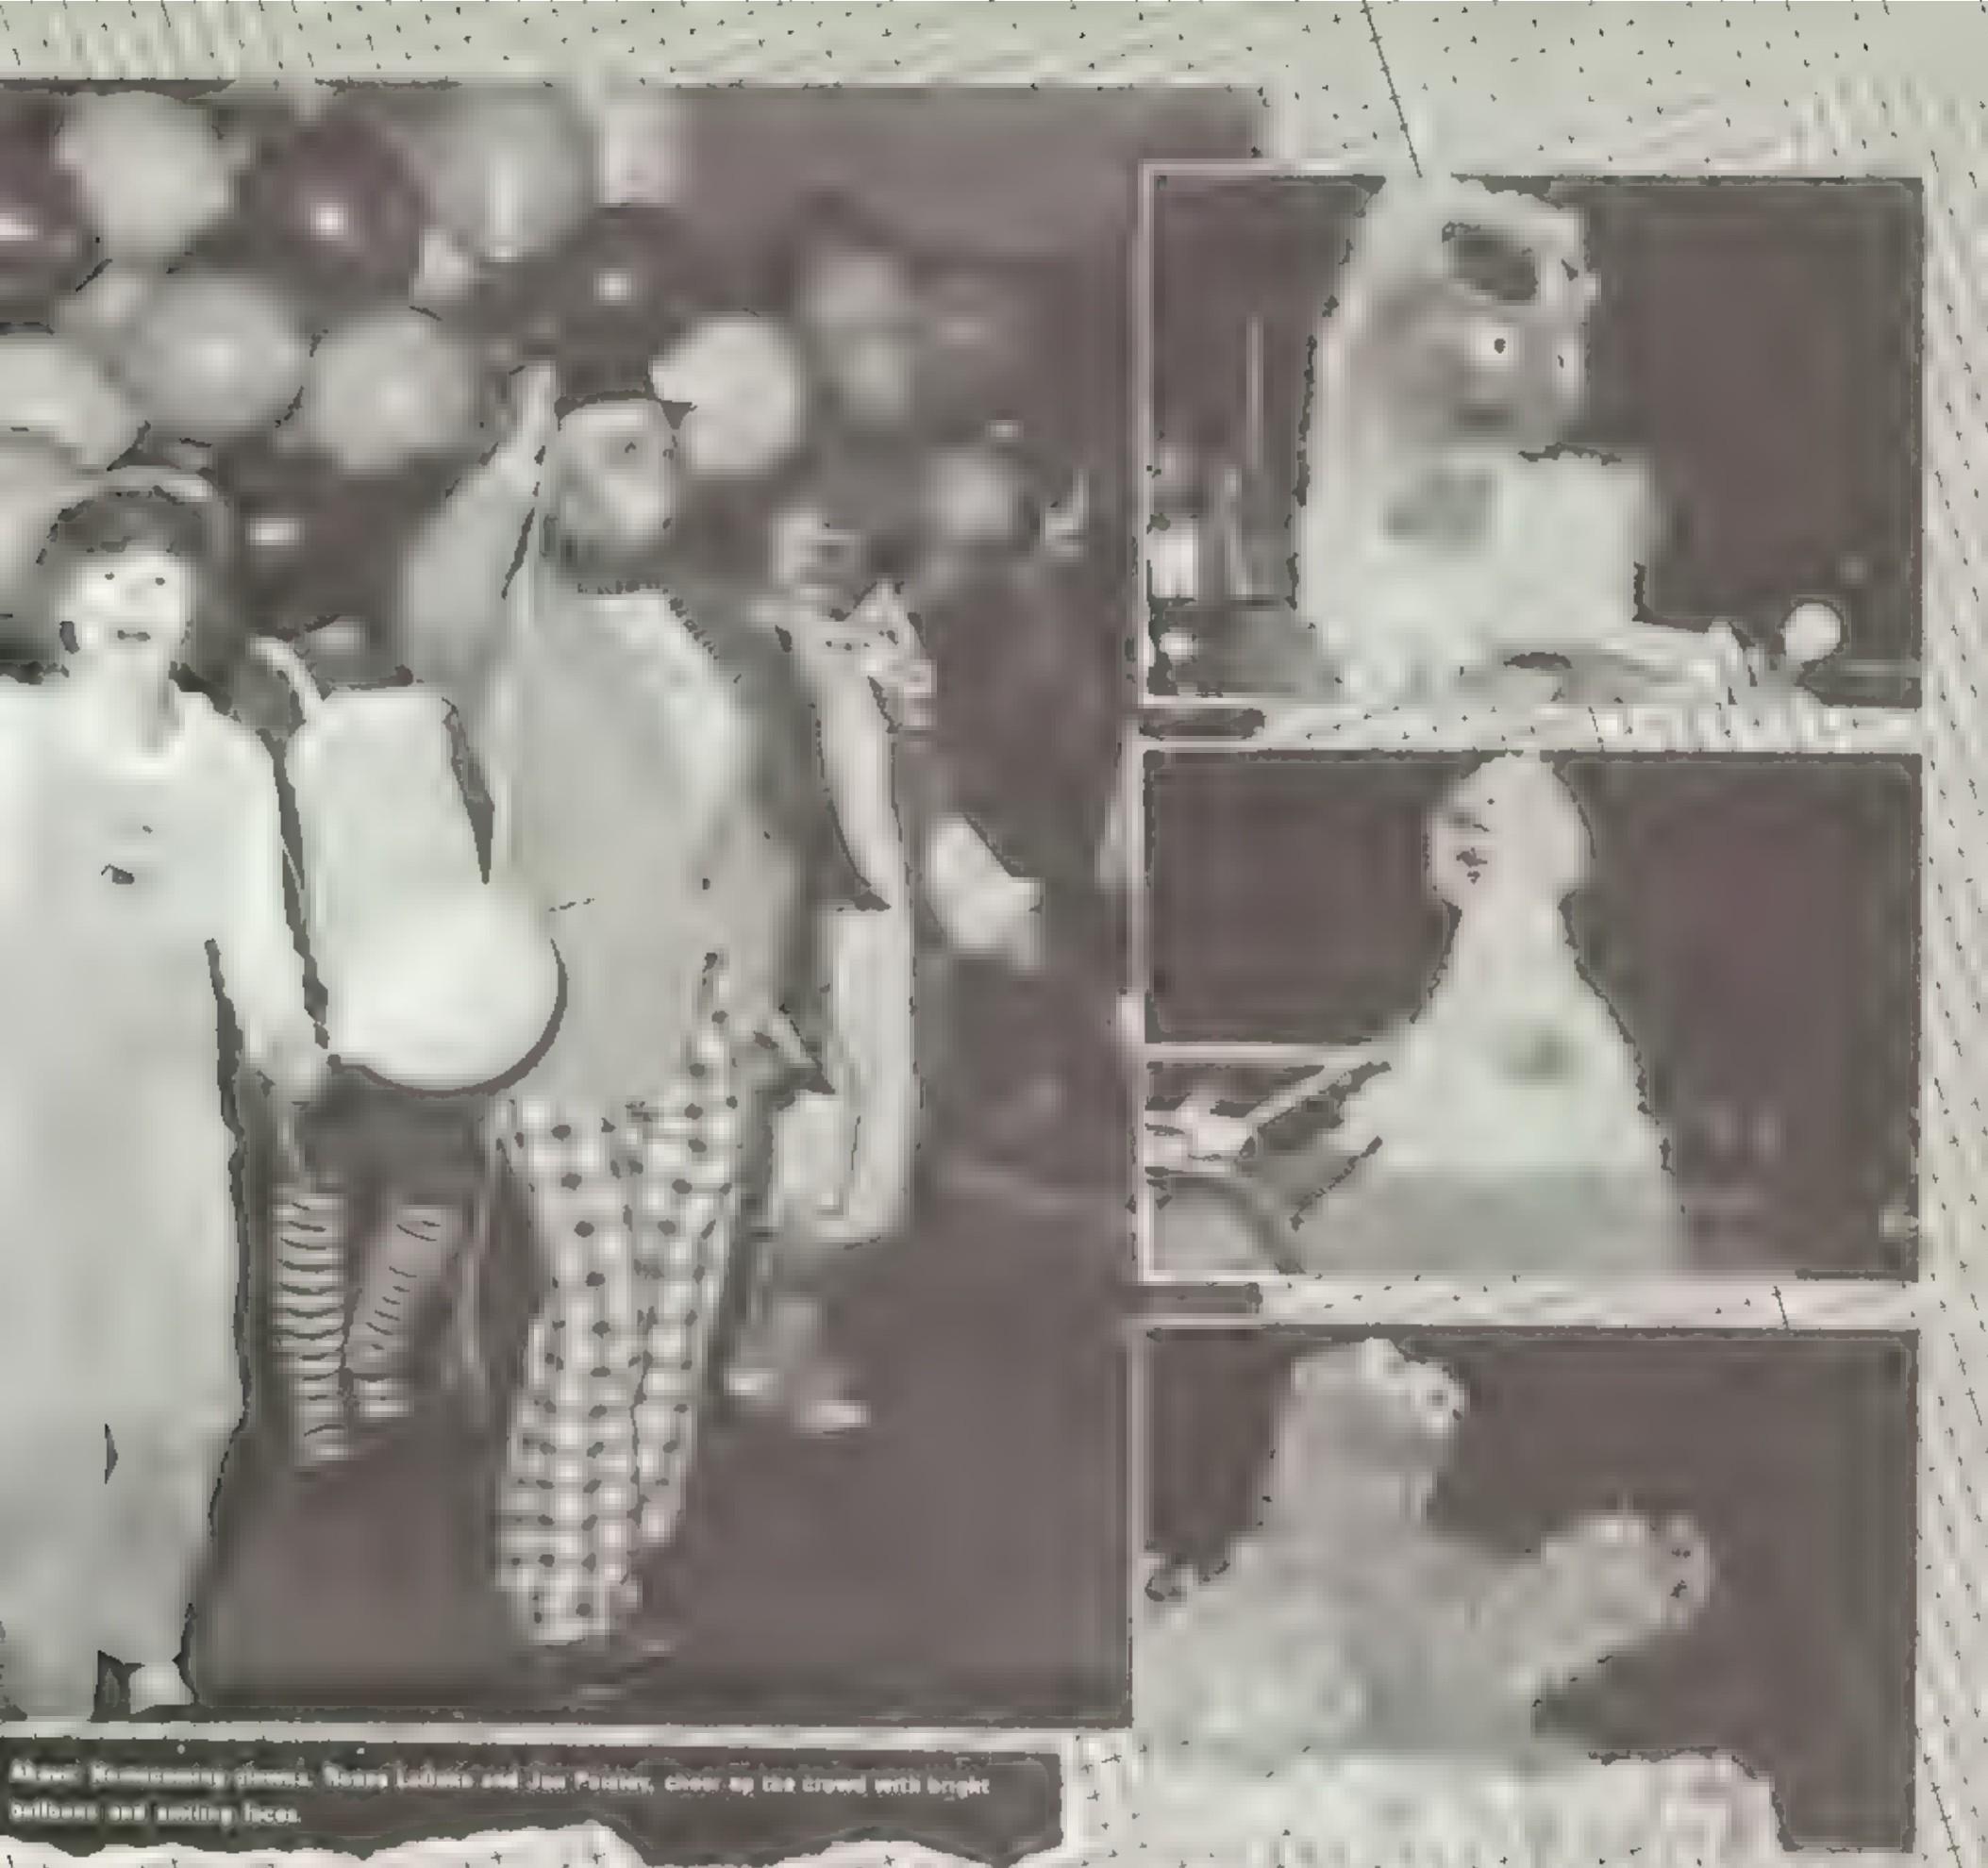

As the junior float passed in front of the press box it was announced as the winning float. There was much discussion among the students about this decision. The seniors felt that their presentation of Oscar the Grouch should have won simply because they were the seniors and the seniors always win.

The freshmen thought they did an excellent job with Kermit the Frog, but were disqualified for having lights on their float. In the end though, it was the juniors effort with Big Bird that prevailed.

Overall, the Sesame Street theme was considered a success by all four classes.

By Scott Hynes

Perhaps the strongest quality the juniors had in all the homecoming festivities was their powder-puff team. They were the easy winners in the tournament.

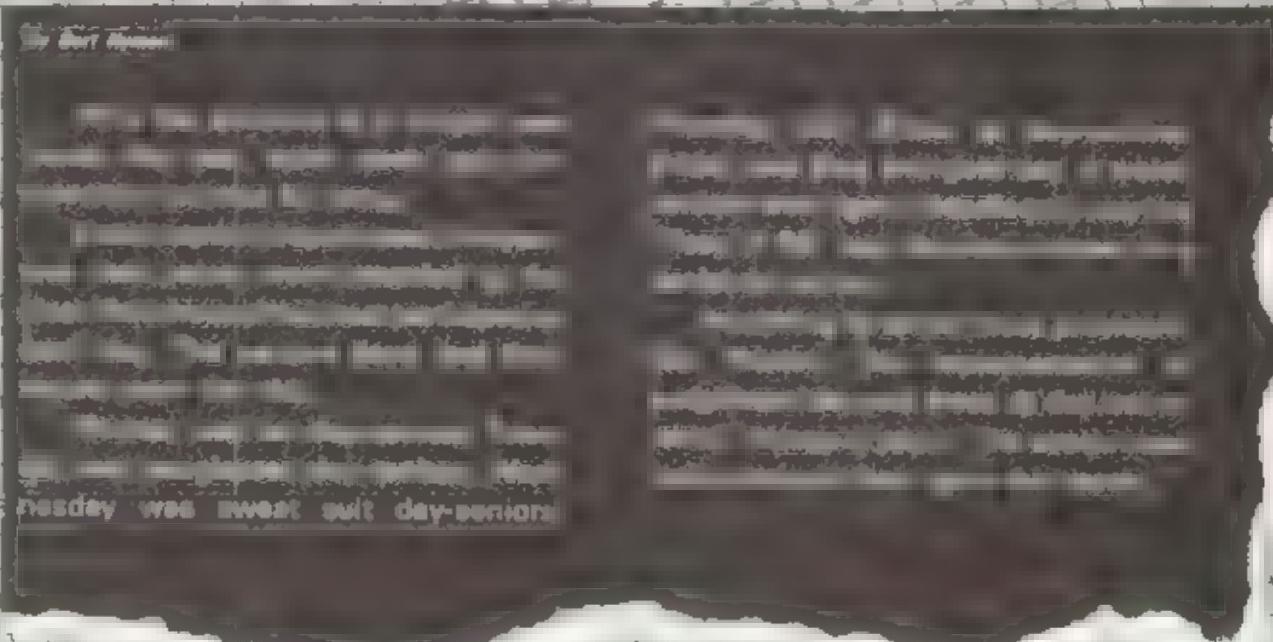

In the first game they emerged victorious in an upset victory over last years champs, this years seniors. It was a truly emotional battle as the mood could be felt in the stands. It was clear that the lack of communication on the part of the seniors led to their defeat.

In game two of the tournament the sophomores easily dominated the freshmen. So the frame was set the juniors vs. the sophomores in the championship.

The Tiger's win not only affected Detroit but South Lake students as well. "I'll never forget when Gibeon hit that home run in the eighth inning to break up their streak," Ben said. "We knew at that moment we were the World Champions."

The South Lake spirit and general celebration carried into school the next day as students cheered for and talked about the game.

Freshman Mark Polish might have summed it up best by saying, "I'll never forget that night as long as I live."

Snowball Dance

A Great Turn Out

By Danny Mello

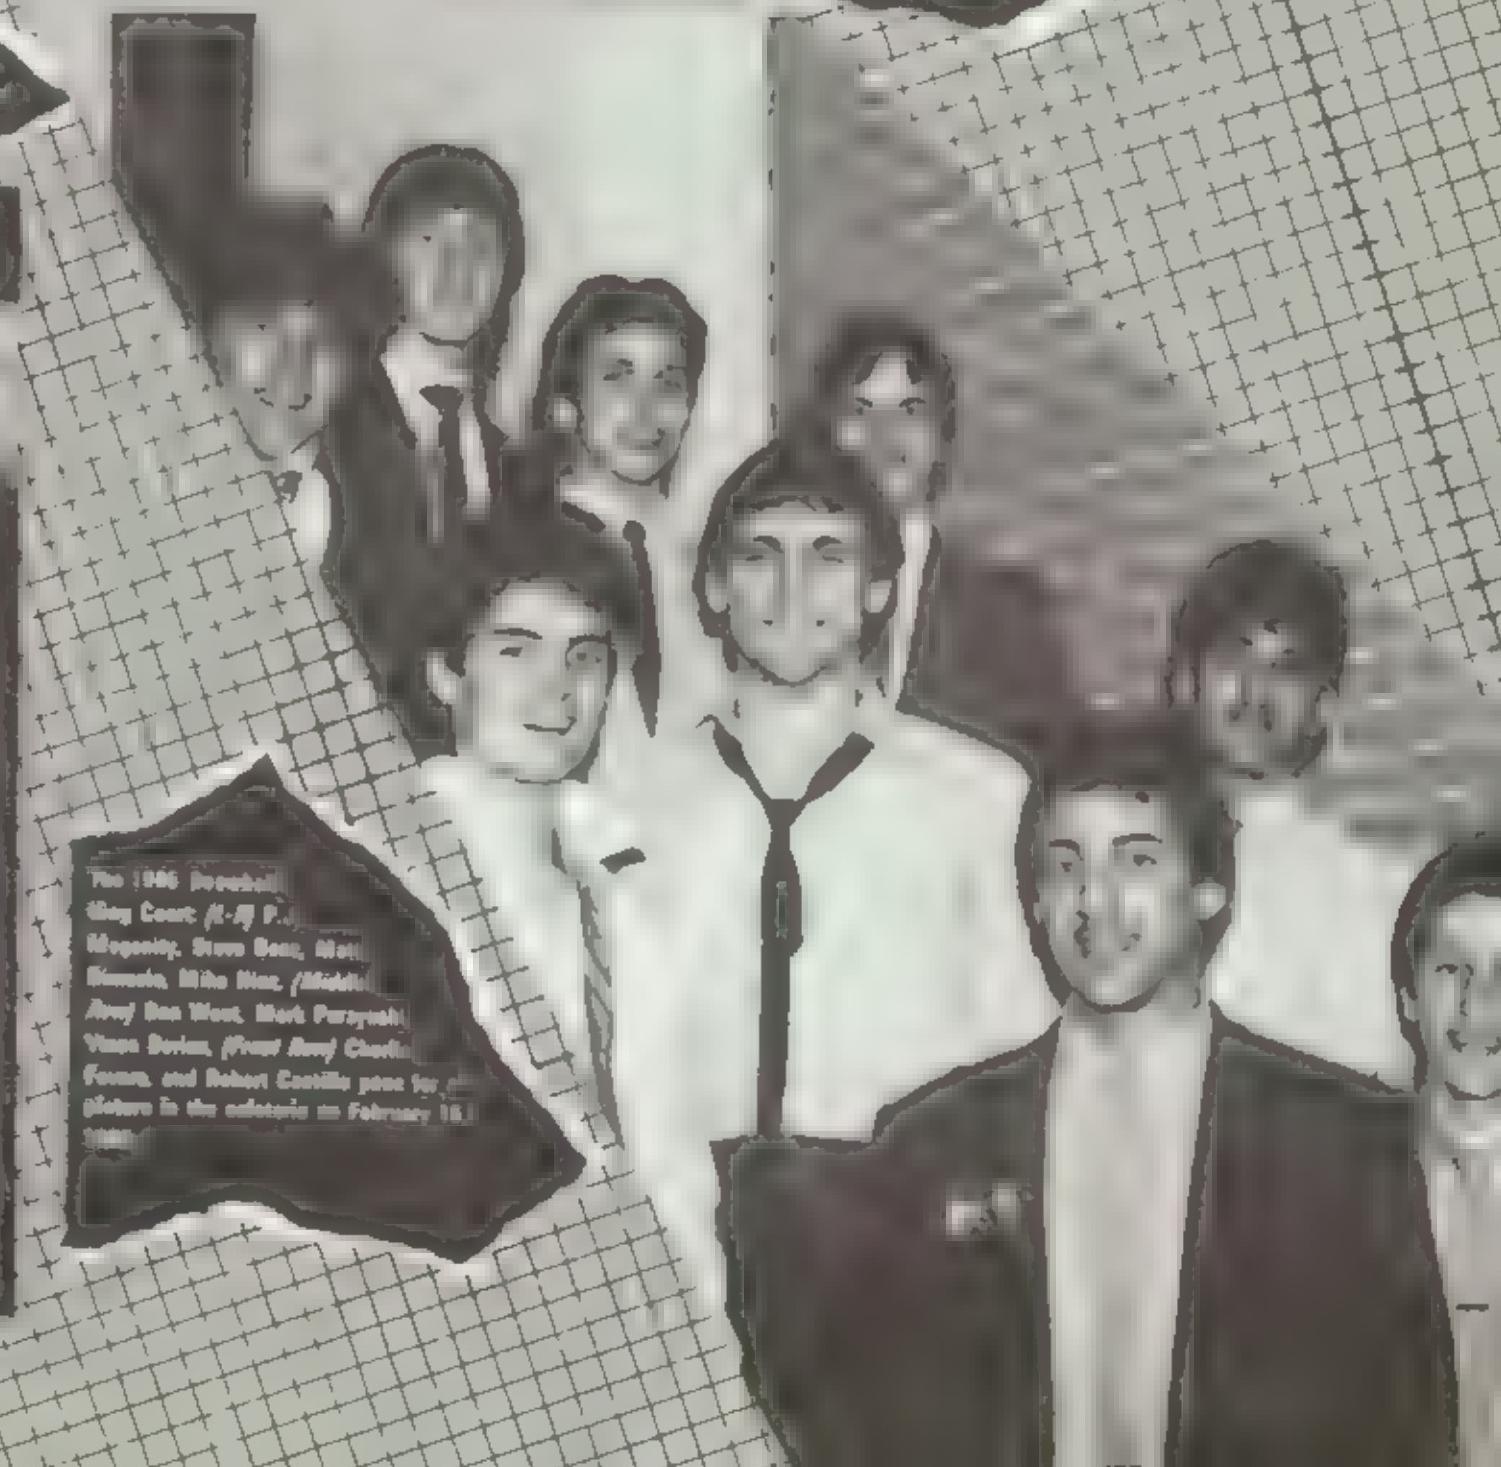

decided to sponsor a new kind of dance, instead of the traditional homecoming dance, victory dance or Valentine dance, the group sponsored a winter Snowball Dance.

The dance took place on February 15, 1985 in South Lake's cafeteria. It consisted of various decorations, free pop and chips and a king court. Two males from the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes and three from the senior class were selected. From that, one senior is voted "1985 Snowball King". This year the honor went to Dan West.

The court members included freshmen, Vince Denen, Robert Castillo; sophomores, Matt Dimuzio, Mike Haze; juniors, Charlie Favares, Steve Dena; seniors, P.J. Magenity, Mark Parzynecki and Dan West.

The Student Congress had a very good turn out on this dance. The group plans to continue this new tradition for future classes to enjoy.

Helpers at South Lake

By Andy Barnes

Everyone needs help sometimes, even South Lake. Students who work for South Lake help out more than they think. Workers such as Crie Myers type lake phone calls and just plain lend a hand to those coming to the Vocational Dept. Others like Tina Closurdo work in the English Dept., helping teachers print or make copies of assignments. Some work in the library organizing bookshelves and keeping the library in an orderly fashion. Although some of these workers get paid, the majority get credit for their assistance.

Seniors Leave Their Mark in Lauderdale

• 热带雨林植物学研究 •

During Easter vacation, many seniors decided to take a break from the South Lake scene to travel, while others enjoyed a traditional Easter dinner with the family. Those on vacation, however, laid on the sunny beaches of Florida, enjoyed a cruise to the Bahamas, and brought back a scrapbook of memories.

Fort Lauderdale, Florida, seemed to be the biggest attraction this year for most seniors. Howard Johnsons, the Sheraton, and the Biltmore Hotels were just a few of the more popular resorts among South Lake students.

The first five days in "sunny Ft Lauderdale" were just that - sunny, with temperatures in the mid-80's. Unfortunately, the last half of Easter Break was cloudy with temperatures dropping to mid-70's. While the sun was shining, students were catching some rays either on the beach or at poolside, while others enjoyed a friendly game of football or a cool dip in the Atlantic ocean. When the clouds rolled in, most of the students collected souvenirs of t-shirts, shell rings, shell necklaces, etc., on the strip or partied in their rooms. One attraction was Six Flags Atlantic, a water slide park that included a wave pool, bumper boats and a water skiing show.

Speaking some words in the French sometimes brought up their French. But French is also something that they don't.

Afternoons brought more fun with outside skating. Friends got together and tried a different "hot spot" each night. Mr. Pipe, Penrod, Playpen, Summers Shooters, City Limits, and Ho-Jo's Happy Hour were several of the hotter places. Most places advertised by giving specials on t-shirts, food and drinks. On other nights, some seniors would escape the rowdy action of the strip and relax with a quiet dinner. The more popular eating places included Pizza Schak, Riviera, MaiKai, and The Caves, where most of the students ate Easter Dinner.

The beach and shoreline of Ft. Lauderdale was a sight not worth missing. The rushing waves and warm breezes set the mood for a romantic walk.

For eight days, many students traveled to Ft. Lauderdale, Miami Beach, and the Florida Keys. Total cost per student was $10 back to Detroit.

Depression set in on some of the students, however, from the thought of returning to Michigan. Surprisingly, they arrived to find record breaking temperatures ranging from 80-85. They had brought the sunshine back with them. It was an experience never to be forgotten by the 1985 Spring Breakers.

Junior-Senior Prom

A Night to Remember

卷之三

On May 10, 1985, South Lake Juniors, seniors and their dates attended the 1985 Junior-Senior Prom at the Hillcrest Country Club.

Senior Kelley Hayden was crowned 1985 prom queen. The court members consisted of seniors: Kelley Hayden, Lisa Newsey, Merrill Klucha, Lisa Palmer, and Paesqual; & Michelle Yovenovich; and juniors: Bernie Grant, Shelli Hayden, Heidi Howard, Gina Sabia, & Tina Steinmacher.

With doors opening at 7:00 p.m. and dinner at 8:00, students arrived approximately 7:30 and stood in line for pictures. Before dancing to the music of DJ Deva Ogden, students, faculty, and administrators enjoyed a meal consisting of tossed salad, mostacioli with meat sauce, choice of roasted chicken or roast beef, broccoli with lemon sauce, parsleyed potatoes and french pastries for dessert.

The 1985 Junior-Senior Prom was filled with magic memories for graduating seniors, juniors, and the like.

Juniors: Brian Schatz, Sheri Haynes, Tina Steinweber,
Heidi Kowalewski; Seniors: Gena, Kelley Haynes, Michelle Kowalewski, Lisa Palmer, Marci Klauda, Brian Paquette, and Lisa Howard.

COMMENCEMENT

A Proud Class of '85

By Marc Pugmire

The date was June 15, 1985. The class was Ford Auditorium. A night that will be remembered in the hearts of nearly 200 seniors as one of the most important events in their lives. The time for them to graduate.

Walking across the stage after hearing ones name announced for the first time in the auditorium is a memorable part of commencement, but for a few individuals that was only part of it.

Some of South Lake's graduating seniors had the honor of playing a larger role. Debbie Brown sang the theme from "Mahogany" (Do You Know Where You're Going To). Fred Boyle led the senior class in singing the South Lake Hymn. Dan Heaton, class president, introduced Superintendent Joseph White and led the class in the turning of the tassels, and Andrea Soutiere who gave the address titled "Letting Go".

During the ceremony, the class of

'85 was congratulated by the Secretary of the Board of Education, Dale Cunningham for being respectful of school property during the closing week unlike other years.

After the hats flew and the senior received their diplomas, the ceremony was over. Everyone met on the lower level one last time. The room was filled with emotion shown by the tears of both joy and sorrow and the countless embraces of each senior.

Reagan Landslide Strengthens His Position

Reagan/Chernenko Square off

President Ronald Reagan made a landslide victory in the presidential election of November 1984 an event which saw two very important events in American political history and which preceded the appointment of a new Russian leader which occurred after that winter.

On the American scene President Reagan carried 49 states enroute to a landslide victory over Democrat Walter Mondale. America's perception of Mr. Reagan as being strong on defense and having a good track record with the Russians as well as an apparently stable economy gave the incumbent strong support from the people. This election year also had milestones for blacks and women.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson was a major factor and a top candidate for the Democratic candidacy throughout the primaries. Rev. Jackson also was an important voice during the convention. Geraldine Ferraro was selected as the running mate for Mr. Mondale and would have become America's first woman vice president had they won the election.

Tigers Take Their Turn in the Spotlight This Year

1984 was known as the year of the Tiger in the Detroit Area. Soviets of Base Ball Boys and Tuna Red in 84 swept the city as the Tigers took the American League Eastern Division Championship in what was almost a mockery. From there the Tigers made short order of the Kansas City Royals before easily defeating the San Diego Padres in the World Series.

Tiger Shortstop Alan Trammell earned himself a brand new Corvette by being the MVP of the series and earning his team on to victory. Perhaps the greatest year enjoyed by any of the Tigers was that of newcomer Willie Hernandez.

Hernandez earned himself both the Cy Young award and the MVP award for the American League. His outstanding relief pitching throughout the year for the Tigers Hernandez earned a save even time he entered a game in a save situation. He earned 32 saves in the regular season.

Detroit was very supportive of its Tigers throughout the season but in the end after the final World Series game asvered several fans rioted over and burnt several police cars sped up the field in their excitement. These all is cast a bad light on the city of Detroit as these scenes were seen worldwide through the media.

Project: Graduation Helps to Save Teenagers' Lives

It was called Project Graduation and was a nation wide campaign against drinking and driving aimed primarily at high school students on their prom and graduation nights. The campaign was a national effort, but many local groups were also involved such as local Mothers Against Drunk Drivers groups, local police departments, the Save Our Shores Students Organization as well as the South Lake Board of Education.

This nation-wide campaign did help to reduce the number of reported deaths due to drinking related incidents during the prom season and is being called a success by various concerned groups.

India-The assassination of Indian Prime Minister Indira Ghandi results in turmoil throughout the nation. Mrs. Ghandi's son who has been active in politics and was his mother's closest advisor takes over.

Bangladesh-Over 40 000 people are washed away as a cyclone hits the Asian nation. Over 100 000 people are left homeless.

New York U.S. veterans from the Vietnamese conflict are finally honored with a ticker-tape parade in New York for their service in Vietnam. Vietnam veterans also received during a televised Veteran's Day ceremony a tomb for the unknown soldier dedicated to Vietnam veterans, along with a monument inscribed with the names of every U.S. serviceman who gave his life during the war. The monument and the tomb are in Washington D.C.

Pop Artists Sing, "We are the World":

These were the words that swept the charts in '85. Over 40 top American recording artists banded together to create an album and a video to help raise money for those starving in Africa.

Some of the money also stayed at home and went to work for the poor and hungry here in the States.

Among some of the top names which banded together to create this extravaganza were Michael Jackson, Bob Dylan, Stevie Wonder, Tina Turner, Bruce Springsteen, Steve Perry, Willie Nelson, Ray Charles, Cyndi Lauper, Dionne Warwick, Lionel Richie, Kenny Rogers, Diana Ross, Daryl Hall, Kim Carnes, Huey Lewis, John Oates, Randy Jackson, LaToya Jackson, Quincy Jones, Kenny Loggins, Smokey Robinson and many more. The album raised millions of dollars and helped ease hunger in Ethiopia and in the U.S.

Square Dancing

Critic's Choice for Fun

By Dan Henton

Bow to your partner, bow to your neighbor. Dosey doe. Promenade left.

No, these are not the strains of a yearbook writer's mind gone haywire. No, these are strains of music wafting down the halls during any hour of a sophomore gym class.

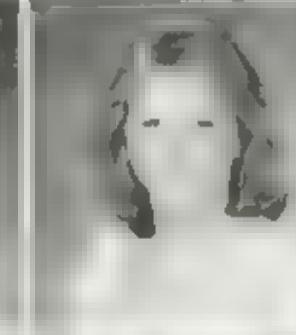

According to Mr. Richard Thompson, Phys. Ed. department chairperson, square dancing has been a part of the curriculum for sophomores for over ten years.

"It's something everyone should know a little about," added Mr. Thompson.

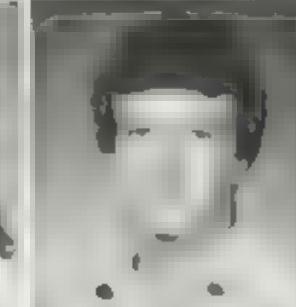

Although most sophomores won't admit to enjoying square dancing, it's something many older students can laugh about.

"We messed around and had a lot of fun doing all that dosey doe stuff," said former sophomore Mark Rogers.

President

Michalik Given Leading Role

By Dan Heaton

For the past two years the class of '87 has had the steady hand of Laurie Michalik at the helm.

Laurie's responsibilities include organizing fund raisers, such as flower sales and dances, taking care of the homecoming float and being a part of the Student Congress organization.

In addition to her presidential duties, Laurie is a member of the girl's swim team.

"Being class president gives me a chance to work with and get to know people that I might not otherwise come in contact with," Laurie said.

Secretary

Holwey to make 87 a star

The most spirited member of the sophomore class is its secretary, Michelle Holwey.

Michelle's spirit for making her class number one is astounding and she has vitality to uproot the true feelings of the sophomores.

It's time for more pep rallies, spirit weeks and other events to make South Lake a place we can be proud of. It's called 'Cavalier Spirit'--catch it!

Treasurer

Stidham directs class

A treasurer holds one of the most important positions of a class officer by keeping track of the class' funds that keep it on its feet. For sophomores Kristi Stidham does a superb job of it.

She's very reliable and organized. She's doing a great job," said representative Elena Peschiutta.

Representative

Representative involved

Elena Peschiutta, one of '87's class representatives, proves to be one of the busiest of the officers.

Elena keeps herself very busy by attending Student Congress meetings and being involved in many clubs.

Stated Elena, "I love being a class officer. It's good to be involved in school activities. It keeps you busy."

Sophomores Steal The Spotlight of Achievement

By Marvin Lee

There are a vast amount of outstanding achievers at South Lake High and the sophomore class contains many of those special people who deserve a little recognition.

Many students of the class of '87 have maintained all A grades all year and do they ever keep themselves busy. Some of their many activities include NHS, church functions, sports, and many of the school's available clubs and organizations. It's not as easy as other people might think to keep your grades up and be so busy. Most students say that it's very difficult but it's worth it.

The sophomore class officers also deserve a round of applause for representing the class and trying to make it the best that South Lake has ever had.

Other great achievers were the sophomore guys on the J.V. basketball team. They played excellent this year and their winning streak went to 11 wins in a row.

Hats off to these and many other rewardable achievers of the class of '87.

STUNNING

PERFORMANCES

The Coaches.....

The hope that any of these athletes would find their day in the spotlight may in large part be determined by the coaches, the dedicated few who stand at the sidelines, but whose hearts are in the action.

Some of South Lake's coaching staff are teachers, but many are community members who have an interest and/or the ability in a given sport.

The 1984-1985 South Lake coaching staff saw high honors come to one of their own this year as tennis coach John Burke won the 'Michigan Tennis Coach of the Year Award.'

That many of this year's athletic programs improved this year is due largely to the hard work of these few.

Defeat in the 'Dome'

By Bert Hyman

For the third year in a row the Cavalier gridders were defeated in the annual Pontiac Silverdome appearance. This year the Lakeview Huskies were the culprit, with the score being 31-6.

The Huskies completely dominated the first half and went into the locker room with an 18-0 lead.

The Cavaliers, however, were not to be underestimated. They came out of the locker room and began the second half with a roar. They climaxed a well sustained drive with a one yard touchdown run by Brad Regnaert the first time they had possession of the ball.

The Huskies denied a comeback though, and stymied the Cavalier offense the rest of the way.

South Lake has had poor luck in the dome, but Head Coach Nick Tumberella is "looking forward to next season."

Senior Jim Hughes gets walked off the field by Mike Edison and Dr. Joseph after being injured in the homecoming game against Algonac.

Injuries Plague Team

By Dan Heaton

P.M.A., Positive Mental Attitude, that's what Nick Tumberello, South Lake's rookie head coach, preached to his football team this year. As far as the win/loss record, the Cav's season was not as promising as anticipated. However, the players were looking forward to next year optimistically.

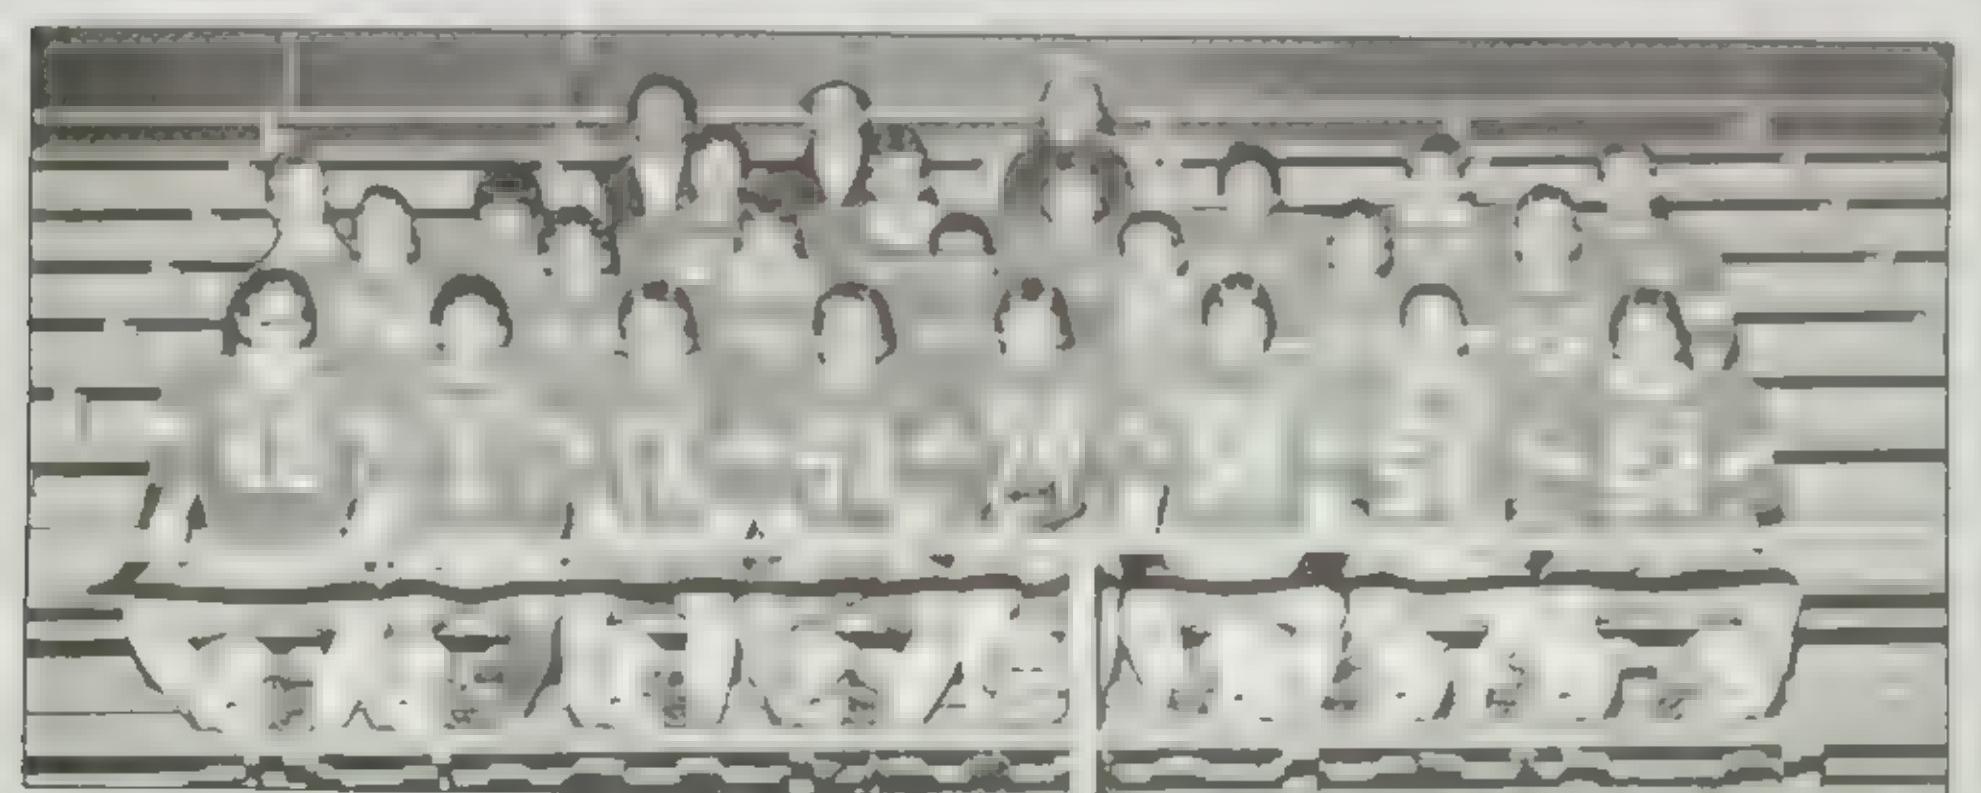

Sophomore Joe Steiss, known as the Boy Quarterback to his teammates, took over the quarterback position for the team after senior Steve Kostenko went down with injuries.

"You hate to have injuries like that, but what happened to Kostenko and junior Paul Pillars (who suffered a knee injury) often happens during a football season. The loss of these two players hurt us," said Coach Tumberello.

Team Captain Brad Regnaert was disappointed at the lack of a winning record but added "We all played hard every game, every play. That's something only the players realize, but we're all proud of the fact that we weren't quitters."

Team Lacks Experience

By Fred Hyman

Under the direction of second year coach Henry Bowman, the 1984 junior varsity football team was forced to play with a primarily freshmen team. The team managed only one victory all season, a 12-6 upset over L'Anse Creuse.

According to Bowman, his team was simply out powered in just about every game.

"You've got to figure that our freshmen were going up against sophomores and juniors who just blew us away."

The reason for lack of sophomore players is the fact that several were talented enough to compete on the varsity level. Bowman added that his players were literally beaten up most every game.

"Overall," said Athletic Director Donald Frederick, "the football program as a whole was quite successful this year."

Frederick also indicated that the freshmen will be tough after the experience of being beaten up and the sophomores will have varsity experience.

"What you're looking at," said Bowman, "is a good, sound varsity football team in two years."

The J.V. team was definitely successful, as its main job is to prepare athletics for varsity ball.

While the successfullness of the cheerleaders cannot be measured by any win/loss record, the cheerleaders had a successful and enjoyable season.

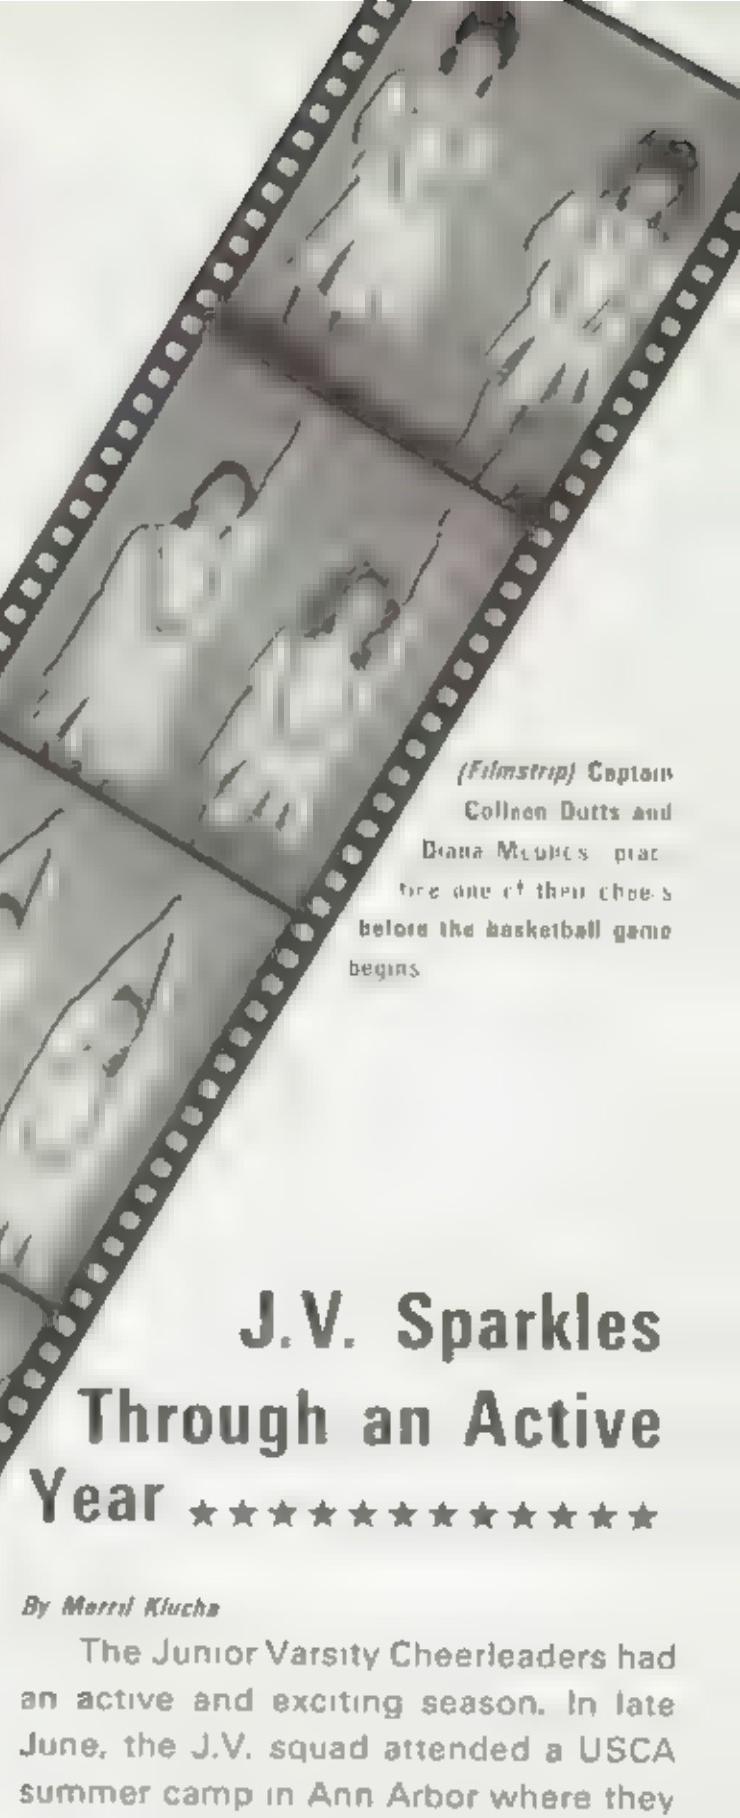

They attended regional competition on February 18, 1985, at Rochester High School and by percentages qualified for State Competition. On Saturday, February 23, 1985, they appeared at Alma College. The cheerleaders made the top 20 percent in the State.

For the first time, the cheerleaders performed a dance routine composed by Melody Anderson on February 16, 1985, to Ollie and Jerry's "There's No Stoppin' Us".

J.V. Sparkles Through an Active Year ★★★★★★★★★★

By Morris Klucha

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders had an active and exciting season. In late June, the J.V. squad attended a USCA summer camp in Ann Arbor where they were taught many new and different cheers and routines. The squad captains include Colleen Dutts, Jackie Gianino, and Ken Lees as co-captain.

Along with Varsity, on October 7, 1984, J.V. attended a one-day clinic sponsored by the head coach of the Michigan State University Cheerleaders.

The J.V. practices 4-6 hours per week. On January 26, 1985, competition at the Pontiac Silverdome arose.

"Even though the squad did not place, they performed their cheers very well," said sponsor Terry Nelson.

Varsity Has Success

By Dan Heaton

The game's called basketball. Most every school has a team, and South Lake's no different.

Throughout the winter, conversation revolves around the up-coming game or the excitement of the last game.

This years 1984-85 Cavaliers had what Coach Fred Schultz termed a successful season, by winning over 10 games.

Shining brightly for the Cavs this year was Mike Moroney, who led the team in scoring and in rebounding. Moroney was selected by Schultz as Most Valuable Player and was named to several post season awards including the All Bi-County team.

Sharing the spotlight was Jeff Laade, a senior who also earned All Bi-County honorable mention. Laade was awarded the Most Improved Player award from Schultz who called Laade "a true player."

Schultz emphasized that this years team played as just that, a team.

"We had fun," senior Rob Boyle said, "but it was disappointing that we didn't win more games than we did."

Jeff Laade looks on as Mike Moroney shoots for two points as the Cavaliers go on to lose by one point to Marine City.

Pilarski Performs Magic: 17 Wins Sets Record

By Dan Heaton

Coach Kevin Pilarski worked his magic and came up with his 17-3 junior varsity basketball team.

Starring for Pilarski, an alumnus at South Lake, were sophomores Mike Vogt, Derek LaFevre and Marco Maniaci. The team started out by winning 11 games straight off the bat, and for a while it looked as though no one could touch them. The Norsemen of Grosse Pointe North, however, caught up to them and handed them their first defeat. They wouldn't let anything stand in their way and kept right on rolling, finally building up to their 17-3 record.

"Every team Pilarski has ever coached has been a winner," Athletic Director Don Frederick said.

Freshmen Settle for Average Year

By Dan Heaton

The 1984-85 freshmen basketball team sported a 10-9 record and was led by first year coach Ted Kozak.

Paul Thomas stretches for a lay-up during the game against Clintondale.

This is the second consecutive year that the team has won ten games which points toward a successful varsity record according to Athletic Director Don Frederick.

"We're building a solid program here at South Lake," Kozak said.

The team's season ended with a heartbreaking loss to highly respected Bishop Gallagher team.

"Coming into high school and being involved in a team the first year is very exciting," freshman Duane Harris said.

In the Spotlight...

By Dan Heaton

Coach Joe Cieslak came up with a winning combination this year as his Lady Cavaliers chalked up a season at 12 wins and 8 losses.

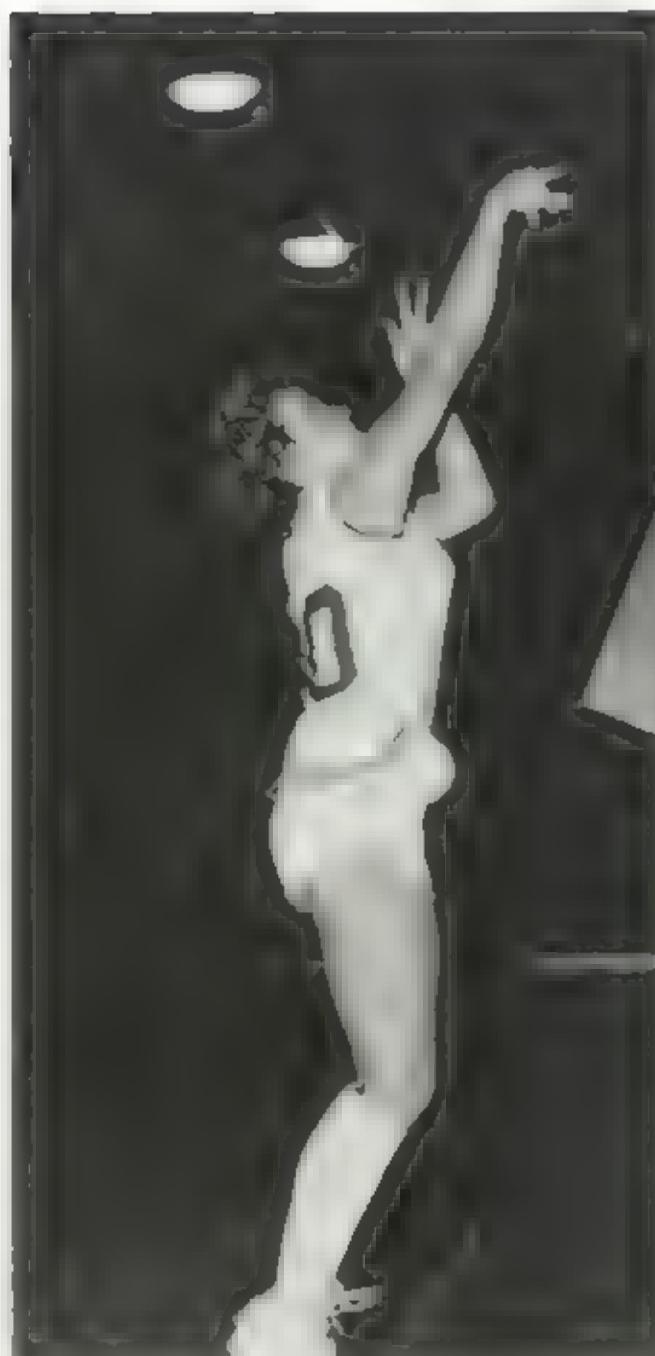

Standing in the spotlight for Cieslak this year were a trio of seniors: Michelle Moroney, Lori Sachman, and Nancy Nowak.

The girls did a great job this year, Cieslak said. "They started out slow but finished fast."

Moroney led the team in points this year and was instrumental in the success of the team, according to Cieslak.

But let's not forget," he added quickly, "this is a team sport. Every player shares the credit for each victory."

Most valuable player for the team is Michele Moroney, and most improved is Jenny Beeckman.

Girls J.V. Basketball

The Trick is Team Work

By Dan Heaton

The girls basketball program is strong from top to bottom. Both teams posted winning records and Kevin Pilarski's J.V. squad had a 10 / 9 mark.

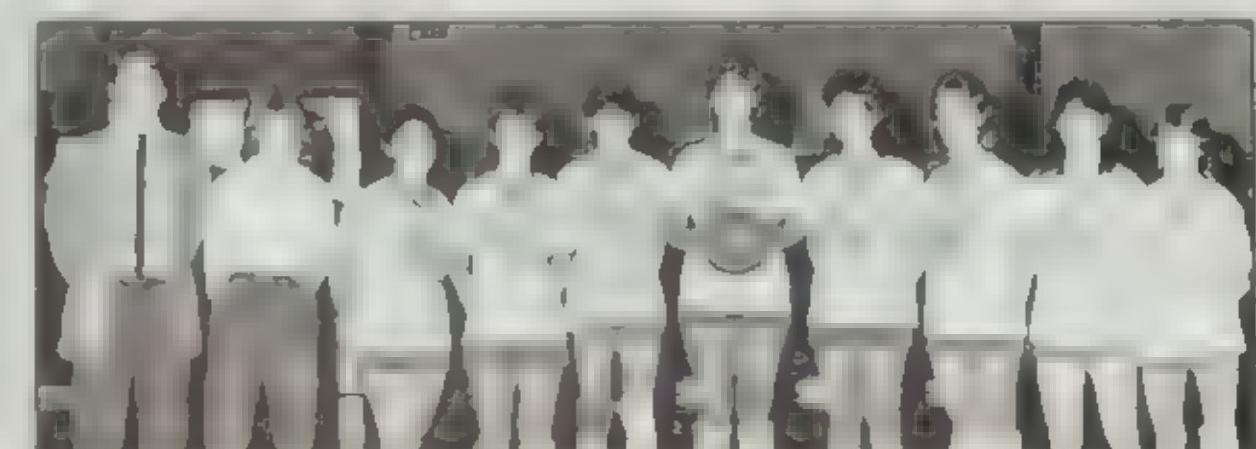

The team ran into a bumpy road toward the end of the season after starting out strong. Tough plays and smart players prevailed for the Cavs though, according to Pilarski.

"They played together as a team and that was the trick which made us a winning team," Pilarski said. "South Lake should have a decent girls team for the next couple of years if these girls continue to improve the way they have."

Burke Receives 'Coach of the Year' Award

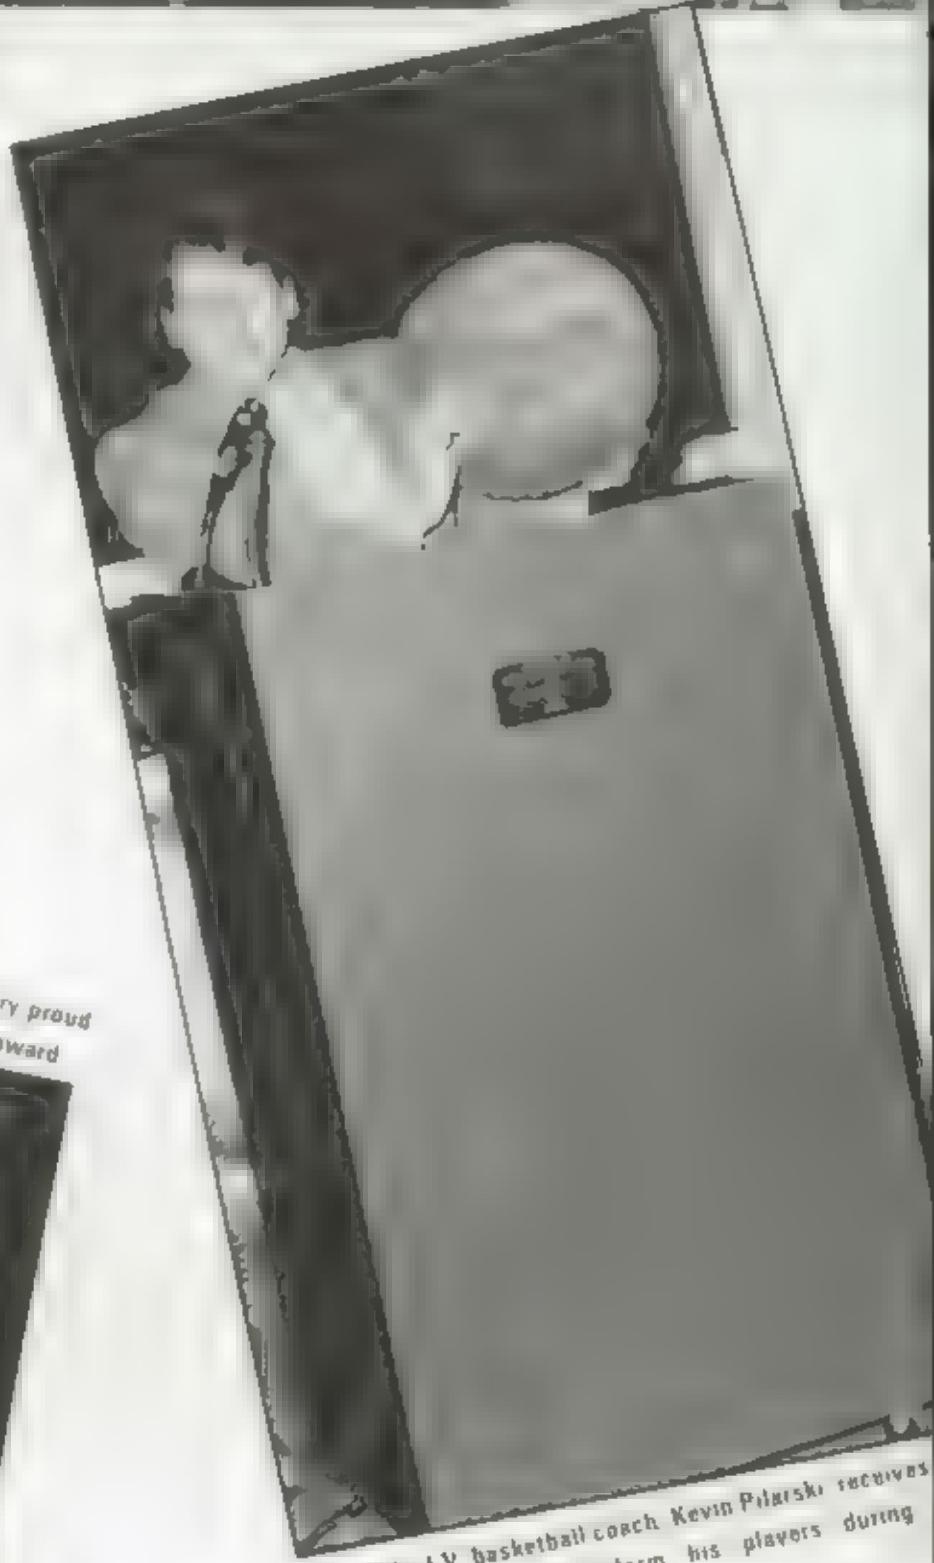

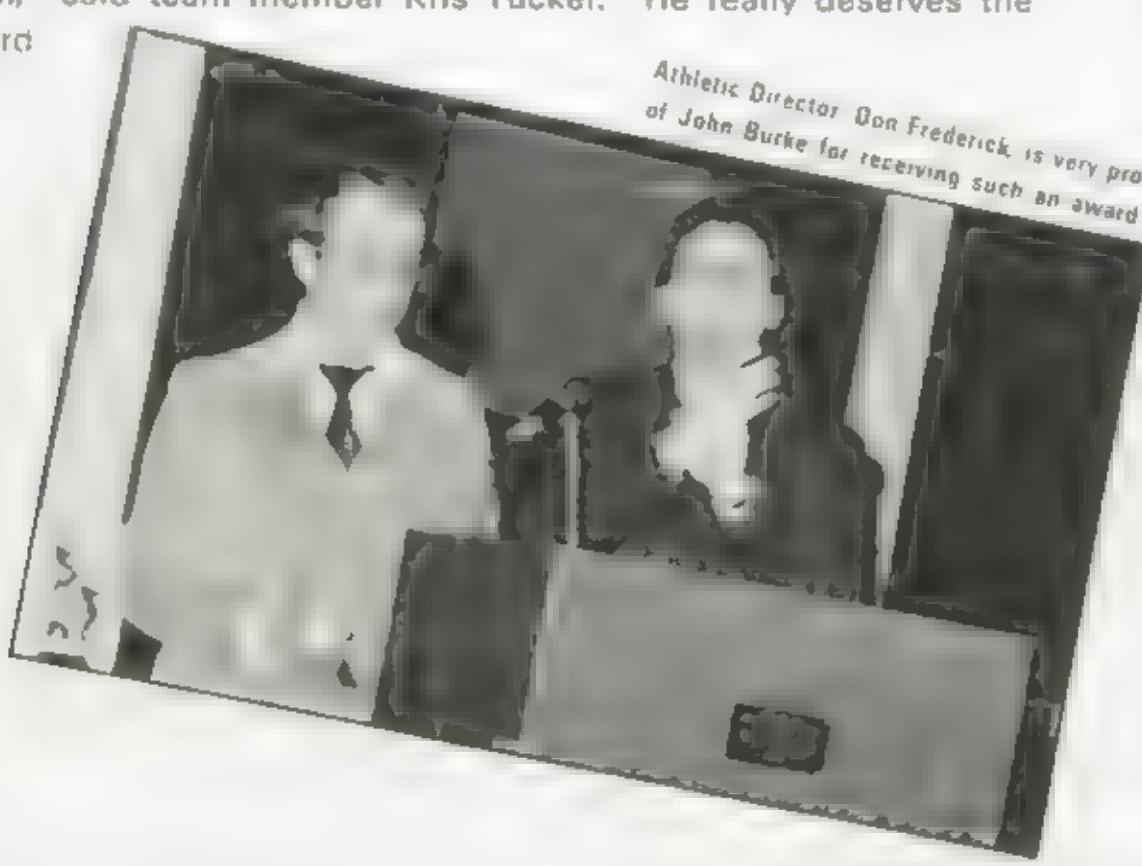

By Dan Heaton

Mr. John Burke, South Lake counselor, was honored this year for his extra-hour duties as a tennis coach.

Burke was named the "tennis coach of the year" by the Michigan High School Athletic Association. After many years of leading his team to successful seasons, he was accredited the honor that "he deserved" according to Athletic Director Don Frederick.

"He is a good coach and takes extra time to help everyone on the team," said team member Kris Tucker. "He really deserves the award."

Athletic Director Don Frederick is very proud of John Burke for receiving such an award.

Cavalettes Recruit Male Pom-Pons

By Merrill Klucha

This year, the Cavalettes had a very enjoyable season. Some of the activities throughout the year included summer camp at Oakland University, car washes during the fall, performance during the homecoming parade, performance with the band during the last home football game, regular routines during half time of basketball games, a specialty routine performed with three male seniors (Dan Heaton, Mark Parzynski, and Brad Regnaert) in sweat suits using folding chairs and an annual kick-a-thon.

I feel that the Cavalette squad was very successful this year even though we only attended one competition. We had a great time just performing our own routines said captain Tina Closurdo.

Team Trudges On

By Bert Hyman

The few dedicated athletes that comprised the cross country team this year were quite lucky that the team even existed. Due to the enormous lack of interest at the start of the year there were many rumors of dropping the team. After about one week of non-stop recruiting, finally enough people joined.

The predominantly freshmen team had only one junior. The few young members who stuck with it the whole season, went without winning a single meet. Head coach Paul Falardeau, blamed the poor season on the lack of experience on the part of his team. He also indicated that the season may not have been a total loss as the individual runners were able to gain experience.

Falardeau also added that the freshmen on the team have indicated interest in returning next year. Chances for his plan to be successful are exceptional.

Track Members Focus on Team Spirit

By Joy Rupinski

Although the boys' and girls' track team ended the season with only three wins a piece under their belts, they achieved many personal records and wins through their hard work and dedication.

The season started out with many students joining the team, but only a handful of dedicated athletes hung on. Many were second, third, and fourth year members and a few new faces.

Since there was such a shortage of athletes as in the past years, the runners had to compete in several different events. Many of these events were ran close together, thus putting added pressure on the athletes.

The two teams worked well together at practice and, most importantly, at the meets. Every runner was cheered on and encouraged during their race by fellow teammates. This type of spirit remained strong throughout the year.

Many of this year's runners received third, fourth, fifth, and sixth place ribbons at the bi-county meet. The two highest achievers on the team were Michele Moroney and Brad Regnaert. Michele received two medals for shot put and discus while Brad earned two medals in the hurdles.

Faster is Better

By Dan Heaton

1984 was a big year for the girls swim team. After posting an 8 / 2 / 1 record and taking a second place in the league meet, South Lake was just starting.

Many of the lady tankers were just too good for local competition and qualified for the state meet at Eastern Michigan University. Qualifying for the state meet were Laune Forrester, Dee Purdy, who qualified in two events, Tracy Cunningham, two events, Julie Michalik, three events and Kim Juergens, three events.

We worked hard this year, and our record shows it. Our reason for success was that we swam fast, that's all there was to it, team captain Marnie Cunningham said.

Boys Swim Team Sees Return of Former Coach

The 1984-85 Boys Swim Team saw the return of South Lake alumnus Bruce Pitters to the coaching position who viewed this year as "the year to plant the seed to build a strong team."

That seed included working hard on starting good swimming habits and basic skills among the underclassmen on the team.

The win/loss record showed the teams season was not outstanding but most team members were pleased with their individual progress.

Most Valuable Swimmer for the Cavs this season was junior Dan Wehby who primarily swam the 50 meter freestyle and 100 meter butterfly.

Most Improved Swimmer was Chris Palmer who swam the 500 and 200 meter freestyle events for the Cavaliers.

"We're all looking forward to getting an early start next year," Palmer said.

Since the team will only be losing two seniors, Jeff Deneweth and Dan Heaton, things look bright for the tankers.

Team Effort Pays Off

By Tracy Hager

"This is one of the best years the team has ever had," said tennis coach John Burke.

Consisting of 15 players, the team practiced hard--five days a week from 3:00 - 5:00 p.m. All the sweat and hard work would eventually allow the team to qualify for state competition held at the end of the season. Grosse Pointe North was the only team that defeated South Lake both times they competed. "Every year our goal is to beat Grosse Pointe North," said Coach Burke.

The tennis team also took its share of awards, receiving one trophy at the South Lake invitacionals, and many players were awarded metals for their outstanding performances.

In the all-important Bi-Countys, held on October 8, South Lake came in second place. L'Anse Creuse and Lakeview both tied for third place giving every player on the South Lake team a runner-up (second place) metal, except for first doubles junior Stacy Dansbury and freshman Lyn Stitter. This qualified the team for the Regionals held at Cranbrook, which determined whether or not the team would attend state competition.

South Lake qualified for the State Finals held in Ypsilanti at Eastern Michigan University on October 19 and 20. The team lost to some high ranked teams after starting almost six hours behind schedule due to bad weather conditions.

When asked who the most improved player was, Burke said, "Everyone has improved, and that's why the team did so well...everyone helped."

Another Good Year

By Mark Parzynski

The 1985 varsity tennis team had a good season once again. They won the State Regional Tournament which qualified them to play in the State Tournament at Eastern Michigan University. The tennis Cavs won the State Regionals seven out of eight years and the last five consecutively.

Although their season was traditional in most ways, one thing wasn't traditional. Senior Stephany Pierik was permitted to play on the boys tennis team. Pierik was unable to participate during the girl's season, so she tried out for the boy's team. Coach John Burke thought she was good enough to play, and by the new ruling in the Bi-county league, she was able to play this season.

A Positive Attitude Makes the Team

By Dan Heston

This year, a new coach came to South Lake to run the volleyball team. His two teams didn't wrack up many wins, but team members were thankful for Larry Hines and his coaching techniques.

His varsity team had a record of 2-13, but the players did not seem to mind the losing record in the light of Hines's positive attitude.

It takes time to build a winner, Hines said.

Assisting Hines this season was assistant coach Larry Worden and his wife.

Team members include Michele Moroney, Lisa Housey, Bernice Parseau, Mary Beth Vissotski, Jody Alexander, Michelle Tonczyk, and Patricia Opalewski.

Headlining the season for the 1984-85 reserve volleyball team was the arrival of a new coach. Larry Hines and assistant Larry Worden arrived on the scene this year to take over the team. The pair also coach the varsity squad.

While the junior varsity team had a slightly better record than the varsity team, at 4-11, the players tended to reflect on the highlights of the season rather than the low points.

The high points include a strong togetherness on the team as well as Coach Hines's upbeat attitude according to one team member.

"We're looking forward to next year," Hines said.

Team Shows Improvement

By Mark Parzynski

The 1985 junior varsity baseball team showed great improvement from last year. They more than doubled their victories this year with a record of 9 wins and 12 losses compared to last years record of 4 wins and 13 losses.

They started out with a bang winning four out of their first five games, and went on to defeat five more teams throughout their season.

The team showed promise for the future with a couple star players, freshman James Riashi and sophomore Matt Dimuzio, who were both brought up to the varsity team for a few games.

"We had a very talented group of ball players this year. They were a good offensive minded team with superb hitting lead by Joe Steiss, Matt Dimuzio, Jay Cronin, and Brian Lawrence commented coach Fred Schultz.

Disappointing Season for Lady Cavs

By Merrill Klucha

The 1985 softball team started off the season with a bang by winning 11-0 and 11-10 in a double header against Hamtramck. The rest of the season was a disappointment to the team and their new coach, Dennis Purgatori. They lost every game for the rest of the season.

Despite their losing record, a few individuals played well enough to be recognized in the Bi-county league. These players included: Lori Sackman, 2nd team All Bi-county; Heidi Howard, Honorable Mention All Bi-county; and Bernice Pariseau, Honorable Mention All Bi-county.

The most valuable player this year was senior Lori Sackman, and the most improved player was junior Laura Zimmerman.

This year's junior varsity softball team recruited a new coach, South Lake alumnus, Ray Buccilli. "I enjoyed having the opportunity to coach a high school athletic team. I just wish it could've ended up better," said coach Buccilli.

To begin the season, a win over Marine City started the girls off with high hopes of doing well. Losing a few players to the varsity team, however, lowered their morale and lost the next five games.

The climax of their season came in the middle after beating Lutheran East and Avondale. Losing a few more players to the varsity team again lowered their spirits to win even though they tried their hardest. Their overall record was 3 wins and 12 losses.

"The one thing we lack is the understanding that it takes a team to win, not just a few individuals," coach Buccilli added.

INTRODUCING
FRESH MEAT

Frosh Experience New Environment

By Ellen Hyman

You're now entering the freshmen zone. Every school has them, but at South Lake they don't stand unnoticed. The freshmen class of '85 has 70 more students than the senior class.

High school has been a big change for them. Everyone has had to adjust to being the little kids after a year at the top at the middle school. "South Lake High is better than the Middle School," class president Tracy VanPeeren said. "We're treated like adults and there are many more extracurricular activities to become involved with."

With high school comes more. Students are able to chew gum in class, wear sweat pants, and there is a much wider selection of foods on sale at lunch.

The school also has a far greater number of extra-curricular activities. Swimming, tennis, softball, and baseball were unheard of at the middle school. Clubs were nonexistent too.

Some freshmen led South Lake's J.V. teams to victories, others excelled at academics, still others joined clubs or got involved in the arranging of activities around the school.

"Playing basketball and being a student congress representative was as important to me as maintaining good grades," said Jenny McFarlane.

Angie Salvia participated in girls tennis and J.V. cheerleading. "To me, school is not fun without sports," she stated.

They all made new friends. The ninth graders wouldn't let any taunting upper classmen bother them. They were seen hurrying through the halls freely, talking with friends, and biting into McDonald's hamburgers at lunch as if they had gone to this school their whole life.

"I knew very few freshmen at South Lake in September, but within a few days, all the kids from South Lake Middle School accepted me as their friend."

This class showed their spirit in the homecoming parade with the float carrying Kermit the Frog and dressing up during spirit week.

Even as lowly freshmen, they have graduated to a higher existence. This is the final phase of their twelve year battle. This is where it happens: homecoming, dances, prom, the everlasting memories of high school, and one day in 1988, commencement.

Heather Howard takes a break at her locker between classes.

President

Tracy Enjoys Band, Softball, and Scuba Diving

By Merrill Kluchko

Tracy Van Peeren was interested in becoming a class officer because, as she put it, "I think the Student Congress is a good organization, and I like being a part of it."

Tracy feels she can help her class work together in an organized manner. Mr. Medlin, counselor, and Mr. Gates, principal, from South Lake Middle School influenced her to become involved in this organization and also many other extra-curricular activities around the high school.

Tracy is presently involved with the school band and plays softball during the summer. Her hobbies outside of school include snowmobiling, scuba diving, sailboating, fishing, stamp collecting and traveling.

"I think that everyone in the freshmen class, along with the class officers, can make this a good year," Tracy commented.

Treasurer

Hill Contributes to the Success of the Class

Merril Klucha

Chris Hill, freshmen class treasurer enjoys being a student at South Lake her first year because of all the new people. She likes helping out in activities and being up to date on what is going on around the school. "I feel I can express my opinion and help in any way possible to contribute to the success of my class and the school," Chris said.

In school, Chris is involved in the Student Congress, and is fond of scuba diving, tennis, swimming, and shopping in her spare time.

Representative

S.L. is a Great School

By Merril Klucha

I like all the activities that South Lake has to offer me. Being a part of the Student Congress has enabled me to arrange dances, spirit weeks, and various other activities around the school," said Jenny McFarlane, freshmen class representative.

Jenny's hobbies include babysitting around her neighborhood and bowling.

"I think more people should become interested in the school. It's a great school, and the more people who help, the better it will become," she added.

Representative

Following in Footsteps

By Merril Klucha

Melissa Souliere, freshmen class representative, enjoys the various activities that South Lake has for everyone to attend. Melissa plans to join track in the spring, babysits outside of school, and likes to bowl in her off hours.

She was influenced by her older sister, Andrea, to become involved with the Student Congress. Andrea is a senior and has been a class officer for all four of her high school years. Melissa plans on doing the same.

Warrior Fights

By Dan Heaton

A long long time ago in a faraway, distant land, there lived a young hero. This young hero had lived in the faraway land of Maxina for all of his life, had been schooled there, and had learned there from the great scholars of the land.

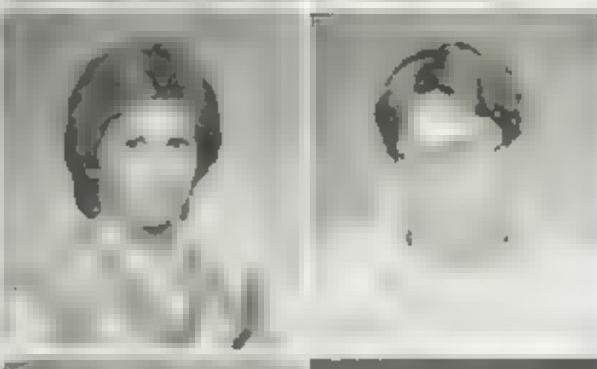

After achieving his 14th year, his parents and the elders of the school decided it was time that the young warrior strike out on his own.

The lad took an entire summer to learn the ways of the world with his friends before he went out on his quest.

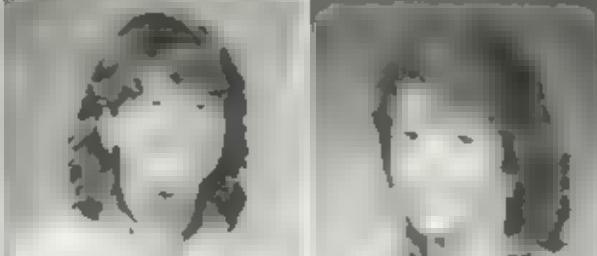

Our brave, young hero traveled to the distant land South of the Lake. When the warrior arrived, he found many older, more seasoned warriors who weren't always kind to the youngster.

He was forced to band together with is own kind, young, curious warriors that had also come to this land South of the Lake. This merry band, the freshmen as they fancied themselves, struck up a plan to conquer this find land. Their plan was to conquer South of the Lake within four years, if not by pen, then by sword. The plan also stated that they would move on to older lands after four years at the land South of the Lake.

Though many epics have been written of this great warrior, many have been lost during the years since this story took place. We do know, however, that though these freshmen struggled for the first year in their new land, they did eventually go on to conquer South of the Lake and then on to many more great adventures.

Freshmen review first year at SLHS

By Marco Lescari

Asked how they found their first year at South Lake, Corrado stated, "It's cool. The seniors liked to joke around with freshmen."

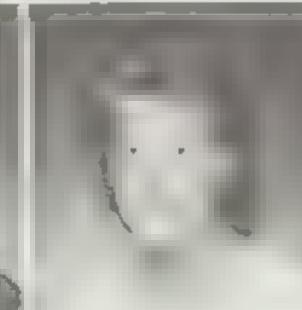

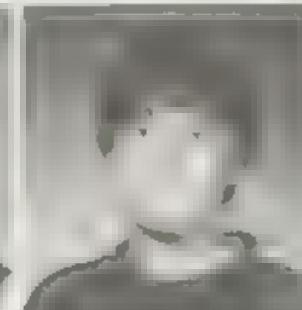

Freshman Mark Polish said, "It hasn't turned out all that bad."

Asked about the food, it was quite another story. Polish stated, "I feel I'm looking at the same piece of pizza my Dad looked at when he was a kid."

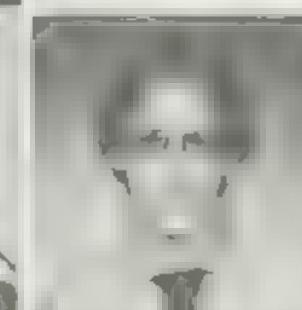

Mark Polish, Paul Thomas, Joseph Corrado and John Sargeant sample the food in the South Lake cafeteria.

One of the new additions to our community this school year was the opening of a new McDonalds located just east of Greater Mack on Nine Mile Road. The opening of this fast-food restaurant affected South Lake in many ways.

The South Lake band played on their opening day to cheer them on and to attract customers. Melissa Sabbe, a flag corp member said, 'It was an experience. I think it attracted a lot of attention' Kathy Jaques, a percussionist in the band, said 'I am glad that we got to do it. It was sort of exciting to know that it would soon be one of South Lakes new hangouts.'

Besides employing many present and former students, McDonalds soon became a new place for South Lake students to go. It became an alternative hangout to the ever-famous Burger King. To top it off, South Lake incorporated Big Macs and Quarter Pounders into their lunch program. On Tuesday and Thursday, students had an opportunity to purchase their choice for $1.30. Michelle Yovanovich thought that having McDonalds food for sale at lunch was 'an excellent idea', because it gave a variety of food and a change from the ordinary lunches.

Dr. Myers explained that the kids bought the hamburgers so the school didn't lose any money by having them brought in. Mrs. Meloche, one of the lunch ladies, thought the program was alright but she said that when they were only sold on Tuesday, the lunch count went down. Mr. Viviano agreed that it was okay in the beginning. He said, after a while it became a big fad, but then the fad faded out.

Closing Thoughts

The Stars Shine On

For the most part, South Lake experienced a happy and healthy year in 1985.

Students continued to adjust to the new rules instituted last year. The senior "E" rule, in its second year, required that seniors pass all classes during their final year in order to graduate.

Many South Lake athletic teams showed improvements, including Football, J.V. and Varsity Basketball and J.V. and Varsity Baseball.

The school saw many of its own become stars this year as numerous awards were won by such groups as the Science Olympiad team, the Business Department, student publications The Lancer and Cavalier and the school band.

Two faculty members also were spotlighted this year. Lancer advisor Lorraine Reuther was honored by Michigan Interscholastic Press Association with the Award of Excellence for Distinguished Performance as a Newspaper Advisor in Scholarship Journalism and Tennis Coach John Burke was elected Tennis Coach of the Year.

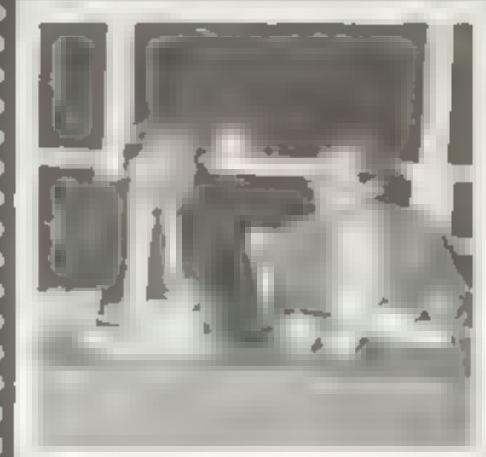

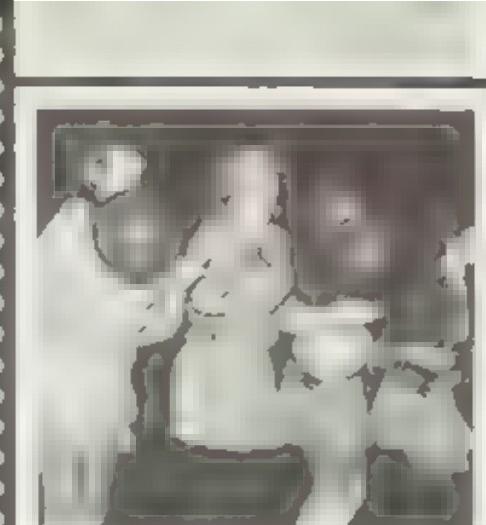

Students and staff bid farewell to three superstars as James Spilos, history teacher, Lois McMahon, social worker and Marion Zech, counseling secretary chose to retire. Their combined years at South Lake Schools represented nearly seven decades of distinguished service.

South Lake students gave as well as received in 1985. The traditional "battle of the canned goods" between the Print and Auto Shop classes raised over 3000 cans of food for the needy at Christmas time. South Lake's Pom Pon squad also was involved with the cops for kids telethon helping to get toys for children in need.

South Lake saw a relatively small graduating class in 1985 as only 187 seniors walked across the stage at Ford Auditorium on June 6. Though small in number they completed the year with the same high degree of dignity they began as the school remained undisturbed even through the final weeks.

Specific wins and losses, honors or awards aside for a moment, one gets a generally very positive feeling about the year we are leaving. In many areas there seemed to be a certain momentum which reinforces our belief that South Lake is A Rising Star.

Volume 37 of the Cavalier, 'The Rising Stars', was printed by Hunter Publishing Company, in conjunction with Graphic Creators of Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

For the second year, the book was produced to the point of camera-ready paste-ups by the staff, using an Itek Quadritek typesetting system. All text is set in Itek's UN 55 11 point, 13 lead. Headlines are UN 67, 24 point and kickers UN 68, 17 point.

All graphics, including division pages and end sheets were prepared by the staff at South Lake High School.

Photographs of the ninth, tenth, and eleventh graders were taken and processed by Powell Studios of Detroit, Michigan. Candids were taken by students and processed in the South Lake photo lab.

The Cavalier is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Great Lakes Interscholastic Press Association, and Michigan Interscholastic Press Association. The 1984 Cavalier received a First Place award from the Great Lakes Press Association.

The Best-Test rubber cement can was retired after a year of faithful service to the yearbook.
